A GREAT TROUPE OF REAL ACTORS

There will be seen tonight upon the stage at the Grand opera house, some of the best actors that have ever graced the boards. The thespians have been brought to this city as an especial attraction and will appear in conjunction with the company now playing. After the regular performance these imported stars will twinkle. It is said to be the funniest act ever seen in the city, as every one of the troupe is a natural comedian, and will cause grants of amusement and squeals of delight.

This act is known as a "Pig Social" and refers to the actors and not the audience. These porkers will be turned loose upon the stage and the one capturing the comedian will have a real live actor of their own to keep for their very own. These are all guaranteed to be real school of acting matinee idol leading man, pigs. Sausage and buckwheat cakes are at present a staple article of diet.

LAWYER LAW HAPPY

Attorney and Mrs. James Edward Law are among the happiest and proudest couple in the city because of the arrival at 9 o'clock Friday morning of a sweet baby girl to bless their home. Mr. Law manages to look after his many legal duties, but the close observer can easily see he is somewhat divided in his attention. However, he is expected to get back to the cold, hard proposition of the law in a few days and add lustre to an already brilliant career.
