GRIDIRON SEASON

The fast approaching football season is likely to be one of the most interesting the general public has yet experienced. Never in the history of the game have such radical, more necessary or better changes been made.

The war against football is certainly on the slump just now. All sensible colleges and amateurs have again decided to go on with the game, and to keep it cleaner and better than ever before.

Everything has been done that can be done by rules to clean up the present game. By this it is not meant that there will never be any more mean or brutal playing, that would be absurd, for as long as football remains a game of personal contact and shock action, there is bound to be individual lapses in temper and fairness, but it is maintained that under the new rules the objectionable features should be reduced to a great extent.

The first thing to do in starting a football season is to get enough money from the good people of the town for uniforms. It is up to every citizen to give something; every one loosen up and help. "Every little helps." A very important meeting is to be held tonight at Holden's big dye works, 120 Fourth street, for the purpose of electing a captain and manager.

And the knickers on the knock. A wailing o'er such brutal sport; And the work it gives the Doc; Just watch and wait a few days more. And let the scuffers scoff, For then we'll hear the Tigers yell, As old "Jock" is kicking off.

LINE TO MORGANTOWN

Fairmont and Morgantown are to be connected by a trolley line, a charter for this enterprise having been issued by the secretary of state. The project has been talked of for several years, during which time much of the preliminary work, such as securing rights of way, has been done.

The company has a capital stock of $100,000 and all the incorporators are Morgantown men. New companies for Huntington and Clarksburg were also chartered the list being as follows:

The Morgantown & Southern Railway to build a line commencing at Morgantown and thence by the most practical route to Fairmont. Capital $50,000. Incorporators, J. W. Miles, Ed. Herd, I. G. Lazzelle, C. W. Hinton, D. B. Purinton and M. W. Reed, all of Morgantown.

The Warren Wood & Company, of Huntington; to buy, rent, lease and sell all kinds of musical instruments and conduct a general music store. Capital $25,000, of which $500 has been subscribed and $50 paid. Incorporators, Geo. I. Neal, Harrie F. Wood and U. S. G. Anderson, all of Huntington.

The Post Product Company, of Clarksburg, to deal in wholesale products and green goods. Capital $10,000, all of which has been subscribed and $5,000 paid. Incorporators, E. Thad Post, Howard Post, Dudley Davis, Hiram J. Lynch and Lettie C. Post, all of Clarksburg.

WRECK

A series of accidents caused considerable trouble on the M. & O. Division of the B. & O. Sunday and for a while traffic was blocked. Soon after 8 o'clock in the morning a rear end collision of freights caused the Fairmont and Grafton wreck trains to be called out. Engine 1244 was lying at Viropa with a train when engine 1686 with another train ran into the rear end, damaging the caboose and two freight cars to the extent of nearly $1,000. No one was injured. The crew of 1666 claim that no flag was back.

After this when 1666 attempted to take a siding the rails spread and a couple of cars got off the track. The noon passenger train from Clarksburg was a couple of hours late on account of the wreck.

LINE TO MORGANTOWN

The trial of John Condry, fire chief, upon an appeal from the mayor's court, was begun Monday morning, with Prosecuting Attorney Will E. Morris and Mayor Harvey W. Harmer representing the city and state, and Hons. John Bassel and C. B. Sperry the defendant.

Condry had been convicted before the mayor of assembling with the Medsker girls at their home on Locust street for an improper purpose and fined $20 and sentenced by the mayor to thirty days in jail. From this Condry appealed.

The hearing of the evidence consumed the day and the arguments will not be completed until some time tomorrow. There was but few sensational features about the trial, probably the greatest being, when Lulu Medsker on cross examination refused to answer questions put by Mr. Harmer. The tilt was a lively one and Mayor Harmer in a helpless manner appealed to Judge Lynch for help, but the judge informed him that he himself was just as helpless as all he could do would be to send her back to jail, where she had just come from. As she left the witness stand she told Mr. Harmer she was going back to where he ought to be, which remark provoked a considerable ripple of amusement, which called forth vigorous rapping by the sheriff for order.

The defense's case is that Lulu Medsker wrote a note to Condry the evening of the raid, informing him that she was boxing her household goods for storage and requesting the loan of money to pay the storage. In response to this note he finally went to her home, but indulged in no improper act.

At the opening of the trial the defense claimed the mayor exceeded his authority, when he attempted to punish Condry. They asserted that the ordinance of the city in regard to offenses of this kind is not constitutional and that the city by its charter has no power or authority for making and enforcing such an ordinance. Judge Lynch, however, overruled their contention and ordered the trial to proceed.

The evidence was concluded and the jury found him guilty shortly afterward. Attorney J. E. Law was elected special judge to hear several cases Judge Lynch is interested in.

FAIR BOARD HELD MEETING

The directors of the old fair held a meeting Saturday evening in the banking rooms of the Empire building. They audited bills and allowed claims. There were no appeals from the decision of the judges. The result of the election was declared, with S. C. Denham, T. T. Wallis, F. B. Haymaker, J. F. Allen, E. B. Deison and B. B. Stout re-elected directors for two years. A motion carried not to lease or rent the grounds for any purpose on account of the bad condition they are left in after using. The president of the board was authorized to tear down and remove all old privilege stands he may regard as objectionable.
