STARTLING CASES IN ATLANTA CAUSE INCREASING EXCITEMENT

Scores of People from that City and Elsewhere Tell of Strange Experiences With Mysterious New Liquid.

Atlanta, Ga.—Excitement in this city and vicinity over the astonishing results in various cases that have been treated with the new Root Juice compound, seems to be increasing daily. Reports of strange cures have spread like wildfire and people from many of the surrounding towns have flocked here to investigate. Many of these who obtained a supply of the medicine when it first became known have made the most remarkable reports and some are so enthusiastic over it that they are anxious to have their experiences published.

Mr. Oliver W. DeWaire, who has lived at 840 Bank Street, Atlanta, twenty-two years and who for sixteen years has been employed as blacksmith in the Southern Railroad round house, said he had been a victim with stomach trouble for about four years and that five doctors and many different medicines had failed to effect a cure. In speaking of his strange case he said: "I sometimes would have no desire to eat at all. My digestion was poor and frequently I would suffer intensely with pain in my stomach. Gas would form in my stomach and cause belching. I had heavy headaches and was very nervous, irritable and worrysome. At night I could not sleep. I was weak and felt all run down. I have now been using the new Root Juice treatment for about three weeks and feel like a new man. I have gained six pounds in weight and can eat almost anything. I sleep fine too, and get up feeling rested. This medicine has certainly fixed me up in fine shape."

Among the many others who had stories of remarkable cures to tell was a man who had come from Marietta. He gave his name as James D. Rupp. His address is 324 Hoovel street, and was very enthusiastic over the results in his case. "I have been a sufferer from stomach, liver and kidney trouble for seven years," he said. "My food positively would not digest and I was in constant misery. I tried one remedy after another without relief. I heard so much about this new Root Juice treatment that I procured a bottle and began using it. To my great surprise before I had finished it, I found my stomach, liver and kidney trouble fast disappearing. Now I can eat heartily and I sleep well. In fact, I feel better every way."

Others among the crowd at the drug store who praised the discovery and told stories of strange results from its use were Mr. J. P. Bradner, of Jackson; Mr. H. R. Seay, of 19 E. Pavillion street, Atlanta; and Mr. H. L. Basher, of Union, all of whom are well-known and prominent in business circles.—Advertisement.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL SALE.

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Harrison County, West Virginia, made and entered on the 15th day of October, 1913, in Chancery Order Book No. 35, page 277, in the chancery cause of Charles L. Hall and others against Don C. Bennett and others, will on Friday, the 21st day of November, 1913, at the front door of the court house of Harrison County, West Virginia, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. of that day, offer for sale to the highest bidder the following real estate, subject to the exception hereinafter set out, situated on Big Elk—a tributary of Little Tenmile Creek, in Sardis District, Harrison County, West Virginia, and being the same tract or parcel of land partitioned to Eliza Pigott out of the lands of Lemon E. Bennett, deceased, designated as lot No. 4, and more particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a chestnut oak on a ridge and corner to line of William F. Pigott, thence with two of said lines S 72 E 49 poles to a chestnut on a point of a ridge; thence N 71 E 82 poles crossing a small run to a stone in a line of lot No. 3; thence with same S 47 1/2 E 14 1/2 poles to a stone and corner to lot No. 5; thence with two lines thereof, S 71 W 88 poles crossing said run to pointers; thence N 72 W 50 poles to pointers in original line on a ridge; then with same N 11 E 16 poles to the beginning, containing 12 acres, more or less, excepting however, from the above described tract or parcel of land all the Pittsburg vein or seam of coal, within, upon and underlying the same, together with certain mining rights therewith, heretofore sold.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash in hand on day of sale.

G. C. FINLY, Special Commissioner. I, I. Wade Coffman, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Harrison County, West Virginia, hereby certify that bond with security approved by me is sufficient, and in the penalty provided by said decree, has been given by said special commissioner.

I. WADE COFFMAN, Clerk.

EIGHT DRUNKS. There were eight drunks before Mayor Will H. Cole at the morning session of police court. Seven of the offenders were sent to jail and the remaining one was allowed to go his way unmolested, this being his first offense.

TWO COUPLES

Are Accused of Living Together Unlawfully in a Farm House Near City.

