laid in even courses of rough Ashler. The main structure is of light brown pressed brick laid in white mortar. The window sills, copings and trimmings are of native West Virginia sawed sand stone of a buff color, and makes a pleasing harmony with the brick and basement stone.

The roof is of slate, sloping four ways and evenly balanced and thoroughly braced, with invisible down-spouts to carry the water from the roof.

The dimensions of the building are 50x105 feet, giving ample room for a large lecture room in the basement, with kitchen, boiler room and storage room. The main auditorium is 47x47 feet and is reached by a broad flight of stairs with one turn, making the landing and entrance in the front and center of the main room. The pulpit is located in the northeast corner of the auditorium with choir section on the right and Sunday school room on the left as one faces the platform, the concrete baptistry being constructed under the pulpit platform and near the Sunday school lobby. The Sunday school room is at the rear with a large raising door that can be opened, thus throwing the rooms together, when the attendance would require more room to seat the congregation.

angement is of modern style with eight class rooms below and seven class rooms above. The main lobby of the Sunday school room will seat about 150. The main entrance to the Sunday school room is on the side of the building and from this entrance one can go to the gallery rooms of the Sunday school or to the basement.

The structure is amply provided with windows and the shades are fitted with a pleasing harmony of art glass. This art glass was made in the Opalescent glass factory at Clarksburg, but was cut and fitted by the Foy Art Glass Company, of Cincinnati, O.

The building is plumbed for water, gas and electricity, and will be heated by steam. The primary lighting scheme is for gas, but as soon as electricity can be secured it will be used.

In the front of the building on the left of the entrance is a men's room and on the second floor a ladies' parlor and above this the pastors' study. At the end of the pulpit is reserved a place for the organ, that will be installed later, and back of this are the necessary robing and choir rooms.

The interior finish is in oak, medium dark and dull mission finish, and the pews and chairs will harmonize with this finish.

The corner stone of the building was laid August 8, 1912, and Messrs Post and Westfall, of Buckhannon, are the contractors for its erection, and have done their work in a prompt, careful and workmanlike manner. Edwin E. Pruitt, of Colunbus, O., is the architect and superintendent of construction.

The Rev. E. J. Woolter is the acceptable pastor of this church, and has led his loyal people in the erection of this modern church building, that is built so enduringly and well that it will stand for generations as a monument to their memory and sacrifices, and as a sacred place for the devout worship of God, and the convenient use for the diversified activities of a modern church.

bright, glorious days. The battle of ballots goes merrily on among the ambitious, and the interest will continue to increase until the last hour of the contest. CAUSE OF IMPURE BLOOD

Druggist Tells of Best Remedy.

Pure healthy blood is a most essential factor to good health. Poor, thin, devitalized blood may be caused by a weakness of the digestive organs, an accumulation of waste matter in the system, an inactive liver or lack of exercise.

Whatever the cause the best remedy we know is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It will purify and enrich the blood, tone up the digestive organs, give you a hearty appetite and create strength.

A case has just come to our attention from Schenectady, N. Y. Mrs. Hattie Hall says: "I was forcibly reminded that my system was run down and my blood in bad condition by an abscess forming in my side which required treatment for several weeks. Under the regular use of Vinol to purify and enrich my blood and build my strength this was soon healed, and my general health was much improved."

If you have the slightest indication of poor blood take Vinol. If it fails to help you we will give back your money. Stone & Mercer, druggists, Clarksburg, W. Va. P. S. Tzemza Sufferers! We guarantee our new skin remedy, Saxo. Advertisement.

their sleeves and may cause the public and their opponents more than a mild surprise within the next few days. The circulation of all kinds of roorbacks and discouraging rumors, which has been industriously done during the contest, has not been able to drive the hustlers to shelter, as they have been canvassing in all sections with splendid results.

