An Evening Echo. Dangers, by being despised, grow greatly so they do by absurd provision against them.—BURKE.

Everyone says Frank R. Moore is a fine mayor. It must be so.

Read in another column the Exponent's own high tribute to Moore.

That political paralysis that afflicted the Sommers convention is still clinging like a leech.

The Sommers mouthpiece got its dates mixed again. It is the head of that ticket that wants to extend the voting lines. He once laid claim to the old "snake" farm.

The Sommers candidate for chief of police is very much busier on Pike street these days than he will be after the election as he will then have all the time he needs for a rest.

The Exponent says on one page that Sommers would deal the cards squarely. Dunfee intimates strongly that he does not want Sommers to deal them. How can such a divided house stand?

As Dunfee says, the "scrap" with Japan must have been approaching when the Sommers convention was held as there was so little interest in that convention that there came near being no one there.

There is many a good citizen this year telling how he got fooled by the bunch of machine Democrats who appeared last year to want to put the town dry. That bunch will not fool them this year.

Dunfee does not believe in the square deal or those who are passing out the cards. The fellows with the cards on the other hand do not believe in Dunfee. Indeed, it is a case of unbelief on both sides. Let the merry war go on.

It will not be necessary for the Sommers ticket to keep its ears to the ground to hear the big dull thud that will tell it on election day. The noise will be loud enough for it to hear all the next year. Its ears will be ringing with it.

Large and enthusiastic conventions opened up the Moore ticket's campaign and the enthusiasm is growing every day. Small and indifferent conventions opened the launching of the Sommers ticket and there has not been a ripple since.

Mr. Dunfee conveys the idea that if he tells the public what his principles are, the people of Clarksburg will not tempt him with graft. The people would be better pleased to hear him express confidence in their integrity instead of intimating that he must cow them in order to keep them from tempting him.

What good citizen is there who says Frank R. Moore is not a good mayor? It is to be hoped the Exponent will not become inflated in self-esteem when the Telegram reminds it that it says Mr. Moore is the best mayor Clarksburg ever had, and it certainly speaks the truth in this instance.

The Exponent has declared against Dunfee and there is to be war to the teeth. Dunfee is against the "square deal" and the Exponent says "what every one wants is a square deal." No one blames the Exponent for being for "Barlow" Cole as every one else is for him and the Exponent thought it might as well be on the popular side.

Some of the Sommers ticket are complaining about the indifference shown their ticket. They say they have come to the conclusion that the attention of the Clarksburg voters is centered largely on the Japanese-American squabble. Did they ever stop long enough to think the matter over sufficiently to conclude that where there is nothing to interest people will not be interested?

While the Exponent is laboring so hard to make Pike street a feature of the present campaign, no one hears it saying anything about how attentive some of the Sommers candidates are to that street. They can be seen in that street as regular as clock work. They are doing their best to court that street. They are aiming to be wedded to it on election day.

Wishes Them Dead. In its very interesting and sharp pointed comment as follows, if it had only stated that the "Chilton" newspaper to which it refers wishes that the distinguished gentlemen were dead politically and judicially, the "Charleston Mail" editorial on the subject would have been complete.

"Bryan is Still a Live Leader; Hundreds Attend Lincoln Banquet and Praise Commoner." Thus reads a headline in our morning contemporary.

"Phoenix, Ariz., Mar. 20—Col. Roosevelt addressed one of the largest throngs ever assembled in the Southwest on the plaza here today," etc. Thus reads an Associated Press dispatch.

"If Mr. Bryan is a 'Live Leader,' when 'Hundreds' 'Attend,' what kind of a leader is Roosevelt when he 'Addresses one of the largest crowds that ever assembled in the Southwest?' Our esteemed contemporary has led one under the impression lately that it thought Mr. Bryan a "dead one." It certainly has impressed one as hypnotizing itself into the belief that Teddy was also among the "has-beens." There is evidence that it is waking up. Whatever may be our individual opinion of either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Roosevelt, we will be making a very grievous error if we complacently set ourselves in the belief that they are "dead ones." They are both very live ones, and there does not require very great gift to recognize this fact.

