

Over Half a Million SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

Do you think such an enormous business could be built up and continually increased, if our goods did not have exceptional value and merit? Do you think we could hold the trade of half a million people, if our reputation for doing exactly what we say wasn't firmly established? Do you think U. S. Senators, Foreign Ambassadors, Bankers, Business and Professional men in every section of this country would keep on using HAYNER WHISKEY if it wasn't all right? Do you think doctors would recommend it and hospitals use it, if it wasn't absolutely pure and unadulterated? Just think these things over carefully and then send us a trial order. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

Of Interest to Sick People.

We have sympathy for sick people and want to treat them seriously, as there is no humor in pain and affliction. It is impossible for a patient to impress on others the suffering they endure. To get well or be relieved is their one thought, a remedy that will do this has their lasting gratitude. We have thousands of letters from people who had dyspepsia, sick headache and bilious attacks, saying how thankful they were for having used Dr. Gamm's Improved Liver Pills. They cured disease by removing the cause. One for a dose. Sold by druggists, 25c per box. Made by Dr. Bosanko Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Stone & Mercer.

THE PARVENUS NEXT MONDAY

The musical comedy, "The Parvenus," written by John Saunders, with music by W. Harris Ware, will be produced next Monday night, December 4. The cast and ensemble are composed of the best available talent, and nothing has been left undone to insure a first-class performance. Wells' orchestra played the music for the first time yesterday, and every number has the unmistakable jingle of popularity. The lines are bright and witty and taking the play altogether the Marcato Club could not have selected a piece better suited to display the talents of the performers.

The cast of the musical comedy Otto Schmidt, a retired brewer... W. H. Lewis Tom Lovejoy, a young New York lawyer... Gus Smith Frederick Du Ront... John Saunders Hiram Shade, a rural sleuth... S. R. By virtue of authority vested in me, as trustee, in a deed of assignment dated the 13th day of February, 1904, and of record in the proper office of Harrison County, West Virginia, in Trust Deed Book No. V, at page 480, and made by Frank A. Martin and Isie Martin, his wife, trading and doing business as F. A. Martin & Company I will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House of said Harrison County on MONDAY, DEC. 18th, 1905, at 1 o'clock P. M., the following real estate and personal property, according to the terms and conditions hereinafter stated:

1. That certain house and lot in the town of Wallace, West Virginia, known as lot No. 9 in said town, containing about 65 sq. poles, and being the same lot or parcel of land which was conveyed to Frank A. Martin by Orval C. Robinson by deed dated the 10th day of July, 1896, and of record in the proper office of said Harrison county in Deed Book No. 99, at page 209.

2. That certain lot or parcel of land in the said town of Wallace, containing about 35 square poles, which was conveyed to Isie Martin by Orval C. Robinson by deed dated the 30th day of May, 1902, and of record in the proper office of said Harrison county in Deed Book No. 130, at page 189.

3. 1-6 of the royalty of the oil and gas rights (subject to widow's dower) under the 178 acre tract of land of which Wesley Robinson died seized, a plat of which tract of land is of record in the proper office of said Harrison county in Deed Book No. 130 at page 443. There are five (5) producing wells on this tract of land.

4. 1-6 of the 1-32 of the oil and gas rights under the 92 acre tract of land (subject to widow's dower) of which Wesley Robinson died seized, a plat of which tract of land is of record in the proper office of Harrison county in Deed Book No. 130 at page 443. There are five (5) producing wells on this tract of land.

5. 1-12 of the royalty of the oil and gas rights (subject to widow's dower) under the 100 acre tract of land (the home tract) of which Wesley Robinson died seized, a plat of which tract of land is of record in the proper office of said Harrison county in Deed Book No. 130 at page 443. There is one (1) producing oil well on this tract of land and another location has recently been made.

