Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 14 1905

Congressman B. B. Dovenor gladdened his many admirers with a visit here Friday night. The genial Captain's hand-shake is something every one appreciates. He knows no enemy, but is the warm friend of all and to be with him is a delight none care to miss. Best of all we find Mr. Dovenor in splendid health and in most excellent condition physically and even more brainy and brilliant than ever. His visit was purely of a business nature, the object being to see Judge Dayton and Judge Lynch about some important matters, but though one of business, he did not altogether forget politics and is proud to know that the party in this county is in such fine shape. It is a pleasure to have Congressman Dovenor among us and we bid him come oftener.

In this issue the Telegram furnishes its readers a most entertaining, instructive and brilliant article on the beauties of a trip across the continent. Clarksburgers who took the trip recently have been interviewed and with the highest ability and cleverness they describe their experiences, adventures and observations. It is needless to say they have done it well and that the article will be read with deepest interest there is no shadow of doubt. It is a compendium of knowledge and none can afford not to read every word they say.

We offer two prizes today, ladies and gentlemen, one for the editor who in wasting his grey matter over the first snow fall did not use the adjective, "beautiful," and the other for the first of the high forehead entries who starts the annual search for the author of that revered and historical poem which starts something like this: "Snow, Beau—"

The Telegram gains in circulation every day and the same is growing to immense proportions. The merchants appreciate this fact as shown by the advertising columns of this paper. It is the best medium in Central West Virginia for advertising purposes.

For the benefit of those who have not learned the answer to the riddle: What kind of noise annoys an oyster? We would whisper that: "A noisy noise annoys an oyster."

Funeral of Italian

Nicardo Romano, aged 55, an Italian, died of heart disease at Keyser, W. Va., Oct. 10, at 10 p. m. The remains were brought to this city for burial. The funeral took place from the Catholic church at one o'clock this afternoon, and the interment was made at Holy Cross cemetery.

Elkbridge Dance

Prof. Raymond Crow's orchestra fairly outdid all previous efforts at the semi-weekly ball at Elkbridge hall last night. All the regulars were on hand besides some newcomers and all present had the time of their lives.

Quarantine Raised

The quarantine at the home of Rev. J. F. Plummer has been raised and the diphtheria there is no longer dangerous. As shown by his announcement, services will be held as usual tomorrow in Christ Episcopal church.

RAH! RAH! RAH!

The football team, sixteen in number, of the Ohio University, of Athens, Ohio, arrived here last night on No. 12. They repaired to the Traders hotel where they remained over night, and journeyed to Morgantown this morning, leaving here at 6 a. m. The Ohio and West Virginia pigskin warriors will come together on the Morgantown gridiron this afternoon, and a battle royal is expected. The Ohio boys are a husky looking lot of chaps, and W. Va. will have to go some to beat them.

The Tiger Athletic Club's football squad played the Elkins eleven at Elkins yesterday. The score was nothing-nothing. The Tigers they say have a mean disposition, if they can't win themselves they won't let any one else win.

The Broadus football team went to Elkins today where they play the Davis and Elkins college this afternoon. The Broadus boys are in fine condition and never let up on their training. Each member of the team is required to say "Rah, Rah, Rah," three times every ten minutes.

The High School eleven play at Sutton this afternoon. They have reserved for Sutton what they did not get to give Buckhannon, owing to their backing down on the game scheduled for Friday.

The first football team of Buckhannon, aided by the Wesleyan reserves, will play at Fairmont today.

POLICE COURT

We were a little late in getting around this morning. We had a bad dream last night. All the various invalids that we have put to work lately were surrounding our bed and were talking about us just like they do before election. Reminded us very much of the scene from Richard three times, where the ghosts of his victims parade before him. The first of the annual fall brigade arrived this morning. We have been in the business so long we can tell them at a glance. This one was the hot whiskey variety. This specimen is just about due, and it will flourish until the last of February. While all other reports have announced the coming of winter, we never regard it as a sure thing until the Hot Whiskey arrives.

Plenty of Fish

The sulphur water that is running into the creek near the railroad bridge is driving the fish out of the deep water on the riffles, where they can be caught with the bare hands. One caught today in this manner, a cat fish, caused a small sensation when carried through the streets. The fish was 3 1-2 feet long and weighed 33 pounds. The captor disposed of it for $2.50.

Dance at the Waldo

The dance at the Waldo last evening was a highly successful event and marks the beginning of the season of balls at that hostelry. The attendance was unusually good, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. There will be dancing at least once a week during the winter months. Wells' orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Emil Kaiser Der Grosse Walters, played exquisitely.
