COUNTY SHERIFF

It will no doubt be of interest to many theatre goers of this city to learn that "The County Sheriff," a new drama dealing with life in Arizona, will be seen at the Grand opera house Saturday 7, matinee and night. "The County Sheriff" is a drama, strong, intense, undeniable. There is not a dull moment from beginning to end. The characters are not commonplace, and the incidents are legitimately sensational. The characters are well drawn, notably Tuesday and Happy Hazzard, the sheriff. A strong cast has been selected and the management promises a magnificent production. This is the latest play from the popular author and is as bright, interesting, witty, quick, dramatic and delightful as anything she has heretofore written. The plot is original, holding one's interest to the very last. There are many amusing situations and intensely interesting scenes. A very elaborate production is utilized and everything essential to make this attraction one of the best is carried.
