REPUBLICAN RALLY

At Court House at 8 O'clock Tonight,
Ex-Gov. Yates, of Illinois, Sen. N. B.
Scott, Charles E. Carrigan to Speak.

SENATOR SCOTT HERE FOR THE BIG RALLY

Ex-Governor Richard Yates of Illinois Will Arrive in the City at 5:40

CARRIGAN IS COMING.

These Gentlemen and Others Will Make Speeches in Court House Tonight

At 8 o'clock tonight in the court house here the Republican campaign will be opened in this county with a big rally. The main speaker will be ex-Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois. Senator Nathan B. Scott arrived from Wheeling over the Shore Line at noon and is staying at the Waldo. He will make a brief address at the meeting tonight. The Hon. Charles E. Carrigan, nominee for Congress in this district, will arrive later in the day from his home at Mountsville and make a speech, too, at the rally. There will also be other speakers.

Governor Yates will arrive on the 8:40 train this evening from St. Louis and be met at the station by a reception committee. He is an eloquent speaker and will ably discuss the issues of the campaign.

As previously announced Maj. Alexander C. Moore will preside and Iverson's band will furnish music. A cordial invitation has been extended to ladies to be present.

"Republican success in West Virginia at the election next month is an assured thing," said Senator Scott to a representative of the Telegram this afternoon at the Waldo. "I have just made a trip through the southern part of West Virginia and I have also recently visited several places in the northern section, coming in close personal touch with a great many voters. As a result my confidence in an old time Republican majority in all the five congressional districts has been considerably strengthened."

"Most of the reports about differences among members of the Republican ranks have been grossly exaggerated. This is due largely, I believe, to the activity of the Democrats, who are exerting every effort to manufacture all the political 'thunder' they can. Everywhere I have found Republicans uniting harmoniously for the attack against the common enemy in November. All the Republicans and many others are pleased with Republican management and with Republican prosperity. Where differences have arisen among Republicans they have not been serious and they have acted just like the man and his wife who had a little family quarrel and then kissed and made up. The prospects for a general victory in this state are indeed bright and encouraging."

ROBES DONNED

By Ex-Governor Hughes, of New York as a Supreme Court Justice.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—Ceremonies marking the advent of a new judge and the demise of a famous jurist who had gone before him constituted today's solemn business of the supreme court of the United States. Charles E. Hughes, of New York donned the robes of office as an associate justice with all the formalities and then with a few words of sorrow expressed by the senior associate justice Harlan, the court adjourned until tomorrow out of respect to the memory of the late Chief Justice Fuller.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH IS REVIEWED

By Judge Campbell in an Able Address in Local Church.

The burning of a note for $10,000 marked the close of the rally day services at the Christian church Sunday night. The services, which were held Sunday morning, afternoon and evening, were in celebration of the raising of this amount of the church's indebtedness; half of which was contributed by John D. Reynolds, on condition that the other half be collected from private subscriptions, which condition has been fulfilled through the efforts of the pastor, the Rev. W. M. Long, and was publicly announced at the evening service.

The services began with the Sunday school program at 10 o'clock, and continued until noon. The attendance was so large that the meeting was held in the main auditorium instead of the Sunday school room. At this meeting an address was made by O. G. White on the new course graded system that has been adopted for use by the Sunday school classes. At 1 o'clock the services of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions was held. Several papers on the work of the board of missions were read, among them being one by Mrs. S. C. Watkins, on the work that the board is doing among the mountaineers. The papers were very interesting and showed careful preparation. Special music was rendered by a ladies' quartette, composed of Mrs. Rufus Ash, Mrs. Maurice Jackson, Miss Hall and Miss Laura Thompson.

At the evening service an address was delivered by Judge John A. Campbell, in which he discussed the founding of the Christian church by Alexander Campbell. He complimented the local church on the work it has done and is doing, and emphasized the importance of Christian union.

Trackless Trolley Conveys Passengers Up a Mountain

Here is America's first trackless trolley line, which has just been completed near Los Angeles, Cal., to convey passengers from the terminal of an interurban line up the side of a mountain a mile and a half to a settlement known as Bungalowland. The cars run on a fifteen minute schedule and carry sixteen persons at a time. The system resembles that of an ordinary trolley line but for the fact that there are two overhead wires instead of one. One of the wires carries the positive current, which it takes from the wires of the Interurban Railway company, and the other wire carries the negative current, which it obtains from the rails of the same company. The trip up the mountain is made in about eight minutes, and after the cars are turned at the end of the lines they are allowed to return by gravity. It was because of the numerous curves and the steep grade that it was found impracticable to construct the regulation kind of railway to Bungalowland, and as several hundred persons have their homes at the terminal up the canyon the trackless trolley was evolved from descriptions of a similar line in operation in Germany.

FIFTY MINERS ARE STILL IN THE MINE

As the Rescuers Have Not Been Able to Reach Them Yet.

STARKVILLE, Colo., Oct. 10—When dawn broke today it was found that mine officials, state inspectors, helmet men and other expert mining men were faithfully working to reach half a hundred or more miners entombed in the Starkville mine by an explosion Saturday night. A portable fan near the entrance to the east slope or short cut of the mine was not working, as deadly after-damp had scattered. If the men are not dead they are probably huddled in a small space, which they selected and quickly shut off to protect them from black damp.