Awaiting trials before Magistrate J. H. Gordon on charges of unlawfully living together as husbands and wives, George Hanshumaker and William Cottrill are in jail and Della Evans and May Johnson are under personal recognizances. All were arrested late Tuesday afternoon in a farm house on the West Milford road owned by C. J. Stewart by Constable Robert McClung and Special Constable Robert N. Noon.

When taken before the magistrate, all entered pleas of not guilty. The men were committed to jail but the women were allowed to go under personal recognizances because they had small children to take care of. One of the women chewed Schnapps tobacco while in the court room and spat like an inveterate tobacco user.

DELICATE CHILD

Made Strong and Healthy by Vinol. Growing children play hard and work hard at school, which with rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that must be replaced.

When a child is tired all the time, no appetite, weak, delicate and sickly we guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, will build them up, create a hearty appetite, round flesh and muscle tissue, healthy blood, and make them strong.

Mrs. L. L. Bertrand, New Iberia, La., says: "My little one was weak and run-down in health, and was continually taking cold. Different medicines failed to help, but when Vinol was recommended I bought it a wonderful help to my child. It broke up the cold, and quickly restored health and strength. Vinol is a most excellent tonic for children."

If Vinol fails to do just what we say, we will give back your money. Stone & Mercer, druggists, Clarkburg, W. Va.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR THE PRACTICAL

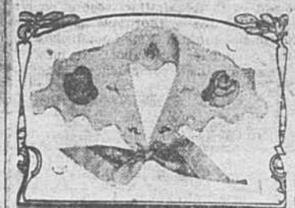

Things Ornamental and Useful That May Be Made at Home.

FOR the sternly practical member of the family something to wear never comes amiss as a Christmas gift. There are so many things in this line that one may give that one need never be in doubt what to present to those who prefer the useful to the merely ornamental souvenir. There are collars and trinkets of all sorts, handkerchiefs, gloves, etc., all suitable for this purpose.

Illustrated here is a sailor collar for a young girl. It is of tan linen, embroidered in blue and red. The pattern is a simple one, but any other that pleases the taste might be substituted for it.

As to slippers, they are always in demand. From the daintiest of lacy crochets fashioned of ribbon to the cozy knitted or crocheted ones which are the delight of the invalid.

Very easy to make are the crocheted slippers shown here. They are in double crochet, the work being done to give the familiar ribbed pattern. As each slipper must be shaped to suit the size of the foot for which it is intended, no directions in regard to number of stitches to be used would be generally useful. The size can be gauged by measuring. Select a color of yarn that you know the receiver of the gift to be fond of and do not economize on the ribbon for bows.

A nice gift for a little one is crocheted booties. Winter bed socks may be made for the older children. The crocheting or knitting of a pair of slippers may be accomplished in the course of a few evenings. For a pair of really dainty slippers use mercerized worsted, which looks like silk floss of a very heavy quality and which works up so coarsely that the slipper grows with extraordinary rapidity. Having worked with hook or needles the strip that is long enough to cover the lower portion of the foot, overlap one side of it by a silk lined fusole, crochet a fancy finish to the upper side, run through its meshes a ribbon and have this drawing-terminate in a huge rosette at the instep, while the toe is decorated with a large round buckle of the mercerized worsted. Then make the slipper.

Even more quickly made is the "mule" type of bedroom slipper. This consists of merely a silk lined insole to which is attached a V-shaped piece of woven mercerized worsted forming g to section. When a pair of ribbon ankle ties have been attached to the sides of the insole's heel a quilting of ribbon trims it daintily.

A pretty bedroom slipper is made of satin ribbon, stirred up thickly to give the slipper "body" across the toe. Two thicknesses of the ribbon are used for the sides, elastic being run through a casing at the toe. The sole of the slipper is lined with quilted satin.

If the gift giver really lacks the time to work for her friend she can at least buy a pair of inexpensive ready made worsted slippers, trim them attractively with big bows of satin ribbon matching quiltings forming fluffy edgings and give a touch of daintiness to the inner side of the soles by covering them with a shaped sachet of fine batting and delicately colored china silk. Or she may take a pair of inexpensive "mules" of wadded silk, edge them with swansdown, marabou or fur and decorate their toes with big rosettes of ribbon or malines—in fact, rather do anything to make them different from the cheap looking, impersonal sort of footgear which the fastidious recipient will not wear.
