

Special Bargains in Ladies' and Men's Raincoats, Rubbers, Arctics, and Other Necessities For Stormy Weather

HAMBURGERS
"THE BUSY STORE"
355-357-359 WEST MAIN ST. CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

10c-ODEON-10c
Refined Vaudeville & Pictures

TIANYA MIDDENS—A real novelty act.
PICTURES
"THE PALFAGE BRAVE"
Complete in two parts.
AND A SPLENDID SELIG COMEDY.
Wednesday's Feature—"Unto the Third and Fourth Generation"—Selig.
Thursday—"A Royal Slave"—4th of the series of the greatest of all features, "The Adventures of Katiya."

Lyceum Theatre
U. S. PASOHL, Lessee and Manager
MOVING PICTURES
OPEN 12:30 DAILY
Never Stop—No Wait
"Drop in Any Where."

TAKING THE HOUSE BY STORM
TODAY'S PROGRAM
"THE MAD HERMIT"
Featuring Frances Ford and Grace Cunard.
3-reel 101 Bison War drama.
"THE MISER'S SON"
(An Imp Comedy Drama.)
MR. HAW, "THE BIG HIT"
Lyceum Song Bird in a new ballad.
Set aside one hour daily for the Lyceum pictures. Watch our boards for Saturday.
5c NO HIGHER 5c

THIRD STREET THEATRE
"THE GYPSY'S VENDETTA, OR THE QUEEN OF THE CARMARQUE"
In three parts.
"THE CHILD OF THE WILD"
A real Western.
"THE ROBBER'S CATCHING MACHINE"
The best comedy you ever saw.
"JIM'S APPRENTICESHIP"
Another rearing comedy.
6-REELS TODAY
ADMISSION, ADULTS 10c—CHILDREN 5c
Don't miss this show today. It's the best you ever saw.

The City Water Today
Following is today's test for fever and other germs as made by Perkins Hoxton, chemist at the water works. Also precipitation for the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock today.
ANALYSIS.
No. bacteria in 100 c.c. of water. Bacillus coli present in 100 c.c. of water. 24. 0.1 c.c. 1.0 c.c. 10. c.c.
EXPLANATION.
0.1 c.c.—Cubic centimeter (about) a thimbleful.
Bacillus coli—Intestinal germ.
X—absent.
Precipitation .00 1 ft. snow.

This is Guaranteed to Stop Your Cough
Make this Family Supply
Cough Syrup
This plan makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer an ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Simple as 1-2-3, no better remedy can be had at any price.
Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 30 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents) worth in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.
You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.
The effect of Pinex on the membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and other natural healing plant elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.
This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, though never successfully. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.
A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE THEATERS
"The House of Bondage" in motion pictures, which will be shown at the Robinson Grand the last half of this week, is one of the most convincing and moral dramas ever shown in a playhouse. There are over 300 scenes in the six big reels; it shows Little Fishhook heads a case of forty-five principals and over 100 extras. The thrilling heart throbbing story, from the book of Reginald Wright Knufman, has been faithfully followed except in a few scenes that the producers thought best to omit, so as not to offend the more sensitive persons. Three performances will be given each day, at 2:30, 7 and 9 p. m.
Grace George is in a Boston engagement in her new play, "Jim's Marriage."
The quality of the music of "The Fredy" impresses one first and chiefly which is exactly as it should be in a "comedy opera," as this entertainment is classified. From all accounts, it is a thoroughly lovely music, not without its gay tunes, but much of it made of wonderful and creamy waltzes and other luscious strains which are too pleasant for analysis. Rudolf Friml, a composer who owes his chance for fame to Arthur Hammerstein, is responsible for the music.
William Elliott is to produce a drama of California life called "The Alcazar."
In "Mitt and Jeff in Panama," which appears down at the Robinson Grand, the leading characters are carried through a series of situations with a melodrama tinge and flavor. The play here, there and everywhere, but bring into view when least expected and leaving a trail of happy and infectious mirth in their wake. There is a vein of love in the story which the help to unfold. This is merely conduced to the hero and heroine. As to themselves they are busy extricating themselves from their various pitfalls that they have no time to think of the divine passion.
A second company to play "Sart" in the West may be organized.
Today's program at the Bijou includes a two reel special Vitagraph feature entitled "Tainted Money," which is shown how a father's greed brings misery to others but luxury to himself. This is declared to be a society drama of high merit. The feature Wednesday will be a four reel Mutual film production, "The Great Leap," or "Until Death Do Us Part," a romantic story of the Kentucky feud put on by a cast of the old Vitagraph star players. The picture ends with a remarkable leap on horseback from a fifty foot cliff. It was staged under the personal supervision of D. W. Griffith.
Alice Bradley, author of "The Governor's Lady," is writing another play.

