THREE FOREIGNERS

Are Sentenced to Work on Streets for Being Disorderly.

Joe Puskey, Paul Cavinsky and George Moluskey, all Slavs, were sentenced to work today on the city streets by Mayor Will H. Cole in police court this morning on charges of being drunk and insulting women in the street. Hill was arrested last evening by Officers Davison and White in Glen Elk, while in the midst of a lively three-cornered fight. All were said to be drunk.

TEN DAYS

Is Given A. E. Hill for Being Drunk and Insulting Ladies.

A. E. Hill, of Bridgeport, was sentenced to serve ten days with the city street force by Mayor Will H. Cole in police court this morning on charges of being drunk and insulting women in the street. Hill was arrested last evening by Officers Davison and White after he was said to have made affectionate remarks to passing women in the street.

"STAR-SPANGLED BANNER" FRANCIS SCOTT KEY SAW "THROUGH DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT" IS BEING RESTORED AT WASHINGTON.

One hundred years ago during the War of 1812, while the British were storming Fort M'Henry, near Baltimore, Md., Francis Scott Key received his inspiration to write the words of "The Star-Spangled Banner." The flag which he saw floating over the fort "through the dawn's early light" is now in the National Museum at Washington, where it is being restored to be placed on exhibition. It was made in the house which stands at 60 Albemarle street, Baltimore, by Mrs. Mary Pickersgill, and measures twenty-nine by thirty-two feet. Its presence in the National Museum is the result of its donation by Mr. Eben Appleton of New York, a descendant of Col. George Armistead, whose gallant defense of old Fort M'Henry occupies a prominent place in American history.

WASHINGTON'S FAMOUS MARCH TO BE MARKED

By a Special Pilgrimage under Auspices of the Sons of the American Revolution.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The route which Washington covered in his journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge in 1776 to take command of the American army will be marked by a special pilgrimage under the auspices of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, starting from Philadelphia next week.

Trip by Autos.

"The clattering cavalcade," which escorted General Washington to Cambridge, and which Irving has said "was the gaze and wonder of every town and village," took nine days to make a hurry journey which could easily be accomplished by rail today between breakfast and dinner, but the proposed pilgrimage will be a leisurely one by automobiles, starting as Washington did on June 23, and concluding with ceremonies at Cambridge on July 3—the day Washington took formal command of the army.

Wall Street Celebration.

The reading of these documents will be part of the celebration which the Sons of the Revolution will conduct at the sub-treasury on Wall street, which was the site of the meeting place of the Provincial Congress, on Friday, June 26. A feature will also be an address by former President General C. A. Fugatey. A banquet will be held in New York that evening, to be addressed by the present president, general, Rogers Clark Ballard Thurston, of Louisville, Ky.

Received No Pay.

The idea was presented by the George Washington Chapter of Springfield, Mass., at the congress of the national society in Chicago in May last year, and it was resolved that it be carried out, with Henry F. Punderson, of Springfield, as chief marshal of the pilgrimage. A committee of members from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts was appointed to co-operate.

Present Party Will Proceed on Monday, June 29.

The present party will proceed on Monday, June 29, to Wethersfield, visiting the home of Silas Dean, where Washington was entertained, and halt for the night at Hartford. At Springfield the next day a tablet will be placed on the site of Parson's tavern, where Washington stopped. On Wednesday the journey will be continued through Palmer and Brookfield to Worcester, and the posals that he should be allowed $500 a month for his pay and expenses was adopted by the Congress, but he contended that he desired no pay. He would keep an account of his expenses and these only should be met by Congress.

On the night of June 22, the hurried arrangements for Washington's departure had been completed, and a farewell dinner was given in his honor at Philadelphia. In commemoration of this event Sons of the Revolution will hold a banquet at Philadelphia on the night of June 22, and start as Washington did, the next morning for New York.

His Escort.

The Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse, whose standard was the first flag on which thirteen stripes appeared emblematic of the thirteen colonies, acted as Washington's escort. The first night's stop is believed to have been at Trenton, where the automobile pilgrimage will also stop. The dedication of historic tablets will be part of the exercises here, as it will be at practically every place where the party stops.

By way of New Brunswick and other New Jersey points the party will move on to New York, timing their arrival to fit that of Washington at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of June 25.

The tablet will be placed at the site of Col. Anthony Lispenard's residence, where Washington landed after crossing the Hudson from Hoboken. This is in the vicinity of the present Canal street, in what is now part of the downtown section of New York, but which was then outside of the settled portions of the city.

Washington moved on toward Boston on June 26, as the pilgrimage will do, presumably over the old post road, halting for the night at Kingsbridge, and continuing next day to Fairfield. The Washington party arrived in New Haven June 28, and reviewed a military company of Yale students on the Green. Washington lodged that night "at the house of the late Isaac Beers," corner of Chapel and College streets, at the site of which, now occupied by a hotel, the present pilgrims will dedicate a memorial tablet.

The present party will proceed on Monday, June 29, to Wethersfield, visiting the home of Silas Dean, where Washington was entertained, and halt for the night at Hartford.
