LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift. The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected such women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken. I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has 2 million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day. Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," in plain wrapper. N.C. 128

SHAKLETON TO MAKE TEST EXPEDITION

In Glaciers of Norway to Learn How Long Ration Supply Will Last.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, May 26.—With the thoroughness which has always characterized his work, Sir Ernest Shackleton is about to make a preliminary trial expedition under Arctic conditions in the glaciers of Norway. This will be for the special purpose of testing the rations for his trip across the Antarctic continent, which he hopes to make in four and a half months time. No party ever started out, without having food depots, to make such a distance as that in a straight line, but Sir Ernest and his men have made special preparations for the attempt. "Perfect Ration?"

They have, with the aid of the Royal Army Medical Corps, evolved the "perfect ration." It will average only thirty-five ounces daily, as compared with the three pounds or more consumed by the average man, but it is believed it represents the highest nutritive value for polar travel.

Sir Ernest will be accompanied by five members of his staff when he goes to Norway to conduct experiments with these rations and also test his tents and motor sledges. The party will don polar kit and travel among the glaciers. While the cold will not be as intense as in the polar regions, the country will furnish the same sort of sudden blizzards as are experienced in the Antarctic.

The party will test the effect and potency of the rations in most detailed fashion. Such an experiment never has been made before.

Shackleton's new ship, the Endurance, has been almost completely fitted in Norway and will arrive at the London docks this month. She is eighteen feet longer than his last ship, the Nimrod. She is a beautiful specimen of wooden ship building, and probably the last of her class that will be constructed. Her whole keel is made of solid oak five and a half feet thick, and her sides are two feet thick. She belongs to the barkentine class, has the latest triple expansion engines, and will steam ten knots an hour. She is fitted to consume both oil and coal. When in the ice, oil will be substituted for coal, which will mean economy if she is delayed in the pack—as the boilers can be kept warm and full heat guaranteed quickly. When the oil has been used the tanks will be filled with water ballast. The Endurance will take on 100 tons of coal briquettes at the South Shetland Islands, so she will enter the Weddell sea with full bunkers.

The second ship, Aurora, intended for the Ross sea side of the expedition, has been purchased and will be delivered at Hobart, Tasmania, at the end of August.

To Leave in August. The Endurance, which is to operate on the opposite side of the Antarctic, will leave England early in August for Buenos Aires, whence she will finally start for the Antarctic base in October. Most of the members of the expedition will leave England in the Endurance but Sir Ernest Shackleton will travel later by mail steamer, and join his ship at Buenos Aires.

The dogs, which constitute an important factor in the expedition, are a cross between a wolf and a Scotch stag hound, and have been bred in northern Canada. The lightest of them will turn the scales at eighty pounds, whereas the heaviest dog with the last Shackleton expedition weighed forty-

ROOSEVELT (Continued from page one.) vent Roosevelt's nomination in 1912. A delegation of Pennsylvania Progressives boarded the train and rode through the city with the Colonel. To these Mr. Roosevelt told of his intentions to speak at Pittsburg. "I am in Pennsylvania now," he said, "and I am coming back and when I do I will have Dean Lewis and Pinchot with me." As he said this he slapped Dr. Lewis on the back. "I am making an enormous interest in Pennsylvania," he continued, "and that is why I am going to speak in this state." Several hundred persons greeted the Colonel at the station where he left the train to shake hands with as many as he could before the train started. There was a great shout when some one called for "three cheers for the old warhorse." Representative Hinnebaugh, chairman of the Progressive national committee, O. K. Davis, secretary of the Progressive national committee, boarded the train here for a conference on the run to Washington.

AUTHOR (Continued from page one.) French army against Germany for the Franco-Prussian war, but his services were refused, and Rlis was forced to accept a beginner's place as a reporter for a New York news bureau. At the very first he made his most conspicuous success in the study of conditions on the East Side of New York City.

With only $75 capital and notes for $75, he succeeded in buying the "South Brooklyn News," which was on the verge of bankruptcy and made such a success with the property that he was able to sell it at a considerable profit a few years later. He returned to Denmark and married the girl who had refused him when he was a carpenter's apprentice. This first wife died in 1905 and two years later Rlis married Mary Phillip, of St. Louis.

ADD RIS. As a reporter on the New York Tribune and later on the New York Sun, Rlis took up his real work in slum fighting. While attending to routine duty as a police reporter he worked day and night to arouse the people to the need of improved conditions. One of his first campaigns was against the impurity of the city water, and it was his fight that finally led to the purchase of the Croton water-shed to assure safe drinking water for New York.

He brought sunlight to the tenement district by forcing the destruction of rear tenements. He entirely cleared Malberry Bend, one of the worst tenement sections in the city, and replaced the squalid homes by shady parks.

Theodore Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York when Rlis attacked the evils of police station lodging houses. He won his point and incidentally a strong ally in Mr. Roosevelt. Rlis drove bachelors out of tenement basements; he fought for laws abolishing child labor; and was largely instrumental in getting the passage of "the briefest, wisest and best statute on the books of New York, laying down the principles that hereafter no school shall be built without an adequate playground."

After twenty-seven years as a reporter, Rlis resigned to continue his fight by writing and lecturing. Among the products of his pen are "How the Other Half Lives," "The Children of the Poor," "The Making of an American," (his autobiography), "The Battle with the Slum," "Children of the Tenements," "The Old Town," "Theodore Roosevelt, the Citizen," and "Hero Tales from the Far North."

LOCUST (Continued from page one.) appearance of the cicada in order to offer a larger twig growth and distribute by this means the damage over a greater surface.

Another precaution, when a cicada year is expected, is to defer the planting of orchards, especially in the vicinity of old orchards or forest land, until the danger is past. The same advice applies to budding or grafting operations in the fall and spring prior to the cicada's appearance. Much disappointment arising from injury to orchards or valuable nursery stock may thus be avoided.

Vigorous young trees will, it is true, often recover in three or four years from the effects of a loss of or injury to a considerable percentage of their branches, but it is difficult to overcome the unsymmetrical appearance which will commonly result from the pruning caused by the work of the insect, and the gnarled and scarified branches will long bear testimony to the industry of the female insect.

Healing the Injuries. Much of the injury occasioned by the cutting of the twigs by the female cicada in depositing her eggs can be remedied by subsequent proper treatment of the wounded plant. In the case of old trees, the main object to be secured is the rapid healing of the wounds and the prevention of their being used as points of secondary attack by other insects. The worst injured limbs in such trees should be cut out, so that all the vigor of the plant may be directed to the remaining wood. Any treatment also, as of thorough cultivation or the use of fertilizers, which will give the plant a more vigorous growth, will hasten the healing process.

With young trees the worst affected branches should be removed, and the less injured ones, protected from other insects while they are healing by coating the wounded parts with grafting wax or a moderately hard soap. These protective coverings should be removed at least once a year, preferably in the spring, until the wounds are entirely healed over. In the case of a badly injured tree that has been recently budded or grafted, it may be well to cut it back nearly to the bud or graft, so that an entirely new top may be made.