THE THEATERS
"The House of Bondage" in motion pictures, which will be shown at the Robinson Grand the last half of this week, is one of the most convincing and moral dramas ever shown in a playhouse. There are over 300 scenes in the six big reels; it shows Little Fishhook heads a case of forty-five principals and over 100 extras. The thrilling heart throbbing story, from the book of Reginald Wright Knufman, has been faithfully followed except in a few scenes that the producers thought best to omit, so as not to offend the more sensitive persons. Three performances will be given each day, at 2:30, 7 and 9 p. m.
Grace George is in a Boston engagement in her new play, "Jim's Marriage."
The quality of the music of "The Fredy" impresses one first and chiefly which is exactly as it should be in a "comedy opera," as this entertainment is classified. From all accounts, it is a thoroughly lovely music, not without its gay tunes, but much of it made of wonderful and creamy waltzes and other luscious strains which are too pleasant for analysis. Rudolf Friml, a composer who owes his chance for fame to Arthur Hammerstein, is responsible for the music.
William Elliott is to produce a drama of California life called "The Alcazar."
In "Mitt and Jeff in Panama," which appears down at the Robinson Grand, the leading characters are carried through a series of situations with a melodrama tinge and flavor. The play here, there and everywhere, but bring into view when least expected and leaving a trail of happy and infectious mirth in their wake. There is a vein of love in the story which the help to unfold. This is merely conduced to the hero and heroine. As to themselves they are busy extricating themselves from their various pitfalls that they have no time to think of the divine passion.
A second company to play "Sart" in the West may be organized.
Today's program at the Bijou includes a two reel special Vitagraph feature entitled "Tainted Money," which is shown how a father's greed brings misery to others but luxury to himself. This is declared to be a society drama of high merit. The feature Wednesday will be a four reel Mutual film production, "The Great Leap," or "Until Death Do Us Part," a romantic story of the Kentucky feud put on by a cast of the old Vitagraph star players. The picture ends with a remarkable leap on horseback from a fifty foot cliff. It was staged under the personal supervision of D. W. Griffith.
Alice Bradley, author of "The Governor's Lady," is writing another play.

TO PREVENT CONSUMPTION
SOME WAYS YOU KEEP OFF BREAD TUBERCULOSIS.
Take Bear's Emulsion in Time—Watch for the Symptoms of Disease.
Now to keep from getting consumptive. Keep the body strong and healthy. Now that you are so anxious to keep the body healthy, not by losing weight every day, not by allowing that tickling in your throat to remain, not by getting bronchitis or tonsillitis on every little exposure, not by letting your children have the croup or whooping cough and not giving them anything that will heat the throat and build up the system; not by going from day to day with a tired feeling, no appetite and pains about through the body. Keep the body strong and healthy by taking Bear's Emulsion. It has been thoroughly tested by people in your own country. People that you know say it is the best thing they ever took for any of the above ailments. It is sold to you on a positive guarantee that it will do as recommended or money refunded. One dollar a bottle. Sold by Frank G. Ward and Stone & Mercer, Druggists—Advertisement.

The City Water Today
Following is today's test for fever and other germs as made by Perkins Hoxton, chemist at the water works. Also precipitation for the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock today.
ANALYSIS.
No. bacteria in 100 c.c. of water. Bacillus coli present in 100 c.c. of water. 24. 0.1 c.c. 1.0 c.c. 10. c.c.
EXPLANATION.
0.1 c.c.—Cubic centimeter (about) a thimbleful.
Bacillus coli—Intestinal germ.
X—absent.
Precipitation .00 1 ft. snow.

