MISS NANSEN STARS TODAY AT ORPHEUM

Great Emotional Actress Appears in Film Version of Broadway Success.

The great emotional actress, Miss Betty Nansen, appears in her brilliant Broadway success, "Acquitted," in five acts at the Orpheum theater today. This is the greatest role ever attempted by Miss Nansen and her characterization is alive with delicacy and feeling.

Tomorrow, "The Cup of Life," a Mutual masterpiece in five thrilling acts, will be the special offering. It is a vivid picture.

MARRIED ON STAGE OF PALACE THEATER

den City Four" and Alice is the winning soubrette of the Ackerman company.

George and Alice Sohn, a popular couple now appearing at the Palace theater with the Ackerman Musical Comedy Company, were married on the Palace stage two years ago, at which time a big reception was tendered them by employes of the theater and others. They were with the Billy Allen Musical Comedy Company at the time. George is the able baritone of "The Garden City Four" and Alice is the winning soubrette of the Ackerman company.

ALICE SOHN

and Francis Ford are also shown. Clifton Crawford plays the part of the war correspondent in the film version of Richard Harding Davis' "The Galloper."

Nance O'Neil returns to the Robinson Grand today as "Princess Romanoff" in William Fox's notable dramatic Victorian Sardou's notable dramatic success "Fedora." It is a well known fact that Miss O'Neil is a remarkable emotional actress and with her wonderful personality she depicts the character of the "Princess Romanoff" so delightfully that there is not a dull moment throughout the entire play. A very entertaining subject on today's program is "You Know Me Al," taken from Ring W. Lardner's stories in the Saturday Evening Post.

A theater crowded to its capacity three consecutive nights is the best guarantee that could be given to comedy now appearing at the Palace. The play today is "A King from Tokio," and it features "The Garden City Four" quartette and a chorus of singers.

Tomorrow, the Ackerman Musical Comedy Company will offer a screamingly funny farce entitled "The Battle of the Nations." This bill is filled with humorous situations, which keep the audience smiling all the time. It is replete with musical numbers, costumes and scenic effects.

George Levy, Harry Levin and Jack Sexton handle the giggles in a clever manner and bites will positively disappear as each in his different character representing different nations is an artist.

"The Garden City Four" is again heard in a complete change of quartet selection that never fails to please.

The photoplay offerings today include "The Lorelei Madonna," a Broadway Star Vitagraph production in three parts. A young artist finds his ideal in the person of a modern Lorelei and social parasite, "Her Mother's Secret," a high class society drama, is also shown.

Margaret Anglin has a new play by a California dramatist which will be produced in San Francisco. It is as yet unnamed.

"Lonesome Jake at the Junction" presented by the Zarrow Musical Comedy Company, at the Odeon theater, pleased large audiences there daily. A number of new musical numbers are introduced by Miss Lillian Ziegler. The novelty dance by Lewis and Root makes a big hit and they are forced to respond to several encores. Jack Fugazy the popular blackface comedian, takes the part of Lonesome Jake and he is certainly a scream. Some exceptionally pretty song numbers are introduced by Miss Beulah Fugazy and the chorus.

The pictures for today are exceptionally good and include a musical comedy entitled "A Night's Lodging," "The Great Lone Hand," a Lubin drama, featuring Romaine Fielding; and "Cartoons in a Hotel," one of the animated grouch chasers.

There will be a change of program tomorrow. A three reel drama written by Nell Shipman under the title "The King's Keeper" is this week occupying the attention of Joseph De Grasse and his company of Rex players. In order to get certain desired effects, the company is soon to leave the Universal City studios for a stay of ten days in the mountains surrounding Bear Lake seven thousand feet above the sea. Cleo Madison, Arthur Shirley and Lon Chaney appear in the leading roles.

Miss Blanche Sweet, the famous moving picture star, will be seen at the Robinson Grand Friday and Saturday in "The Avenging Conscience," produced by D. W. Griffith, in six reels. A screen version of Edgar Allan Poe's poem, "The Telltale Heart."

In addition to Miss Sweet, the cast includes Henry B. Walthall, Spottswood Altwen, George Seigman and Ralph Lewis. "The Avenging Conscience" is a drama of mind, exposing the extremes of penitence and remorse inflicted by his guilty conscience upon a young man whose hands are stained with blood. It may be described as a "mystery story," but not in the ordinary sense of the word. Mr. Griffith has absorbed the whole spirit of Edgar Allan Poe, and reflected it in this stirring and masterful photodrama. In no other film has there ever been pictured so clearly the inner conscience of man, as has been so vividly portrayed in this Griffith production.

"Our Children," by Louis K. Anspacher, is to be produced with Emmett Corrigan, Arthur Lewis, Albert Bruning and Christine Herman in the cast.