TERMS OF SALE—All of said real estate will be sold on the following terms, to-wit: One-third cash in hand on day of sale and the residue upon a credit of 1 and 2 years from date of sale with interest, for which the purchaser or purchasers will be required to give promissory notes with good personal security, and in addition thereto, a lien will be retained upon the land to further secure the payment of the unpaid purchase money, with option to the purchaser to pay all cash. The oil production and oil and gas rights will be sold for cash in hand on day of sale. Given under my hand this 20th day of November, 1905.

A CASE IN DUPLICATION

Henry and Howard Corwith love each other devotedly. Henry was four years older than Howard, but looked younger. He had been injured when a child, and this had retarded his development. When he was seven years old a cyclone passed over the town where they lived, leaving the swath of a gigantic scythe behind it. The brothers had been left alone in the home, Henry in charge of it and of his little brother Howard. At the time of the passage of the whirlwind Howard was asleep. Feeling the house crashing down upon them, Henry planted himself above his younger brother to protect him. When several hours later they were taken out from under the fallen timbers, Howard was found to be unharmed, but Henry had received severe injuries.

And now at twenty-six and twenty-two respectively Henry was small and thin and pale, Howard a well developed, stalwart man. Henry felt the same affection for his brother as when he had saved him from death. Howard lived under a constant reminder of the sacrifice Henry had made for him, and it was his aim to heap benefits upon the brother who had taken the burden that had permitted his own development. Howard was never so well pleased as at discovering some want of Henry's that he could supply. The pair were observed by their friends, who said that if one brother married the other would receive a blow from which he would never recover.

Fortunally they both fell in love at the same time and with sisters. Henry became engaged to Della Martin, and Howard soon after became engaged to her sister Belle. It was said that Howard proposed to the sister of his brother's fiancée to save himself from being left with no one to love. However this may be, both brothers seemed satisfied.

Henry Corwith, deprived of the physique with which to live a strenuous life, found compensation in art. After learning all his profession that could be drawn from American preceptors he resolved to go abroad to study. Belle Martin possessed musical tastes and concluded to take a course in music in Germany. It was agreed that the two should cross the ocean in the same vessel, and upon arrival Henry was to go to Paris, Belle to Berlin. They sailed in the autumn and were to return the following summer.

Howard Corwith and his fiancée parted from his brother and his fiancée at best he could. Howard and Della had a common interest and naturally turned to each other for comfort. Each found in the other a listener into whose ear to pour a story of enforced separation. Howard talked of Belle, and Della talked of Henry. The interchange of sympathy was perfect.

Ten months passed. Henry and Belle wrote that they would meet in Southampton and return on the same steamer. Howard's friends, when apprised of his brother's and his fiancée's return congratulated him warmly, but Howard, instead of looking happy over the approaching reunion, wore a troubled look. As the time for the absent ones' return drew near this evidence of some secret dread increased, and on the day of the arrival Howard seemed threatened with nervous prostration.

Della Martin went to New York to meet her sister, the two girls having arranged to pass a few days in the city. Howard Corwith sent word that he was not well enough to go on to meet his brother and his fiancée, and Henry on reaching port took the first train home. Howard drove to the station for him. At their meeting Henry noticed that Howard looked right past him, avoiding meeting his eye. Henry sighed and bent his head. The pressure of his hands was cold and the meeting entirely devoid of warmth. As they drove home together Henry said: "Fletcher came to see you, I suppose and brought you the commissions I gave him for you?"

"Yes." Henry sighed and gazed far away. "Fletcher told me all about you," said Howard. "So I supposed," said Henry for you and Belle to be together in Switzerland."

"Fletcher spoke of it?" "By this time they reached the house and, alighting, went into the library, where they had so often smoked and talked and exchanged confidences. Then Henry said: "Howard, this thing is killing you." "How did you know it?" Howard asked, quickly locking up at his brother.

"I know Fletcher would give you the facts," replied Henry without noticing the question. "I saw what was on your mind the moment I arrived." "You are right in assuming that it is killing me. To think that you who have borne the burden for me all these years, and must always bear it should have such a brother."

"What do you mean, Howard?" "I mean that I am a dog. You know it as well as I. But what could I do? We have been here together constantly ever since you and Belle went away. I thought I loved Belle. Now I know I love Della. I have robbed you of her."

