LONDON, May 10.—"Why fear death? It is the most beautiful adventure in life" were the last words of Charles Frohman before he went down with the Lusitania, according to Miss Rita Jolivet, an American actress with whom he was talking calmly just before the end came. Miss Jolivet, who was among the survivors taken to Queenstown, said she and Mr. Frohman were standing on deck and the Lusitania heeled over. They decided not to trust themselves to life boats although Mr. Frohman believed the ship was doomed. It was after reaching this decision that he declared that he had no fear of death.

BOMBS DROPPED ON TWO CITIES

By German Aircraft and Ships Are Burned in the Town of Leigh in England.

LONDON, May 10.—Two airships are reported to have dropped bombs on Westcliff-on-Sea near South End but no fatalities have been reported.

Warning of the approach of hostile aircraft was given South End at 2:52 this morning. Several ships took part in the raid but whether they were Zeppelins or aeroplanes the residents were unable to state as the weather was cloudy.

Bombs struck houses in various parts of the town but no deaths have been reported. One man and his wife were badly burned in a fire started by an incendiary bomb. One resident told of three bombs dropping near his home, none of which caused damage. It is reported that several shops were burned at Leigh, a town near South End. Four Zeppelins are said to have dropped forty or fifty bombs there.

Sixty bombs were dropped by the aircraft at South End but most of them fell on the beach or in other places where they exploded harmlessly. One bomb dropped near a ship on which were 1,200 German civilians who had been interned. A British aeroplane went in pursuit and drove the hostile craft out to sea. A report was received from Romford that a Zeppelin had been seen in that neighborhood apparently in difficulty but whether in consequence of an unfavorable wind or having been hit was unknown.

Street Paving Nearly Done and It Will Never Have to Be Torn Up.

Cecil B. Highland's new addition, purchased from Senator Nathan Goff, will be up-to-date and the best lighted property in West Virginia. The lights will be of the same quality used in large cities and of ornamental type.

The street car company is busy transferring all of its wires from the wooden poles to the iron poles and there will be no wooden poles erected on any of the streets. The gas company has already removed all of its lines that were in the streets and the alleys. All of the companies furnishing gas, street car service, light, etc., are co-operating with Mr. Highland to make this new addition one of the nicest and most up to date of any property ever put on the market. As all these service lines have been removed to the alleys the streets will not have to be torn up and it will not be necessary for any poles, except the iron ones, to be placed on any part of the streets.

BATTLE

In Its First Stages Completed with 100,000 or More Russians Taken Prisoners.

PRESS HEADQUARTERS OF THE AUSTRIAN ARMY, Western Galicia, by way of London, May 10.—The first stages of the battle of West Galicia have been virtually concluded. The victorious troops under the German General von Mackensen, after successfully breaking through all three fortified lines of the Russian front, are assembling or reforming for a new offensive. They are bringing forward supplies and munitions in their rapid advance and also are using the interval to gather the captured Russians behind their present front and seek for abandoned guns and other spoils of war in the mountain forests. Seventy thousand prisoners already have been brought in. The number of prisoners in this part of the battle in Galicia will be increased, it is estimated here, by 30,000. Between sixty and seventy guns have been captured.

The second stage of the operations is beginning further to the east, the second Austro-Hungarian army having stormed the crest of the Carpathians on the northern slope between Lupkow and Uzkos passes and driven before it with vehemence the eighth Russian army under General Brusiloff. Every advance of the Austro-German forces shortens the battle front by liberating troops for use elsewhere and at the same time increasing the confusion along the Russian lines of retreat.

NORWEGIAN RALLY.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 10.—Norwegians of the Southwest will rally at the San Diego exposition on May 16 and 17 for the celebration of the Norwegian national holiday, the second of these two days. ### MANY TO BE BURIED IN NAMELESS GRAVES IN OLD QUEENSTOWN

While the Americans Identified Are Taken from Morgue to Offices of Company.

MR. FROHMAN'S SECRETARY Arrives and Takes Charge of His Body and Will Bring It to America.

LONDON, May 10.—The Central News has received a dispatch from its correspondent from Genoa who says a telegram has been received there from Munich saying that the German submarine, U-33, was responsible for the sinking of the Lusitania.

COMPLETE CONFIDENCE IN CAPTAIN TURNER

LIVERPOOL, May 10.—Charles Booth, chairman of the Cunard Steamship Company, today gave the following signed statement to the Associated Press:

"With reference to statements by Lusitania passengers, I shall not attempt to draw any conclusion until the facts are known, and I, therefore, deprecate criticism which can be based only on assumption. In the meanwhile I can only state that I have complete confidence in Captain Turner's judgment."

AMERICANS' BODIES ARE BEING TAKEN CARE OF

QUEENSTOWN, Eng., May 10.—Beginning at noon today at Consul Frost's orders, the bodies of the identified Americans, killed when the Lusitania was torpedoed last Friday, covered with the Stars and Stripes, were removed from the morgue and placed on side by side in the Cunard offices through the streets by British sailors, the crowd uncovered their heads. Cheap brown coats contained the bodies of Charles Frohman, Isaac Trumbull, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Henry Macdonald, of New York; Charles Stevens, of Atlantic City; Dr. F. S. Pearson, of New York; D. Walker, of New York; Dr. Pearson's secretary, Mrs. McBride, Hugh Compton, 17 years old; C. T. Broderick, of Boston; Herbert Ellis, of New York, and Mrs. Spillman, of Detroit.

