SATURDAY, MAY 29, 1915.

An Evening Echo. The secret of success lies in embracing every opportunity by seeking high and right ends, and in never forgetting the golden rule of catch-up.

Whether Roosevelt really said he was the man to "rip up" Wilson or not it is true, and he will have a chance to demonstrate it next year.

The Wisconsin anti-treatment law permits one to offer reinforcements to his relatives only. That's the way a good many Democrats feel about federal patronage.

The New York Mail declares that Roosevelt has not "come back." He "was never out," it says.

Hemphill, of South Carolina, rushes into print to defend John Skelton Williams, who he says, "would rather fight than eat."

The Houston Post does not regard with favor the attempts of McAdoo and Williams to have the Riggs bank suit dismissed on a legal technicality.

The president and the vice-president seem to be at odds in their opinion in the Lusitania matter.

Dr. Dernberg has decided that this is no time for him to continue talking. Now, what kind of incident can be framed up to put a stopper on Jim Ham Lewis?

Laughing Stock. It took a lot of persistent and consistent effort on the part of such statesmen as John Hay, Elihu Root and Philander C. Knox to bring the American diplomatic service to a standard of excellence that aroused pride at home and commanded respect abroad.

The disgraceful incident in connection with the short-lived appointment to St. Petersburg was but an introduction to other misfit appointments.

Wasteful Woodrow. "In one field of executive activity Mr. Wilson has broken all records," observes the New York Tribune.

It is not surprising that Mr. Wilson recently told an audience of his contempt for newspaper opinion, for newspaper opinion has been telling him a few unpleasant truths of late.

Incidentally, the volume of such opinion is steadily growing.

In July, 1912, the convention at Baltimore which nominated Mr. Wilson under the direction of Mr. Bryan, included in its platform that well-remembered plank which so tearfully deplores the extravagance and wastefulness of the Republican administration and so ardently pledges the Democrats to a regime of strict economy. There are promises of the speedy expulsion from the platform of of unimpeachable useless officeholders, of a program of reform and retrenchment, of thrift, prudence and eternal watchfulness.

The chairman of the appropriation committee of both House and Senate admit that there will be a big treasury deficit for the year ending June 30, next. In all probability it will be more than $20,000,000.

The income tax has failed to make good the falling off in the revenues resultant from the application of the Underwood tariff bill. In addition we have now a deficiency tax, masquerading under the name of "war tax," which is estimated to cost the nation $100,000,000 a year.

Apparently the administration is to beget as celebrated for its spendthrift finances as it is for its grape-juice diplomacy.

New Freedom at Work. There are figures in the department of commerce, the very headquarters of speech-made prosperity, which give a very dark view to the vista of new freedom to which the president pointed so enthusiastically.

For the first two years of Mr. Wilson's administration there were 35,000 commercial failures, says the Philadelphia Press. This number is some ten thousand in excess of similar failures during the first two years of the Taft administration.

The liabilities involved in the commercial failures during the first two years of the Wilson administration amounted to seven hundred and sixty millions of dollars.

The liabilities involved in the failures occurring the first year of the Wilson administration exceeded by seventy million dollars the amount of liabilities involved in the failures occurring during the last year of the Taft administration.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

Perhaps that explosion in Syracuse was caused by the great change in temperature due to the end of the Barnes-Roosevelt melee.

Plenty of Help. If the president feels the need of aid in keeping the one-term pledge he will find plenty of help among voters who are out of their usual occupation.

Ought To. A Chicago professor is writing a life of Job in the volumes. The person who reads it ought to learn a whole lot of patience.

Hardly. It will be noticed that in both Japan and England the elder statesmen have got together.

Why Not? Sir John Fisher, business Winston Churchill for the sinking of the Ocean, irresistible and other ships in the Dardanelles.

Not Much Further. The modern woman is far outstrips any of her forebears, says a suffragist.

Draw the Line. We are willing to recognize Ehmington as a progressive rival of Wheeling, but we are forced to draw the line when papers like the Herald-Dispatch refer to citizens of Egan.

Rich Are Lucky. Luck is always with the rich. Young John D. Rockefeller can dodge committee summonses, yet we have known men sit around the court house a year to get on a jury.

Home Rule. Many a man who knows home rule from experience would rather live in a province and be ruled by the tyrant hand of an antipodal emperor than to stay at home and kowtow to his 118-pound wife.

Preparation. We have the wonderful advantage of being a long distance away from the other great nations, but we must remember that distance is being rapidly conquered by modern inventions.

Winston Churchill. Winston Churchill is to be superseded as Great Britain's Lord of the Admiralty.

Young Women. When is a woman no longer a young woman has been settled in Boston through the intervention of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

Travellette. A woman who is over thirty she is not a young woman. That is a cruel and unnecessary judgment.

Yulin. Few white persons have ever penetrated to the town of Yulin, in the Chinese province of Shensi.

Yulin by train to Ch'ungking, and from this town the journey must be continued on mule back.

It takes eleven days to traverse the 225 miles between Talyuen and Yulin. Camp is made at night, for the country is attractive.

Yulin is situated against the Great Wall in the north end of Shensi. Extensions from the wall partially enclose it at either end.

The temples at Yulin have been sacred shrines for centuries, and every year religious festivals are held which are attended by pilgrims, coming many miles.

Upon the last day of the festival a slave market is held in front of this temple. The slaves are young girls from eight to twelve years old.

The priests of the temple are less austere than those of many of the interior Chinese temples.

Now tell me, isn't it true, That graters all do you? They do, they do—boo—boo!

OIL AND GAS

Neither the size nor the respective locations of the late completions in the West Virginia or southern Ohio fields attract attention.

On Bonds creek, in McKim district, Pleasant county, Hall and Company have drilled a test on the Big Injun sand and have a gas gasser.

In Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled a second test on the W. Lynch farm through the salt sand and found it barren.

In Spencer district, Roane county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. West farm through the Big Injun sand and has a duster.

In Greenbrier district, Doddridge county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled No. 8 on the Starkey farm in the Big Injun sand and has a very tight pumper.

In Union district, Harrison county, the Hope Natural Gas Company is drilling a test on the R. W. Golden farm in the Big Injun sand.

On the Ohio side in the Jackson Run district, Monroe county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has put its test on the Henry Barnett farm.

In the Woodfield district, Summit township, Monroe county, E. Simpson and Company are due to the sand at a test on the Stempert farm.

In the Union Furnace district, the Carter Oil Company has drilled a test on the J. West farm through the Big Injun sand and has a duster.

In the same district, the Algoma Oil and Gas Company has the rig completed for a test on the G. W. Gandy farm.

In the same district, the United Fuel Gas Company has the rig completed for a test on the J. A. Alley farm.

In the same district, the Big Creek Development Company is starting quite a little new work.