BUCKHANNON
BUCKHANNON basketball team played the Grifton High school team Saturday night in the college gymnasium. Ward Latham, an Old Wesleyan student, was with the Grifton team and doing the coaching. The game was very hard fought by both teams but the Buckhannon boys proved too much for the Grifton roadrunners. The score was 45 to 13 in favor of Buckhannon. The game was clean and full of sensations. Plays by both teams were outlandish by the looks when it came to guarding and passing the ball. Shumaker and Morrison were the officials for the game.
Sunday evening about sixty members of the Knights of Pythias lodge gathered at their lodge room on Main street and marched to the Methodist church where they listened to an anniversary sermon by the Rev. Hyre D. Clark. The sermon was of exceptional high order and was well received. The main theme advanced in the sermon was "Friendship, both human and Divine. The lodge made good showing and the people are glad to have such a representative organization in their midst.
One of the local gas companies lines bursted a few miles outside the city Saturday at noon. Practically half the people in town were cut off from gas. As the electric light and water plants use this company's gas, the water and electricity were "squeezed" and this very much interfered with business Saturday night. The gas company did its best to get the line repaired quickly but the gas and water were not turned on till about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
Rawling Escoe went to Phillipi Saturday afternoon to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Escoe.
Miss Phyllis Partin, of Flemington, and Miss Goldie Beahler, of Alexandria, are guests of Miss Elizabeth Hartley on Florida street.
The Wesleyan basketball team returned home Monday from its trip north. A hard practice will be engaged in for the next two days in order to be in the best condition possible for the Clarksburg Scholastics who will be here Wednesday night. As Clarksburg has already won one game from Wesleyan, this one will have much to do with deciding the state champions. It is understood that the Clarksburg boys are very confident of victory. They will also be accompanied by a special train of rosters.

BUCKHANNON
BUCKHANNON basketball team played the Grifton High school team Saturday night in the college gymnasium. Ward Latham, an Old Wesleyan student, was with the Grifton team and doing the coaching. The game was very hard fought by both teams but the Buckhannon boys proved too much for the Grifton roadrunners. The score was 45 to 13 in favor of Buckhannon. The game was clean and full of sensations. Plays by both teams were outlandish by the looks when it came to guarding and passing the ball. Shumaker and Morrison were the officials for the game.
Sunday evening about sixty members of the Knights of Pythias lodge gathered at their lodge room on Main street and marched to the Methodist church where they listened to an anniversary sermon by the Rev. Hyre D. Clark. The sermon was of exceptional high order and was well received. The main theme advanced in the sermon was "Friendship, both human and Divine. The lodge made good showing and the people are glad to have such a representative organization in their midst.
One of the local gas companies lines bursted a few miles outside the city Saturday at noon. Practically half the people in town were cut off from gas. As the electric light and water plants use this company's gas, the water and electricity were "squeezed" and this very much interfered with business Saturday night. The gas company did its best to get the line repaired quickly but the gas and water were not turned on till about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
Rawling Escoe went to Phillipi Saturday afternoon to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Escoe.
Miss Phyllis Partin, of Flemington, and Miss Goldie Beahler, of Alexandria, are guests of Miss Elizabeth Hartley on Florida street.
The Wesleyan basketball team returned home Monday from its trip north. A hard practice will be engaged in for the next two days in order to be in the best condition possible for the Clarksburg Scholastics who will be here Wednesday night. As Clarksburg has already won one game from Wesleyan, this one will have much to do with deciding the state champions. It is understood that the Clarksburg boys are very confident of victory. They will also be accompanied by a special train of rosters.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

BUCKHANNON
BUCKHANNON basketball team played the Grifton High school team Saturday night in the college gymnasium. Ward Latham, an Old Wesleyan student, was with the Grifton team and doing the coaching. The game was very hard fought by both teams but the Buckhannon boys proved too much for the Grifton roadrunners. The score was 45 to 13 in favor of Buckhannon. The game was clean and full of sensations. Plays by both teams were outlandish by the looks when it came to guarding and passing the ball. Shumaker and Morrison were the officials for the game.
Sunday evening about sixty members of the Knights of Pythias lodge gathered at their lodge room on Main street and marched to the Methodist church where they listened to an anniversary sermon by the Rev. Hyre D. Clark. The sermon was of exceptional high order and was well received. The main theme advanced in the sermon was "Friendship, both human and Divine. The lodge made good showing and the people are glad to have such a representative organization in their midst.
One of the local gas companies lines bursted a few miles outside the city Saturday at noon. Practically half the people in town were cut off from gas. As the electric light and water plants use this company's gas, the water and electricity were "squeezed" and this very much interfered with business Saturday night. The gas company did its best to get the line repaired quickly but the gas and water were not turned on till about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
Rawling Escoe went to Phillipi Saturday afternoon to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Escoe.
Miss Phyllis Partin, of Flemington, and Miss Goldie Beahler, of Alexandria, are guests of Miss Elizabeth Hartley on Florida street.
The Wesleyan basketball team returned home Monday from its trip north. A hard practice will be engaged in for the next two days in order to be in the best condition possible for the Clarksburg Scholastics who will be here Wednesday night. As Clarksburg has already won one game from Wesleyan, this one will have much to do with deciding the state champions. It is understood that the Clarksburg boys are very confident of victory. They will also be accompanied by a special train of rosters.

