EXHIBITION GAME AT UNION PARK

Yanigans and Regulars Will Meet in First Game of the Season Sunday.

The first practice of the season was indulged in this afternoon when Mickey Larsen, James Powell, Walter Phillips and Jack Pettegrew inaugurated the Colts' spring training. By Thursday of this week all players under contract to the Clarksburg club will be in town and Manager Shannon proposes to keep the boys busy. A large number of exhibition games will be played, the first next Saturday at Grafton. Sunday there will be an exhibition game at Union Park with the Clarksburg team meeting the Yannisians of the squad. This will afford the fans an opportunity to see all the boys in action and the entertainment will be well worth the price, which will be 25 cents general admission.

Yesterday morning the following players were ordered to report in this city at once. Tom Halpin, Elmer Bayer, Friend, Williams, Smith, Diem, Jaekel, Kent, Kearney, Harris, Giltch, Jones, Collie, Myers, Cummings, Schmitt and Richards. Several experienced pitchers will be added to the local club within a short time. Manager Shannon is dickering with a number of clubs for their excess material and hopes to land several good men.

Great enthusiasm prevails among the baseball fans of this city and they all look forward to a successful season. The Colts are sure to play to packed houses and Clarksburg will give every town in the league a battle for attendance honors. Shannon has a few open dates and would like to book some games out of town. Clubs in this vicinity would do well to book the leaguers as they are sure to be big drawing cards. There is a probability that games will be played with Richwood and Glenville. The locals have a series of three games with the Grafton team. Two at Grafton and one at Union Park.

Pawva League Lore

Connellsville and Uniontown will meet in exhibition games prior to the opening of the season. Managers Mack and Paige have arranged a game for Saturday, May 9, at Connellsville.

Monte McCormick, the new umpire in the Pawva is a live wire. He owns a picture show, a pool room and a refreshment stand and is making barrels of money out of his business enterprises, and he only umpires because he likes baseball. Seems tough that such a nice fellow as Monte is, should pick out such a tough job.

George Needham has signed Jack McClain, a young first baseman from Point Marion, Pa. McClain played in the Frick league last season and, according to Jake Magee, Frank Keller and other old time ball players, McClain is destined to hit the big show.

Jack Richards, Shannon's new shortstop, will be the captain of the Colts. Richards just left the Montreal club of the International League and is in great shape. He will be in town not later than Thursday. Jack is a great fielder, has a fine arm and is a good hitter.

Fay Lighty, of Elk's Run, Pa., has been signed by the Cokers. He is a pitcher and has been with the Bucknell College team. Mack, leader of the Coker City aggregation, is banking on the hurler to stick.

Dave Slesnick, the catcher-outfielder from Oil City, will be turned over to the Cokers. He is a regular signer of so many first class backstops made it necessary for Manager Shannon to cut down his roster.

BASEBALL IS BECOMING A REFINED GAME

Baseball Players of Time of Yore Were Rough Lot; Game Improved.

Jimmy Burke thinks that baseball is getting to be a regular ladies' game nowadays. This veteran of the old time, when the majority of diamond performers were so tough that you could crack hickorynuts on their heads, has not easily become reconciled to the genteel behavior and drawing room manners of the modern athletes.

"Handshaking players" were almost unknown in his day, and the expressions "excuse me" and "if you please" were not regarded as an essential part of the pastime's vocabularies. "The boys all act like gentlemen on and off the field now," says Burke. "If a man happens to make a one-hand catch of a liner, he tells the victim he is sorry he robbed him of a hit, and if a pitcher 'beans' a guy he is so broken up he is not able to continue. You bet things were not like that when I broke in."

"The best you got then was a curse, and the way those base-runners would fling their spikes around in sliding was a caution. 'Get out of the way, or I'll cut your blanket blank eye out,' was what they used to yell at the baseman. And they do not believe there is a player in the American league who would intentionally spike another."

Friendly Spirit Shown. "When a club opens a series now, there is a grand handshaking bee, among the players, a regular 'frat' spirit, it isn't a marker to the baseball happy family. Rivalry as we used to see it fifteen or eighteen years ago is unknown. The men play hard, but do not get stirred up about it and carry their grudges off the field like they used to.

"I can remember the time when it was not considered a legal game of ball by some clubs unless there was a fist fight somewhere along the way. Battle on the diamond in the club houses and in the hotels were so common that nobody paid much attention to them. There may be a few fights now, but they are so rare that they make good soap."

Conditions Much Better. "Things are much better as they are, though, I'll admit. The public would not stand for the rough stuff that used to be pulled in the old days, and the players had to cut it out or their jobs would have fled. There was a time when a decent woman hesitated to go to a game in some of the cities, but now a good quarter of the grandstand crowd at every big league game is composed of members of the fair sex."

"And they never see or hear anything that would offend them either. If the club should try to pull the roughneck tactics now there probably would be such an indignant uprising among the fans that patronage would fall away to almost nothing. Clean baseball is what brings in the money at the box office, and that seems to be what the magnates are after."

NEW BIDS

Are Asked by the City Council for Construction of a Steel Bridge.

As the city council decided Monday evening to make a change in the elevation of the proposed steel bridge across Elk creek at Sixth street so that the northern abutment will be two feet high instead of nine, all bids for that bridge were rejected by the city council Monday evening and new bids will be received until noon Thursday, May 7, by the city clerk.

The new bids will be opened at the council meeting May 8 and the contract awarded. Frank McInteer was engaged as consulting engineer for this bridge without pay and he was instructed to prepare a single design for the steel bridge and have all bidders restrict their bids to that design. The design will provide for an overhead bridge as the council never had an idea of having a grade crossing bridge there.

Consulting Engineer McInteer was directed to check up the bids for the Fourth street concrete bridge and make report thereon to the council May 8 at which time the contract for that bridge will also be let.

MAKING SOME CLOTHES

WE EXPECT TO BUILD SUITS AND OVERCOATS FOR MORE THAN 50,000 MEN THIS YEAR.

Ten years ago we made about 3,000 Suits and Overcoats.

The price is the same now as it was then:

ESTABLISHED 1892

ALL SUITS $15 NO MORE

ALL OVERCOATS $15 NO LESS

MADE TO ORDER

Despite this gigantic output the closest attention is given every garment built in our shops.

Every piece of woolen is carefully and conscientiously selected by skilled and competent buyers. Every piece of cloth is critically examined; every piece must be flawless and every piece is cold-water shrunk before it enters our shop.

In our shops we use on the highest grade trimmings—cold-water shrunk canvas; Russian hair-cloth and genuine wool padding which does not wad if it gets wet.

The designing and tailoring of every suit, every overcoat, must be correct down to the smallest detail, and the completed clothes must conform in every way with the requirements of our critical inspectors.

EVERYONE OF THE 50,000 SUITS WE'LL MAKE THIS YEAR WILL BE GIVEN THE MOST MINUTE ATTENTION.

These inexorable rules have made United Woolen Clothes what they are; have made the kind of clothes that make for themselves permanent and fully satisfied wearers.

LET YOUR SPRING SUIT BE A UNITED WOOLEN SUIT.