No Holes Found. In addition to the fine testimonials the Exponent has given to the splendid city administration under the mayoralty of Frank R. Moore, the head of the Sommers ticket, Mr. Sommers himself, at the Sommers convention emphasized the fact that Mr. Moore has proved himself what the Exponent and the public general, especially the good citizenship of Clarksburg says he is—the best mayor Clarksburg has ever had.

Since his nomination Mr. Sommers paid a tribute to the city council and other departments of the city government which has not yet become very public and the Telegram takes pleasure in giving the same wide publicity.

Mr. Sommers has devoted considerable time to an inspection of the books and accounts of the city, the various proceedings of the council and other city matters, making a scrutiny as careful as the man would who is eager to find something wrong or crooked, with the result that he declared that he had "found no hole." By that he meant that he had discovered nothing incorrect, nothing to implicate the city in wrong-doing in the handling of its finances and in doing its work. In other words he found no graft and he found that no one got money except those entitled to it.

As the Sommers backing shows enough confidence in him to place Mr. Sommers at the head of the Sommers ticket, his word should be accepted by the mouthpiece of the ticket and every time it intimates that there may be something wrong, it impaches the word of the head of the ticket, who says that he "found no hole" and is satisfied the money has been legitimately and lawfully expended.

The more active the Sommers aggression becomes the more strongly the fact that the city government is clean and honestly conducted is impressed. Every step they take to find something wrong results in reminding the public that the city administration is right.

MOORE, THE BEST MAYOR.

Note what the Exponent says about Mayor Moore as follows:

"Mayor Moore is very punctual, and he attends to all affairs in his court most expeditiously. Even the residents of the city who are not of the same political convictions cannot help admiring the methods of the mayor, and it is unanimously conceded that he is the best mayor Clarksburg ever had."

In addition the Exponent says Mayor Moore "is a high minded gentleman, and as a matter of fact wants all the ordinances of the city enforced. He is just to the most minute detail, and never suffers himself to be influenced by his friends or personal ideas."

And further praise of Mayor Moore is made by the Exponent as follows:

"One attending the mayor's court cannot help but admire the dignity and the manly way in which he dispenses with the city's perplexing problems."

Mayor Moore is certainly described as an ideal mayor by the Exponent and what stronger endorsement of a public official, if any, could be given than that by the Exponent in this instance?

On Rock Camp run, Sardis district, this county, Hoefmier & Deegan are drilling in the top of the Gordon at No. 3 on the M. A. Dennison farm, but when last heard from had not reached the pay. On the same stream, Dufore & Co., will be due with the next completion, No. 2 on a part of the same farm.

COLDS ARE BROKEN

How to Cure a Bad Cold and End Grippe in a Few Hours.

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end grippe so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

The most miserable neuralgia pain, the dache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism, pain and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

BUTTON FACTORY

Is to Be Erected and Operated at Paden City in Wetzel County.

NEW MARTINSVILLE, Mar. 23—Eastern capitalists have just completed negotiations for a plot of ground in Paden City for the purpose of erecting buildings in which to manufacture buttons of all descriptions. One of the promoters said:

"It is our intention to erect a modern, up-to-date factory in every detail. We are well pleased with our location and have been wanting to come to West Virginia for years."

About one hundred people will be employed the year around.

CLOTHING INSURANCE FOR WOMEN.

Sounds rather sensational, but let us explain. Washable clothing is composed of linen, cotton and wool, and these fabrics are torn to pieces by the alkalis and caustics, which are the main component part of most of the yellow rosin soaps on the market. If you use a true, honest soap which possesses the right cleansing and anti-septic properties, you insure the life of the fabrics.

Hewitt's Easy Task Soap, made from pure tallow, cocoanut oil and borax, contains no destructive nor unpleasant factor. It is a pure, white soap, most effective in its cleansing qualities. Five cents a cake.