Henry went to his brother and threw his arms around his neck. "If you don't know it already," he said, "I'll tell you that I've robbed you of Belle." Howard looked at his brother in a dazed fashion while he gathered his faculties, then exclaimed: "Great heavens! Suppose either of us had proved faithful!"

Straight Talks on Patent Medicines

The "Rexall" Remedies are successful and this is why. They were placed on the market three years ago. They have scored already the record of the greatest success ever known in the history of the drug business.

"Come and go" popularity may arise from any number of causes (hullabaloo advertising among them) and may or may not be founded on real worthiness. But the man, the plan, the idea, or the article that truly succeeds, does so because he or it deserves to succeed, and for no other reason.

The success of the "Rexall" Remedies is therefore the first evidence of their real merit. They sell because they cure, and they cure because each one of them is the best remedy known to medical science for the particular ailment it is made to relieve.

There are nearly 200 remedies sold under the "Rexall" name, each for one disease or one purpose. Each of these has been selected by a committee of experts from among all other remedies of its class, for manufacture and sale by The United Drug Company, a co-operative association of leading American druggists.

Wherever you see the name "Rexall" you may know that it stands for a formula scientifically correct and proved efficient in actual long extended practice. We know these formulas and are glad to answer all inquiries regarding them, giving full information as to the ingredients.

Here are three famous members of the "Rexall" family:

FOR CATARRH—MUCO-TONE

The chief ingredients of Muc-Tone are Gentian, Cascara, Sarsaparilla, and Sarsaparilla. Gentian is recognized in medicine as one of the greatest tonics ever discovered. It is the foundation on which Muc-Tone is built. Gentian combines in high degree the tonic powers of all the known "biters," with some of the disadvantages applying to them.

Cubeb has long been recognized as a specific in the treatment of all catarrhal conditions. Its action is prompt and its benefit almost invariable. In whatever part of the body the inflamed or diseased condition of the mucous membrane exists, the use of Cubeb has been recommended by the best physicians for many generations.

Cascara Sagra is especially introduced for its necessary laxative properties. The combination of these with Gentian and Sarsaparilla makes Muc-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point, gradually restores and rebuilds the diseased tissues to their former health and strength, promotes digestion and creates a normal appetite. Bottle, 50c.

REXALL DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is largely due to the new and successful method of manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth Subnitrate and Pepsin are recognized by the entire medical profession as specifics for acute indigestion or chronic dyspepsia. The pepsin used is manufactured under a new process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin not only supplies to the digestive machinery one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, but it seems to exert a tonic influence upon all the glands which supply all the other elements.

The carminatives add properties which promptly relieve the pains caused by undigested food. The combination of these whole makes a remedy absolutely invaluable to any man or woman suffering from Dyspepsia—and not only a remedy but a cure which works gradually rebuilding and stimulating the glands which perform the digestive functions. Package, 25c.

AMERICANITIS ELIXIR

The Rexall Americanitis Elixir is a tonic nerve food composed chiefly of free Phosphorus, Glycophosphates, Iron Pyrophosphate and Calisaya. The wonderful results of this remedy are due to the fact that it supplies Phosphorus to the nerve cells in a condition in which it can be immediately and easily taken up by them. It is the only known preparation in which free Phosphorus—that is, Phosphorus which remains indefinitely unoxidized—is used.

The Glycophosphates, actual nerve-tissue builders, are one of the most recent and valuable additions to the field of this branch of medicine and unquestionably a more efficient remedy than the well-known Hypophosphites.

The Iron Pyrophosphate is the most easily assimilated form of iron which gives tone and color, and the combined alkaloids of Calisaya Bark have a tonic effect on almost all the functions of the body.

In compounding these various elements, the very highest degree of pharmaceutical skill has been employed. 75c. and $1.50 a bottle.

This "Rexall" Guarantee Appears on each package: "This preparation is guaranteed to give satisfaction. If it does not, come back and get your money. It belongs to you and we want you to have it."
