

On the Main Floor Friday Begins the Semi-Annual Sale of Silks

To Be Continued the Next Day

Sales and Silks
 For thirteen years we have been holding Fall Silk Sales. Some years' sales from the customers' standpoint, have been good, some have been better. This Autumn Sale, we believe, will prove this the best ever. It is certainly better in merchandise. There are larger quantities of it—and the qualities are better. The only real advantage we have in providing for these sales is in the potential influence of our large and larger purchases from sources of supply. All rebounding to the benefit of our customers and likewise ourselves.

Already Fall's gowns are planned, already hundreds of women have the fascination business under way. And it is to be more than ever a season of silks; wonderful, soft and gleaming silks, beautiful in their richness, lovely of color and texture. The most recent advices from fashion centers till of silks silks, silks everywhere.

Our new silks are true in fashions—and our staple silks are as dependable as a gold bond, and we stand back of every yard.

Great purchases have brought low prices; great purchases because we are sure of a great silk season, and great distributing power makes lower prices possible. Here is a list of some of the things we will have ready Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

NOTICE

Rumors have been circulated within the last few days that Clarksburg Typographical Union, Local No. 372, has taken away union employees and the union label from the newspaper known as The Clarksburg American, published by Charles O. Fluharty.

In justice to the union the following statement of facts is made: When the American was established Mr. Fluharty applied for and signed a contract and was furnished with union employees by this local. A few days ago Mr. Fluharty voluntarily surrendered the labels to a member of the union, saying that he was unable to comply with union conditions. The union endeavored to get him to continue to conduct a union shop, but was unable to obtain any satisfaction.

PERIOD FURNITURE
 The popular furniture this fall will be Period Furniture. These styles have been named either for the noted designer of for the prominent ruler at the time they were introduced. These old styles are the new styles today. Everybody wants them.

SHERATON
 The Sheraton Period style has come into marked favor in recent years. It was originated in the eighteenth century by Thomas Sheraton, an English designer, who produced a combination of lightness and grace in his cabinet work which makes this particular style unusually attractive for modern room settings. The straight tapering legs and the inlaid bands of satin wood are its chief characteristics.

ADAM
 Robert and Jane Adam were famous English designers of furniture of the eighteenth century. Reproductions of their masterpieces for the royal family of London are very popular now. Classical mouldings, festoons of drapery, scathing leaf, delicate fluting and the hand carved husk produced a very pleasing combination.

 In this style, the simple, yet beautiful lines of the 17th century period are featured by twisted rope effects, used in the supports and stretchers, as well as in the beautifully moulded and carved drawer fronts. The introduction of cane adds a very artistic touch to the design.
