CATHOLICS ARE URGED TO UNITE

In Political Activity in Mexico and There is Much Speculation.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—An edict issued by the archbishop of Mexico, Right Rev. Dr. Jose Mora y del Rio, exhorting all Catholics to unite and to take an active part in the political affairs of the nation, is causing much speculation and not a little uneasiness in political circles as to just what part the National Catholic party will play in future elections. Throughout the month of June, in obedience to the mandate of the archbishop, the clergy has exhorted the faithful to offer their prayers that the electors may walk in paths of righteousness, and has counseled the people to "enter the fight with a true Christian spirit."

The exhortation was called forth by the approaching election of senators and deputies. In addition to the efforts of the priesthood, the edict has been posted on the doors of all churches and in conspicuous places throughout the capital. The archbishop quoted Cardinal Genari in urging his people to unite, as follows: "In cases where the worthy people are divided in their choice of candidates, we must confess that this is serious evil, which is to be lamented and done away with at all costs. Wherefore, we exhort you in the name of the Almighty that you do not remain divided, but grouped together. Associate yourselves and unite in order that, as in the first days of the church, you may form one heart, one soul with a uniformity of ideas and a unity of purpose in the fight. Fighting thus, with closed ranks and with due attention to your leader, you will fulfill the mission of Christ and will obtain with greater ease the triumph."

The National Catholic party was a conspicuous factor in the presidential election. In their national convention they supported the candidacy of Madero for the presidency, and named Francisco L. de la Barra for vice-president. Although non-Catholics profess to see in this activity on the part of the head of the church, a tendency toward making the church all powerful, as in the days before the enactment of the "Laws of Reform" under President Juarez, they recognize a fortunate circumstance in the well-known liberality of the archbishop. The spirit of liberality found expression in the edict, wherein voters were advised to select upright and honorable men without prejudice against those who were not of their own faith.

The half completed $5,000,000 national theatre is sinking. After nearly a year of quiet about the magnificent marble structure, a small army of men is at work extending the foundations in an effort to check the subsidence. Nearly 400 tons of cement has been used within the month in reinforcing the foundation of the southwest corner, which appears to be the weakest point and which has sunk nearly a foot.

In the meantime work on the interior is practically abandoned. With the exception of the curtain, proscenium arch and the auditorium dome, the scheme of decoration is still undecided. Samples of flooring, columns and decorative effects are being tried from time to time.

The curtain bearing an exquisite view of Popocatepetl and Ixtacohuatl, is complete and in place. It is done in glass mosaic and is the work of a New York house, in whose studio it was viewed and approved by many art critics. The auditorium dome is a costly and beautiful example of art glass work. The proscenium arch of mosaic, made in Budapest, is being reassembled and will soon be ready to be put in place.

The stage has been equipped with the most improved machinery for moving the curtains and scenery. The theatre has 600 square meters of floor space. The exterior is finished with the exception of the dome and several bronze statues which remain to be placed.

The ancient palace of the Montezumas on the heights of Chapultepec, now the home of the president and his family, is soon to be equipped with a very modern wireless telegraph equipment. Another station is to be established in Torreon. Both stations will be equipped with high power appliances, and will be kept in charge of the department of war. Thus President Madero will be able to keep in constant touch with the commanders in the field, regardless of interruption of the land service. The equipment for the stations has already been ordered.

The acreage available for partition among the inhabitants of the republic, in accordance with one of the provisions of Madero's "Plan of San Luis Potosi," has been computed by commissioners appointed for the purpose, at 51,870,000 acres (21,000,000 hectares). These lands are distributed throughout the various states and territories, Quintana Roo, Sonora and Chihuahua offering the largest quotas. In Quintana Roo there were found to be available 3,820 hectares, in Sonora, 5,350 hectares, and in Chihuahua, 3,163 hectares. Campeche follows with 1,600, Tepic with 1,344 and the Territory of Tehuantepec, 1,400 hectares. Plans for the partition of these national lands, and placing them at the disposal of individuals are being studied by the department of public welfare. While the figures provided by the commission appear formidable, it is to be remembered that great tracts embraced in their calculations are arid and unfit for cultivation.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.