BUCKHANNON
BUCKHANNON basketball team played the Grifton High school team Saturday night in the college gymnasium. Ward Latham, an Old Wesleyan student, was with the Grifton team and doing the coaching. The game was very hard fought by both teams but the Buckhannon boys proved too much for the Grifton roadrunners. The score was 45 to 13 in favor of Buckhannon. The game was clean and full of sensations. Plays by both teams were outlandish by the looks when it came to guarding and passing the ball. Shumaker and Morrison were the officials for the game.
Sunday evening about sixty members of the Knights of Pythias lodge gathered at their lodge room on Main street and marched to the Methodist church where they listened to an anniversary sermon by the Rev. Hyre D. Clark. The sermon was of exceptional high order and was well received. The main theme advanced in the sermon was "Friendship, both human and Divine. The lodge made good showing and the people are glad to have such a representative organization in their midst.
One of the local gas companies lines bursted a few miles outside the city Saturday at noon. Practically half the people in town were cut off from gas. As the electric light and water plants use this company's gas, the water and electricity were "squeezed" and this very much interfered with business Saturday night. The gas company did its best to get the line repaired quickly but the gas and water were not turned on till about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.
Rawling Escoe went to Phillipi Saturday afternoon to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Escoe.
Miss Phyllis Partin, of Flemington, and Miss Goldie Beahler, of Alexandria, are guests of Miss Elizabeth Hartley on Florida street.
The Wesleyan basketball team returned home Monday from its trip north. A hard practice will be engaged in for the next two days in order to be in the best condition possible for the Clarksburg Scholastics who will be here Wednesday night. As Clarksburg has already won one game from Wesleyan, this one will have much to do with deciding the state champions. It is understood that the Clarksburg boys are very confident of victory. They will also be accompanied by a special train of rosters.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

RAIL ROAD
(Continued from page five)
road-owned ships. This is the real reason why which the transcontinental lines are hiding, both those in Canada and the United States.
If these demands are complied with it will be insisted that we have no right to fortify the canal; that we have no right to pass our navy through the canal in time of war; that we can not honor our treaty with Panama with reference to the passage of her vessels through the canal; in fact, that we have no right whatsoever—except to expend about sixteen millions of dollars per annum in the maintenance and operation of a great international waterway built by American ingenuity with American money.
"There is no question that there are international complications," which should be subject a delicate one at this particular juncture, but a truly American policy demands that the Panama act should stand as it was enacted in spite of these complications, and the United States ought to maintain its position at any hazard or cost. It is insisted by those who would repeal the clause that it is in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the question of treaty violation was discussed at great length before the new law was enacted, and it was determined by an overwhelming vote in both the Senate and House that the enactment of a violation was in no sense of the word a violation of the treaty. It is not a parity question, but one of national importance.
"Not only was this view taken by Congress, but the then President of the United States, as well as the secretary of state, both of whom were and are distinguished constitutional lawyers, maintained the same view. The first in his approval of the act as passed, and the second in his answer to the president of Earl Grey. Further than that, the supreme court of the United States, in passing upon a treaty provision between the United States and Great Britain very much like the one in question, held that it was not a violation of the terms of the treaty. The legislature of Texas discriminated in favor of American vessels engaged in navigating waters of that state.
The majority of the women of the Roman aristocracy have decided to banish the tango.

This Lung Remedy Known Fifteen Years
If everybody who suffers from or is threatened with Lung Trouble would investigate the many cases which testify to the efficacy of this remedy, they would be brought about through the use of Eckman's Alternative, a remedy which has stood the test for nearly fifteen years, a strong opinion in favor of it would be the result. What it has accomplished shows it may do for you. Read this—146 E. 12th St., New York.
"Gentlemen: Last December I took a sudden cold, which developed into Pneumonia. The doctor did all he possibly could for me, but could not cure my lungs. One day I saw a testimonial in one of the papers telling of the good results Eckman's Alternative had in curing a man taking it and soon felt good. I began taking it and soon felt good. I began to gain in strength and was soon well enough to take all my work again. I am in better health now than I have been at any time. I am a missionary worker for the New York House for Homeless and Friendless Boys."
(Above abbreviated, more on request.)
Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for such ailments as Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Asthma, Stomach Colds and in abundance of other ailments. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

QUICK RELIEF FOR STOMACH MISERY
MI-O-NA Will Put Your Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomach in Order—Try One Dose and Prove It.
If you are a stomach sufferer do not despair—immediate relief and sure relief is at hand. MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets, sold in fifty cent boxes at all drug stores, are a specific for out-of-order stomachs.
MI-O-NA is not only a quick digestive but a stimulant and strengthener of the stomach walls. It increases the flow of digestive fluids, softens the irritated membrane, and puts the stomach in shape to do the work nature intended.
If suffering with indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, or any of the various forms of stomach misery, usually indicated by nervousness, distress attending eating, headache, dizziness, bad breath, or sour stomach, do not wait. Get relief immediately—take MI-O-NA today. Wells-Haymaker Co. sells it on money back if not satisfied plan—Advertisement.

