BENSON

School Taught by Fisher Has Splendid Closing Programs of Exercises.

Benson, in Union district, is in line with the best effort in education, having the largest school library of any like school in the county, under the management of Prof. R. M. Fisher.

The graduating exercises of the new school at Benson began Sunday evening when the Rev. Mr. Stead, of Jarvisville, preached the class sermon. The Rev. Mr. Stead is a real pulpit orator, and the large audience, with the graduates, appreciated his splendid address.

Monday evening the graduating class marched from the school building to the United Brethren church, where interesting exercises took place. L. L. Bailey, an old veteran in the teaching profession, but now retired, gave the history of education in the community. Prof. Fisher spoke at some length on a wider vision and higher standards of usefulness in our system of public schools.

Superintendent A. P. Morrison made an address in which he said he had never witnessed a better school spirit. The following graduates received diplomas from Mr. Morrison: Sylvia Hitt, Goldie Hitt, Alice Jemima Bailey, Bly Bailey, Cline Bailey, Loxsie Bailey, Christopher Glenn Marts, Worthy Walker, Florie Romine, Harry Queen, William Wayne Paugh, Fay Coffindaffer and Oriel Brent Thrash.

Prof. Howard Curry joined in the exercises as three of these graduates belonged to his school. After the exercises at the church the graduates held a social hour in the school building, that the people might admire the work of the school improvement league.

The entire cost for gas lights, curtains, window shades, pictures, globe, maps, etc., was paid for by the league, including the cost of 300 new volumes for the library, which will be opened at 4 o'clock on Saturday evenings during vacation. In addition to this, Congressman Howard Sutherland has sent fifty-five splendid volumes. Congressman Neely and Senator Goff will contribute public documents.

The good people of this splendid old rural community appreciate any effort that will give their boys and girls the best chance possible.

Deacon Bailey, of the Baptist church, one of the ten brothers noted for their strong Baptist faith and their loyalty to politics of their ancestors, is not only a leader in vocal music, but a chaffeur. The chaffeur, Deacon proved to Superintendent and Prof. Fisher that he could make the ten miles to Jane Lew without much regard for the safety of his passengers, or his large Ford car either. This is a splendid community and many admired the large portrait of President Wilson which hangs in the principal's room, besides an equal sized portrait of Lincoln, whose life music ever linger in the hearts and affections of grateful people. No better beacon light for a country boy, than the kindly face of this Kentucky backwoods boy who became one of the world's great benefactors.

VARDAMAN IN WHITE; SUMMER HAS COME

Senator James K. Vardaman of Mississippi is the bellweather of the capitol at Washington in one respect at least. GREAT CONVENTION WEEK WHEN METHODISTS COME

SEASON Will Be Closed Here Thursday Night by the Celebrated Actress, Mrs. Fiske.

The appearance of Mrs. Fiske, the celebrated actress and her Manhattan company in Harry James Smith's effervescent comedy, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," Thursday night at the Robinson Grand theater here will be the last performance she will give this season.

In their private car, Mrs. Fiske and her company will arrive here at noon Thursday on the Short Line railroad from Wheeling, where they will appear tonight. Mrs. Fiske will leave Clarksburg on train No. 1 Thursday night for Detroit, Mich., where she will engage in charity work with a woman's club for two weeks, at the end of which time she will return to her home in New York City.

Much interest is being taken among Clarksburgers over this notable theatrical event and the indications are that Mrs. Fiske will be given a splendid reception by a large audience tomorrow night.

The talent for the program of the Epworth League convention is the best the country affords and the work of this convention as outlined will inspire and please all the convention goers.

From the start each session is featured, and the reception on Tuesday evening will be full of life and interest. The forenoon sessions on Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to mission and personal evangelism. The evening programs will be musical and two addresses worthy the attention of any delegate and any church man or woman of Clarksburg who can find it possible to attend.

Among the list of talent appears Dr. Ernest Wray Oneal, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Chicago. Also C. E. Guthrie, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a man of unusual power as a speaker.

D. L. Marsh, D. D., of the Pittsburgh Conference, a man who interests all who hear him, and the speaker who will address the convention Wednesday and Thursday forenoons on the subject of "Personal Evangelism."

Mrs. Frye, of New York, will have charge of the Junior Epworth League conference and all the Sunday school workers of Clarksburg working in the primary departments may find these conferences of interest and are cordially invited to attend.

The first afternoon, Wednesday, will be devoted to outdoor recreation, and Thursday afternoon a great baseball game will be played between West Virginia Wesleyan, of Buckhannon, and Ohio Wesleyan, of Delaware, O. Both teams have a high standing and a strong athletic organization back of them. Coupled with the college spirit, the fact that hundreds of young people from all over the state will be on the ground cheering for Wesleyan (Buckhannon) boys, and the delegation from Buckhannon, promises a great day for Clarksburg. This game will attract state wide attention and the officers of Conference League are constantly revealing notice of large delegations intending to come to Clarksburg on Thursday from the surrounding towns and cities of the Monongahela valley and even as far out as Parkersburg.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the league of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city for the reception and entertainment of the conference.

The program book will not only be

An excellent souvenir of the convention but a good advertiser of our city throughout the state, as considerable care has been taken to make it a book of value from a convention standpoint, using the best of paper, cuts and giving fifty-two pages of information nowhere else to be secured. Unsolicited the state officers have prepared a write up of Clarksburg and given it the proper place in the program book.

The League of West Virginia has made great gains in the last two years, a total senior membership gain of over 1,000. The league is securing an endowment fund of $30,000 for Wesleyan College at Parkersburg and this accounts for the spirit and enthusiasm manifested by the college boys and girls in the coming convention.

The Harvard plan has been adopted as the method of entertainment of the delegates. No restrictions are placed as to the number of delegates any league can send to the convention. The order from the conference officers to the pastors and leagues all over the state is to send as many as will come.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will leave tomorrow morning for Parkersburg to attend the funeral, the exact time of which is not yet known.