Mr. Frohman's secretary arrived today to take charge of his employer's body. One of the survivors tonight identified the body of Mrs. R. D. Shyrow of New York, the American widow of an English nobleman, who subsequently married an American and was on the way to England. Her body will be sent back to the United States as well as those of the others, some of them starting tonight. A whole company of British soldiers today completed the digging of three large graves, each twenty by thirty feet, in which the 140 odd unidentified dead will be buried tomorrow. The moving of the bodies up the hill to the cemetery will begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 1:30 p. m. The last ten or a dozen move to the cemetery the funeral procession will form and march to the grave. There will be a general service, clergymen of all creeds joining in saying prayers. Mounted police, soldiers and civilians will participate.

Many children and little babies still lie in the morgue like so many dolls. The townspeople covered them flowers today and it is probable these little ones will be placed in a grave together. Some on crutches, many limping and nearly all bruised, the survivors left their hotels.

In Silent Groups all afternoon. There were some Americans, many Canadians and some English. The presence of so many children on the Lusitania was due to the fact that Canadian women were going to England to join their relatives while their husbands were at the front.

Not a single body was brought in today from the spot where the Lusitania disappeared, but some may yet be found if a storm does not scatter them. There will not be so many picked up, however, as was the case in the north Atlantic after the Titanic disaster for that vessel remained adrift so long all on deck had ample time to carefully adjust life belts.

The news of his father's death came as a surprise to the Rev. Mr. Workman as he had just received a letter from him stating that he was in his usual good health and that when he came to Charleston this week to attend the Sunday school convention he would come home with him for a visit.

The deceased man is survived by three sons and two daughters. The sons are the Rev. H. B. Workman, of Mt. Clare; the Rev. J. B. Workman, of Diamond Street Methodist Episcopal church at Fairmont, and A. H. Workman of Huntington. The sisters are Mrs. P. W. Smith, of Huntington, and Mrs. J. W. Parks, of Seattle, Wash.

NOTED PLAYWRIGHT WAS ON LUSITANIA

Charles Klein, the noted playwright, was one of the passengers on the Lusitania. "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Third Degree" are his best known plays.

Charles Klein.

There are many ways in which you can sin against the Holy Spirit. You can tempt him to slay, or withdraw himself from you as He did of old. You can lie to Him. You can grieve Him. Grieve not the Holy Spirit. You can harden your heart against Him. The warning of the word is: "Today, if you hear his voice, harden not your hearts." Some of you have heard Him pleading, coaxing, begging, trying to lead you to Jesus Christ and you have turned your heart of flesh into stone.

ROSE NOT TAKEN DECLARES WOLF

Gassaway Murderer Pushed a B. & O. Policeman Off Train and Took to Woods.

As the train was pulling away from the station there, W. G. Gibson, a member of the Baltimore and Ohio police force, climbed aboard. Rose suspected the officer in his brass but turned blue uniform was coming toward to arrest him, and the minute Gibson put his foot upon the top step of the passenger coach, Rose rushed at him, knocked him off and jumped off upon him. Holding the policeman at bay with a revolver, Rose backed away into the woods and escaped. The train went on but soon stopped, backed up and took the officer aboard.

Sheriff Stout's bloodhounds did splendid work all the time they were on Rose's trail and it was through their ability that the posse was enabled to keep track of the fleeing man.

Sunday was another big day at the tabernacle. Beginning with a mammoth Sunday school demonstration Sunday morning when all the amazing Sunday schools of the city marched in a body to the tabernacle and a special service was held for them and closing with a big mass meeting at night, it was undoubtedly the biggest day of the campaign yet held. The afternoon meeting for men only attracted many and the message, "A Losing Game," was a live one and given in a live way.

Sunday night Evangelist Hamilton preached on the "Unpardonable Sin" and it was one of the most vital messages of the meeting. It was United Commercial Travelers' night, and the members of the organization turned out in gratifying numbers.

A glance at the week's program as given in this issue of the Telegram will show a lot of interesting things to come off during the next few days. There will be delegations and special services every night this week.

The Unpardonable Sin. Matthew 12: 31, 32. "Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: But the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come."

There is no subject aside from heaven and hell which arouses such deep concern and interest among the unsaved people as the unpardonable sin. It strikes terror to their hearts. It comes to the lost like a sound of a fog horn to a drifting vessel in the midst of hidden and dangerous rocks in the sea. I have heard a good many sermons on this subject. I have gone away feeling that the grace of God is for all, that salvation is for all, and yet many are sinning against God and themselves that they shall never lay hold on eternal life.

Many Forms of Sin. There are many ways in which you can sin against the Holy Spirit. You can tempt him to slay, or withdraw himself from you as He did of old. You can lie to Him. You can grieve Him. Grieve not the Holy Spirit. You can harden your heart against Him. The warning of the word is: "Today, if you hear his voice, harden not your hearts." Some of you have heard Him pleading, coaxing, begging, trying to lead you to Jesus Christ and you have turned your heart of flesh into stone. You can resist Him. While the angry mob was facing Stephen and he was hurling the truth at them, he cried, "Ye do always resist the Holy Spirit." That has been true of many of you. Some of you have been resisting and resisting as He has been striving to bring you to salvation. You have set your wills and hardened your hearts and you have recklessly said "no," in the face of Jesus Christ.

Mistakes of Youth. I know many who have committed unpardonable sins against themselves by saying things or not saying things, by doing or not doing things. Many are mourning over the mistakes of youth. When they had the hands, the heart, the feet and the opportunity of youth, they let those opportunities pass and they are gone forever. Those mistakes can never be righted. The Lord has promised forgiveness, but against themselves they hold the charge of folly never to be forgiven. I knew a mother of a large family.
