The year book issued by the Senior class of 1913 is now on sale by the president of the class, Miss Hazel Rowand. The book is a credit to those issued by some of the high schools and shows a great display of talent.

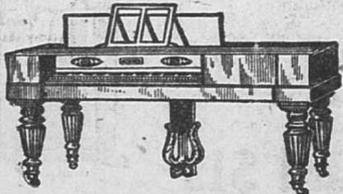

A Mighty Nimrod.
An Arkansas hunter fired one shot at a flock of ducks and brought down three. They fell in the river. He ran downstream to where there was a log and, holding to it, caught the ducks as they floated down. As he stood in the water fish wedged into the legs of his trousers so tightly that as he waded ashore a button flew off and killed a rabbit that was sitting on the bank. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Self operating wireless equipment has been invented for marine stations along the coast of France to warn vessels in foggy weather by code signals, sent out automatically.
