 arm in pursuance of a plan announced at a Socialist mass meeting last night, where it was agreed that "mourners" should gather in front of the Standard Oil building as a protest against the sacrifice of lives in Colorado.
 Mrs. Silverman and Sinclair were the first to arrive on the scene. Mrs. Silverman sought to place this message before the younger Rockefeller: "I am an American citizen standing at your door waiting for just a word with you. Will you grant me this request? My question will be brief and to the point."
 The prisoners were taken to the Old Slip police station, where Mrs. Sinclair was released.
 The other women, who were placed in cells pending their arraignment in court, said they were Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, an English suffraget, who has once been in jail with Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, Mrs. Margaret Remington Charter, and Mrs. Bonny Leiter. All had been arrested on the sidewalk in front of 26 Broadway.
 "I was not doing a thing but walking up and down in the street with a piece of crepe on my arm," said Sinclair. "A policeman stopped me and said if I did not stop walking I would have to go along with him. I told the policeman I did not see any reason why I should stop walking and he promptly placed me and my associates under arrest."

FEDERAL
 The last obstacle in the way of getting this increase for Hinton through at the present session is the order sent out from White House to keep down all appropriations. This injunction has even been imposed on the committee on pensions. It is the usual party action on the eve of a general congressional campaign, and is given additional weight by the controlling party this year because of the fact that it has already broken all previous records for expenditure and because of the great expense that the government will be put to on account of the troubles in Mexico.
 Despite all these unfavorable conditions Representative Avis is going to stick to the job in the hope that the prospect of getting some early action taken with regard to Buckhannon and Hinton may become brighter.
 Representative Sutherland had a conference with General George Andrews, adjutant general of the army, concerning what prospects West Virginia soldiers may have in going to Mexico in the event a call for troops is issued. Those prospects are very good, said Mr. Sutherland after the conference. If a call is made the congressman inferred from the general that it would be for 250,000 men. In that case, West Virginia would be 1st in for her full quota, about 2,600 men. But whatever the number called for it will be pro rated among the states, and the national guard of the country will have first preference. After that other semi-military organizations, and then the individual volunteers. Mr. Sutherland, acting for Adjutant General C. D. Elliott, offered to furnish the government with a brigade at the first call, which offer was officially noted, but otherwise nothing further could be done with it, said General Andrews. He had a high commendation to the general efficiency of the West Virginia troops.
 Attending physicians say that George Rawson, Washington aviator, who has been battling for his life ever since he fell with his biplane at Spencer, W. Va., last October, is putting up the gamut of fight he has ever seen. His case is considered remarkable. Receiving a concussion of the brain and internal injuries, at the time of his fall it was believed that he would not live a day, but though unconscious for nine weeks and semi-conscious for a like period of time, he today has regained consciousness, and his mind seems clear, although naturally he is still very weak from his long siege of suffering. Thousands of West Virginians attending a fair at Spencer witnessed this thrilling accident.

Creamer Young, of Charles Town, was here to see the secretary of the treasury with the request that he be not given any duty which might be too severe for him until his health is better. MOVIE MEN ARE TO MEET IN JUNE
 Annual Exposition of Moving Picture Art Promises to Be Very Brilliant.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Five years ago the most optimistic of moving picture fans would not have predicted that the interests of the moving picture art would hold its second annual exposition the week of June 8 to 15 of this year; yet this and many other unexpected things have come to pass within the last five years. The annual exposition of the moving picture art is an established institution. It met with such universal favor last year, the managers and the National Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors were inspired to repeat it this year and announce it as an annual event.

Larger Attendance.
 They look forward to a larger attendance this year than last when over one million persons visited the exposition at the Grand Central Palace and were enthusiastic participants in all its advantages and benefits, showing such marked interest in every phase of the art set forth in the various booths that the popularity of the enterprise and its great service to the public, the manufacturers and the exhibitors. So pronounced was its recognition, that its influence spread to the other side and European interests immediately began to request its repetition and to request to reserve space for taking part in this year's exposition, now under way.
All Branches Represented.
 Every branch of the art is rapidly purchasing space in the official program, which will be a work of art, a beautiful and fitting souvenir. All the producing companies this year will have their own individual booths handsomely decorated and furnished, according to their own design.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL
 Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug.
 A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.
 Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials rich with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.
 Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.
 His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.
 The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.
 They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel. There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following their use, of castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 100 and 500 per box.
