Of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law as Combine in Restraint of Trade.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The federal government today filed a bill in the United States circuit court for this district, asking for the dissolution of the American Sugar Refining Company, as an alleged combination in restraint of trade in violation of the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Three Are Killed Outright and Express Messenger Will Likely Die.

Three trainmen were killed and several other persons injured in a wreck of Baltimore & Ohio railroad passenger train No. 7, a helping engine and a freight train just before Sunday midnight at Altmont, fifty-six miles east of Grafton.

The Dead.
LUKE J. FLANEGAN, of Grafton, engineer of the passenger train; aged 50 and single.

H. H. DeMOTT, of Grafton, fireman of the passenger engine.

JOSEPH WEAVER, of Piedmont, fireman of the helping engine.

The Injured.
WILLIAM PEARSON, of Baltimore, Md., express messenger of the passenger train, badly hurt.

HARRY BISER, of Cumberland, Md., baggage master of the passenger train; seriously injured.

ELECTRICIAN of passenger train, name unknown, severely injured.

The passengers on train No. 7 all escaped with slight bruises.

Patrick Small, engineer of the helping engine, escaped unhurt. He lives at Piedmont.

Passenger train No. 7, drawn by engine No. 2084, was running westward on its regular trip and had just been helped up the seventeen mile grade by the helping engine, No. 1790, from Piedmont. At the top of Altmont Hill, the highest point on the eastern slope of the Alleghenies, the helping engine was uncoupled and ran ahead of the passenger train to take a siding and let it pass. The helping engine did not take the siding in time and the passenger train ran into it.

The engine, tender, baggage car and smoking cars of the passenger train were overturned and a minute or two afterward a freight train plowed into the wreck, causing the death of the three trainmen, who had been seriously hurt in the first wreck, and adding to the injuries of the other persons who were hurt.

Passenger train No. 7 is due at Grafton at 1:40 a. m. and the wreck occurred about 11:30 o'clock not far from Altmont station.

WIDE RANGE FOR HARBORS AND RIVERS

In the Annual Recommendation for Appropriations for Improvements.

OVER THIRTY MILLIONS

Of Dollars Asked with Many Pet Projects Not Included.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Appropriations needed for river and harbor work for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, aggregate $30,995,698, according to estimates made public today by Secretary of War Dickinson in the form of a report made to him by Brigadier General W. H. Bixby, Chief of Engineers of the United States army. These figures will be sent to Congress by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and legislation in accordance therewith will be recommended by President Taft in his annual message. The estimates are divided as follows:

Under continuing contracts $ 7,268,077
Rivers and harbors (general, including Mississippi River Commission, and examinations, surveys and contingencies) .. 22,627,361
Under California Debris Commission (expenses) .. 15,000
Prevention of deposits in New York harbor .. 85,260

Many pet projects calling for the expenditure of large sums have been omitted from the estimates this year. Among these are the 14-foot channel from Chicago to the Illinois river, deep channel for the Missouri river from St. Louis to Kansas City and from Kansas City north, as well as many others which have had as their champions members of both houses of Congress who insist strenuously that these projects be not forgotten.

The elimination of many of the improvements which have formed parts of river and harbor bills in the past is in accordance with the insistence of President Taft that "pork barrel" measures shall be strangled. Instructions were given to the engineer officers of the army to prepare estimates only for such projects as are absolutely needed or which give certain promise to reduce the cost of transportation by opening up new water routes and enlarging some of those already existing.

The general estimate aggregating more than $23,000,000 are applied to 214 works. Of this amount about 10 per cent is for the restoration or maintenance of completed projects at 136 localities, so as to secure the continuance of benefits resulting from past expenditures. Practically seventy per cent is for the prosecution of work on the Ohio, Mississippi, Detroit, Hudson, Delaware and Columbia rivers and at eleven important harbors. The remaining twenty per cent is for the prosecution and completion of eighty-two other works.

General Bixby says in his report that liberal appropriations are considered proper and desirable for snaggings and other work necessary to make natural channels available wherever water-borne commerce exists or is reasonably prospective. Improvements adopted by Congress, and not provided for in the estimates, have been omitted, either on account of insufficiency of funds now available, on account of lack of urgency or of relative importance, or on account of defective projects which were adopted many years ago and are in need of re-examination with a view to revision or abandonment.

Included in the total of $22,627,361, which the chief engineer believes to be necessary for expenditures during the year ending June 30, 1912, is a lump sum of $400,000 for examinations, survey and contingencies for which there may be no special appropriation. The estimates follow:

Maine—Breakwater from Mt. Desert to Porcupine Island, $30,000; Pepperells Cove, $35,000; Saco river, Me., $25,000.
Vermont—Harbor at Burlington, Vt., $2,500.
Massachusetts—Harbors at Gloucester, $25,000; Nantucket, $20,000; New Bedford and Fairhaven, $50,000; and Harbor of Refuge at Sandy Bay, Cape Ann, $100,000; Mystic and Malden rivers, Mass., $10,000; Taunton river, Mass., $5,000.
Rhode Island—Harbor at Block Island, $12,500; Harbor of Refuge at Point Judith, $50,000; Pawtucket river, R. I., $5,000.
Connecticut—Improving harbors at Five Mile river, Stamford, Southport, Greenwich, and Westport, and Saugatuck river, $5,500; breakwater at New Haven, $35,000; harbor of refuge, Duck Island harbor, $100,000.
New York—Improving Black Rock

ALASKA IN GREAT NEED OF THE COAL

That is Withheld as Industrial Capital Will Not Be Invested.

PEOPLE NEED COAL

To for Their Physical Comfort Declares the Governor of Territory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Expressing it as his opinion that the want of cheap fuel and the delay in opening the Alaska coal fields are the strongest adverse factors in the present problem of territorial progress, Governor Walter F. Clark, of Alaska, in his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior declares that "the ill-advised policy of forbidding all development of the large coal resources of the territory or of placing such restrictions upon development as to make the embarkation of private capital impossible, is to be deprecated, while the policy of conservation by proper use is to be encouraged."

"This coal," he says, "is needed for the industries of the territory and for the physical comfort of the people, and on no account should it be withheld from those uses."

The present impossibility of mining coal, either under title or lease, he explains, is in a measure responsible for the suspension of one of the principal railroads. This has caused a general feeling of discouragement over the business situation in those parts of Alaska where development and settlement ought to be going on most rapidly.

Governor Clark says it appeared in public discussions of the subject that the opposition to opening the Alaska coal fields "springs chiefly from two sources—those persons who fear a monopoly, and those who would have this coal held as a reserve supply for the future." He further says that while the present coal land law is not a good one, "it certainly lends no hope to monopolists, but rather is calculated to discourage the embarkation of capital."

In declaring his hope for the adoption of the leasing system to develop these lands, Governor Clark says: "It will be found quite feasible, according to the best authorities, to devise suitable terms for leasing, protecting both the public and the operator, and ensuring intelligent conservation."

The governor says that the view of the extremists that all the Alaska coal should be kept as a reserve supply has nothing to commend it. A
