The Becum-Brown lamp black factory at Wilsonburg just east of the mine tippie was destroyed by fire about midnight Saturday. WHO IS THE OWNER
OF THIS BICYCLE

A gentleman's bicycle with a bell on the handlebar that rings two times each in different tones lies at city headquarters awaiting its owner. The wheel was found standing in the gutter on Main street by Policeman Sullivan at one o'clock Sunday morning. The officer tried to find the owner but that person could not be found. The owner can have his bicycle by calling at city headquarters, describing the same and then coming to the Telegram office and paying for a year's subscription to the Daily Telegram in advance.

PITTSBURG EXCURSION WELL PATRONIZED

About one hundred and fifty went on the Pittsburg excursion from this city Saturday night at 11 o'clock. They arrived home at 1 o'clock Monday morning. There were no accidents, except that the excursion was delayed about three hours going into Pittsburg by the regular train ahead at Cambridgeville, which jumped the track, so one was hurt. The excursionists had a very pleasant trip and enjoyed their visit to Pittsburg.

A New Gordon in Town

Magnate Samuel W. Gordon feels many years older today than he did Saturday. His son, Harry Gordon has his face all wrinkled up into smiles. The cause of it all was the arrival of a bouncing baby boy at Harry's home, No. 229 Northcott avenue, Saturday night. The new arrival is a fine little fellow and the whole Gordon family is mighty proud of him.