The vote exhibit tells the story of the voting on Tuesday. How they will stand tomorrow—or at the end, for that matter—no one can tell. The leaders may be lulled into a sense of false security, but there are candidates further down in the lists who have it in their power to surprise these too confident ones, and these silent candidates are likely to give a striking demonstration to their friends that the support so loyally given has not been wasted. Some spectacular advances are likely to be made by them, which will renew the confidence and incite to greater energy their lagging, doubtful supporters. Now that the contest is so close to the finish, the battle cry of each and everyone interested in a candidate should be "Victory."

In this issue will be found the rules governing the close of the contest, and every contestant is advised to read them over carefully, so there will be no misunderstanding of any kind. If you are in doubt about any point, ask the contest department for further information.

CORONER

Will Investigate Death of Clarence Leeson—Body Taken to His Home.

A coroner's jury Wednesday morning viewed the body of Clarence Leeson, an employee at the Hazel Atlas glass factory, who met his death while at work in the factory late Tuesday afternoon by being crushed by an elevator, and adjourned until Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock when it will proceed with its investigation.

The deceased young man came to Clarksburg several months ago to take a course in the West Virginia Business College but as his health was bad, he decided that office work would not be good for him. So he obtained a position at the glass factory.

The accident which caused his death occurred while he was taking some wire from the basement to the second floor of the building in an elevator. The wire caught on the side of the shaft and threw him off his balance. He fell off the elevator and was caught between the bed of the elevator and the first floor, being badly crushed about the chest.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed but it is thought that the body will be taken to his home tonight in Doddridge county.

FINAL CLOSING OF THE CONTEST

So many questions are being asked as to the manner of the final closing of The Daily Telegram Contest, that we wish to thoroughly explain the matter at this time. The issue of The Daily Telegram Saturday, May 24, will show the standing of all candidates up to Friday evening at 4 p. m. Further statement of the standing will not be given until the judges announce their decision Tuesday evening.

That everything may be open and above-board at the close of the contest, The Daily Telegram desires that every candidate deposit his or her votes in the ballot box at The Daily Telegram office by 9 o'clock, Monday evening, May 26, or as soon after that time as all of the contestants will have had an opportunity to turn in all their subscriptions.

The ballot box will then be locked and sealed by the judges, in the presence of the contestants and their friends, who are invited to remain, and the ballot box deposited under lock and key in one of the safety deposit vaults in a local bank.

This will make it impossible for any one to deposit another vote, or to remove any of them. Tuesday will be taken by the Circulation Department to verify all new subscriptions turned in during the last day, and by the Contest Department to enter all subscriptions in the office record, in order to permit of verification of ballots by the committee of judges. On Tuesday evening the committee of judges will convene in the office of The Daily Telegram and make the final count which will determine the winners.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Monday night the doors of The Daily Telegram office will be locked and all candidates who are in the office at that time will be given an opportunity to turn in all subscriptions.

Candidates are requested to go over carefully all their uncast ballots, and see that their name is properly filled out on them, place in an envelope, and deposit in the ballot box by 9 o'clock, or as soon after that time as he or she has turned in all subscriptions.

All Bonus Votes issued up to the last day of the contest must be cast in the same manner as the special ballots. Those issued the last day will be checked by the Board of Judges to see that they are issued to the proper parties. The money for subscriptions on which the ballots are issued, together with all subscription books, both used and unused and Bonus Books, must be delivered to the Contest Manager before ballots are placed in the ballot box.

We ask that all candidates read this carefully and if there is any point regarding the final closing that is not clear, to call upon the Contest Manager for further enlightenment. May the most deserving win, is the heartfelt wish of The Daily Telegram, through its Contest Department.

THE CITY WATER TODAY

Subjoined is today's official report of the condition of the city water, in connection with which the city water works and sewerage board authorizes the following statement:

The board wishes every citizen to know the benefits of the pure, clear water supplied to them. It urges Clarksburgers to use it freely in the coming summer as the sewerage, dust, dirt and sulphur that find their way into the wells and surface water from which many are still drinking are of the greatest danger to the public health.

The board also wishes every citizen to know that the clear water supplied is the result of long years of experience of able men and that the board is doing all in its power to give the benefit of that experience.
