March Goes Out Like a Lamb

Weather Conditions
Fair

The First Spring Robbin
Brings a wonderful lot of sentiment—but

The First Spring Underwear

brings real comfort—and that is what counts.

New lisle and cotton garments are here, many with hand-crochet tops—and several styles at 10c. This year the qualities seem even better than ever—the lisle finer and more dainty, the cottons softer.

Some new ideas, too—and some old ideas that are very welcome. Vests with the deep-cut armholes so that the shoulder straps will stay on the shoulder; and bodice-top garments for the woman who objects to straps; also union suits with improvements making more for comfort.

Vests 10c, 15c, 25c, 50c upwards.
Union Suits 25c, 50c, $1.00 upwards.

Faster and Faster come the new Easter dresses tumbling out of their boxes Chiffon taffeta silks, crepe, meteor, serges and linens.

And for afternoon and evening wear, smart gowns shown in lingerie, voile, crepe de voile, crepe de cheue, chiffon. Many beautiful embroidered effects. Absolutely exclusive, one of a kind.

Saturday Night 60c each

White Lawn Waists, embroidered; open back, short sleeves and open front, long sleeves. Sizes 34 to 44. Brand new, fresh; sixty cents tonight.

Much Beautifully is to be seen now; of rare excellence and beauty.

There is such a great deal of dull and inferior glass going under the name of cut

Welts, Whips and Bedford Cords—White

Plain and embroidered whipcord, 30 inches wide, at 85c a yard.

Imported whipcords, embroidered in dots and neat patterns for Skirts, Suits and Tailored Blouses. Medium weight and soft finish.

Welts, Whips and Bedford Cords, plain 20c to 50c a yd.

Spring Skirt Models Exhibit New Features

For example, there is the broad front effect, practically a wide front gore. This is found in one model of navy blue and black diagonal serge, at $5.

Half dozen brand new styles at $10 each show various new touches. The apron effects, by the slot seam in back with back fastening, by small foot pleats trimmed with buttons, and by the renewed fashion for whipcords.

One whipcord skirt of black or navy, tan and grey, has open front pleat, $8.50. Six styles, all new, $6.75.

What fits Susie will not fit her Mother

The woman with a perfect figure doesn't want to run any risk of having nature's perfect work disguised by ill-fitting imperfectly tailored garments.

For that reason she endeavors to clothe herself in the best garments possible.

But all women are not perfect figures.

No—
There is the Tall and Short, Stout and Thin, Flat Chest, and Drooping Shoulders.

Susie is one shape, mother another—both same chest measure.

Used to be all one "regular" size, 36 etc. Different today.

There's the —Junior Sizes.
—Misses' Sizes
—Regular Sizes.
—Half Sizes.
—Odd Sizes.

The "Half Sizes" and "Odd Sizes" originated with our "System tailoring" and is held up by our women as the crowning point in perfect clothes fitting.

April Meeting.

The April meeting of the Tuesday Literary Club will be held at Mrs. John J. Davis's Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock. The following papers will be read.

Religion and Philanthropy.
Roll call—Eminent Divines and Philanthropists.

Development in Religious Ideas—Mrs. John J. Davis.

America's Share in World-wide Reform—Miss Eleanor Harrison.

Our American Problems and How we are Meeting Them—Miss Emma Freeman.

Entertains Sewing Circle.

Mrs. D. S. Cain, of Adamston, very pleasantly entertained the Ladies' Sewing Circle of that place Friday night. Fancy needle work was the diversion of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served at an appropriate hour. Each guest was presented a beautiful flower, and a very pleasant evening was spent by those present.

Waldo Hotel Program.

During the dinner hour at the Waldo hotel Sunday evening the following musical program, with Emile Raspillare director, will be executed on the balcony, Messrs. Gus Smith as vocalist and Frank Mulleck with clarinet featuring the same:

Selection from "Pagliacci," op. 240. Two step—"When I Woke up This Morning."

Vocal—"In the Shadows"—Mr. Gus Smith.

Selection—"The Enchantress." Angels Serenade—Clarinet solo, Mr. Mulleck.

The Butterflies—(Moreau de Solon).

Vocal—"The Palms"—Mr. Smith.

The Scout's Patrol.

Selection—Gems of favorite operas, arranged by Picolo Delmonico.

For Miss Dawson.

Complimentary to Miss Pansy Dawson who is home for her Easter vacation, Miss Marie Ferrell entertained a few of her friends very informally but pleasant last evening in her home on Locust street. Games and music were the diversion of the evening and at 10 o'clock refreshments were served.