WEST INDIES and the PANAMA CANAL CRUISES
By the Victoria Louise
"VICTORIA LOUISE"
From NEW YORK
March 11—April 11
16-27 Days, $145-$175 and up
Also Cruises Around the World through the Panama Canal, Mediterranean trips, etc.
Send for Booklet, Sailing Cruise
HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE
338 Sixth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

QUICK RELIEF FOR STOMACH MISERY
MI-O-NA Will Put Your Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomach in Order—Try One Dose and Prove It.
If you are a stomach sufferer do not despair—immediate relief and sure relief is at hand. MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets, sold in fifty cent boxes at all drug stores, are a specific for out-of-order stomachs.
MI-O-NA is not only a quick digestive but a stimulant and strengthener of the stomach walls. It increases the flow of digestive fluids, softens the irritated membrane, and puts the stomach in shape to do the work nature intended.
If suffering with indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, or any of the various forms of stomach misery, usually indicated by nervousness, distress attending eating, headache, dizziness, bad breath, or sour stomach, do not wait. Get relief immediately—take MI-O-NA today. Wells-Haymaker Co. sells it on money back if not satisfied plan—Advertisement.

B & B
women's spring suits and dresses
Comprehensive showing new coat suits and dresses, revealing the most exclusive French ideas of material, lines and trimmings. Flounced and tier skirts and short Bolero Coats, kimono sleeves and all sorts of novel and picturesque trimmings mark these suits.
Spring Suits at $25.00 and upwards.
100 women's dresses, special each $18.50.
Chiffon Taffeta Dresses in semi-dressy style—the skirt having triple ruffles to suggest a dancing tunic. The waist has the artistic Japanese roll collar. Colors, Navy Blue, Copenhagen, Black and Golden Brown. Charmis—Flounced Dresses, made of chiffon taffeta with scalloped silk tunics and lace bodice with sashes of contrasting colors, some with exquisite little corset flowers, and silk or net under tunics and all sorts of new trimming ideas, $25.00 and upwards.
Born & Buhl.

B & B
women's spring suits and dresses
Comprehensive showing new coat suits and dresses, revealing the most exclusive French ideas of material, lines and trimmings. Flounced and tier skirts and short Bolero Coats, kimono sleeves and all sorts of novel and picturesque trimmings mark these suits.
Spring Suits at $25.00 and upwards.
100 women's dresses, special each $18.50.
Chiffon Taffeta Dresses in semi-dressy style—the skirt having triple ruffles to suggest a dancing tunic. The waist has the artistic Japanese roll collar. Colors, Navy Blue, Copenhagen, Black and Golden Brown. Charmis—Flounced Dresses, made of chiffon taffeta with scalloped silk tunics and lace bodice with sashes of contrasting colors, some with exquisite little corset flowers, and silk or net under tunics and all sorts of new trimming ideas, $25.00 and upwards.
Born & Buhl.

B & B
women's spring suits and dresses
Comprehensive showing new coat suits and dresses, revealing the most exclusive French ideas of material, lines and trimmings. Flounced and tier skirts and short Bolero Coats, kimono sleeves and all sorts of novel and picturesque trimmings mark these suits.
Spring Suits at $25.00 and upwards.
100 women's dresses, special each $18.50.
Chiffon Taffeta Dresses in semi-dressy style—the skirt having triple ruffles to suggest a dancing tunic. The waist has the artistic Japanese roll collar. Colors, Navy Blue, Copenhagen, Black and Golden Brown. Charmis—Flounced Dresses, made of chiffon taffeta with scalloped silk tunics and lace bodice with sashes of contrasting colors, some with exquisite little corset flowers, and silk or net under tunics and all sorts of new trimming ideas, $25.00 and upwards.
Born & Buhl.

EVERYBODY GOES TO Baker's

LAST CALL on COATS

The entire stock of women's coats must be sold.
Come, take your choice of any coat in the store
$5.85
values