Miss McLaren Again.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," will be presented by Miss Gay Zenola McLaren Tuesday evening, April 16 in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, South. A large attendance is expected as Miss McLaren won many laurels on her recent visit here by her ability of interpretation.

State Commander There.

State Commander C. C. Showalter, of Parkersburg, gave a very inspiring and interesting talk at the meeting of Clarksville Tent No. 19, K. O. T. M. last evening. A class of candidates was initiated and ten new names were presented for membership.

Mission Class Meets.

"India" was the topic discussed at the meeting of the Mission Study Class last evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church with Dr. King-pastor of the church, in charge. Quite a number of the members were present.

East End Legion.

The members of the Loyal Temperance Legion of the East End held a very encouraging and well attended meeting Friday afternoon in St. Mark's Lutheran church. Mrs. C. H. Harding was in charge of the session.

Apron Sale.

A very successful sale of aprons, home made candy, fancy articles and baked goods was held today in the McCarty store room by the women of St. Mark's Lutheran church.

Regular Dance.

A regular weekly dance will be given in Hoffman Hall this evening and a fine program of dance music will be played by the Cadenza orchestra.

MUSIC COURSE VERY POPULAR

This Department of West Virginia University is Coming More To the Front

ORCHESTRA IS AN OPPORTUNITY

Study in These Lines Not Necessarily for Purpose of Following Profession—Many Gain Proficiency for Pleasure.

One of the schools of the West Virginia University that is coming in for more and more recognition is the School of Music. This is due, not only to the effective work of the faculty of this school, but to the changing attitude of people generally toward music itself. In the past a simple tune set to some poem, the tune being repeated for each verse, was a song, and any instrumental performance that induced the auditor to wag his head or tap his foot on the floor was sufficient to satisfy music lovers.

More than ever before Americans are going in for music as a profession, and music is now taking a considerable place in American life.

The School of Music opens up possibilities in the University which are being appreciated by many students. A student of music is no more likely to follow it as a profession than is a student of literature likely to become a literary light. Music has its educational value, particularly in its theoretical side, for there is no better mental training than a study of Harmony or Counterpoint.

While the age is tending toward specialization, it is worth while to note the unease of a specialist in a company of people with whom he is thrown socially and among whom he stands alone in his profession; he may find sympathizers, but he finds no one with whom he may meet on common ground. The School of Music stands as a factor to meet just such conditions by giving to students, majoring in the sciences, a breadth and sympathy well worth having. It is not the school's aim to make musicians and teachers of every pupil, and so it is arranged by the University that credit for work done in music is allowed toward literary degrees.

Two departments of the School of Music, the Orchestra and the Choral Society, are worthy of special mention. The Orchestra, conducted by Miss Horne, with its nucleus in her own violin department and supplemented by members of the Cadet Band, affords opportunity for students, whether music or literary, who play instruments, to become acquainted, by actual playing, with orchestral works of the great masters. The orchestra often appears in concerts of its own and in conjunction with the Choral Society.

The other department, the Choral Society, directed by Director Black, of the School of Music, has an equally broad field. The society is composed of students who sing from all departments. It gives three concerts each year. The fall and spring concerts are given entirely by the society, the program either miscellaneous in character or some choral work, with soloists.

The change from three terms to two semester, which goes into effect next year, will bring with it many other changes. Among these there is one for which Director Black is bending his energies, which will bring the offerings of the School of Music more within the reach of the University students. This will be announced later.

INSTRUCTION IN LIBRARY METHODS

The rapid increase of school libraries throughout the state, both in size and numbers, is an evidence of the importance attached to the library as an educational agency. The best results are obtained when libraries are in charge of persons who have had training for the work and who are capable of applying approved library methods in the other work of the library. In order to provide an opportunity for students to equip themselves for such work a credit course in Library Methods will be offered at the university next year. The course will continue throughout the year and will include practice in cataloguing and classification, use of reference books, binding and repair, selection and purchase of books, government documents, and other problems connected with the management of school libraries. It is designed to meet the needs of both the school superintendent who may desire a general knowledge of library methods and the high school teacher who may be called upon to act as librarian.

BASEBALL PRACTICE BEGUN AT WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY.

The prospects for baseball this season at the university are fine. The candidates who are trying out for pitchers and catchers have already started indoor practice. The schedule is the strongest in years, possibly one of the hardest that any university team has ever coped with. There are games arrayed with Notre Dame, two with the Wheeling Central League, three with W. & J. and probably one with each of the Cuban Giants, and a team representing the College of Hawaii, of Honolulu, China.
