KNOWN DEAD AND MISSING NOW NUMBER 662 PERSONS

BRITISH PRESS IS URGING GREECE TO STRIKE FIRST

BRITISH LOSE SOME GROUND
Series of Engagements of the French Do Not Alter Conditions Very Much.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—It is reported from Athens that Bulgarian troops from Sofia are moving in the direction of the Serbian frontier and that other forces are being despatched toward the Greek border.
It is believed the principal point of concentration will be along the upper Stryama river, southwest of Sofia, near the Serbian border.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The situation on the eastern front is still regarded in London as of the greatest immediate importance, notwithstanding the new offensive in the West. To transfer the center of gravity of the war to the western front is the task now before the French and British.
The menacing attitude of Bulgaria doubtless is having a marked bearing on the activity of the allies in France and Belgium, for increasing pressure on the German line would exert a decided influence on plans of the Austrians and Germans to concentrate a heavy force on the Serbian frontier, should they commit themselves to a fresh campaign in the Balkans with the assistance of Bulgaria. That nation now occupies, as Foreign Secretary Grey phrased it yesterday the position Turkey held during those weeks of uncertainty before it cast its lot openly with the central powers.
Some sections of the British press are urging Greece and the allies to strike quickly the instant it is determined that diplomacy is no longer able to avert a crisis.
"To wait until Bulgaria actually moves," says the Manchester Guardian, "is to surrender the strategic initiative to her."
Special despatches from Petrograd all speak of the improvement of the Russian positions although there has been no noteworthy change on the eastern front for some days.
With the exception of some ground lost the British are clinging tenaciously to the positions wrested from the Germans. The series of engagements of the French front has not altered conditions appreciably.

TEUTON ARMY SMALLER THAN WAS REPORTED
PARIS, Oct. 2.—Reports originating in various places that an immense number of German and Austrian troops have been concentrated on the Serbian front appear to have been greatly exaggerated in the light of advices received here.
These reports gave the size of the Teutonic army as 200,000 to 600,000 men, who, it was represented, were ready to hack away to Constantinople. It is now known that only about 60,000 men are threatening Serbia.

A yacht valued at $5,000 and owned by Mrs. E. Schickluna here has been submerged and it is feared will be a total loss. The river is rising at the rate of one foot an hour.

Snbmarine Program Will Be Abandoned By the United States

New Naval Bill Will Be for Continued Additions to the Dreadnaught Fleet.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The American naval policy for the coming year tentative plans for which recognize the sudden development of submarine warfare, with provision for a large number of undersea boats, will be very broadly affected by the British admiralty's development of successful means for combatting the submarine peril.
Confidential reports to the United States government, disclosing that destruction of from fifty to seventy German submarines had been effected by the use of nets, submarine telephones, new types of mines and by covering the submarine area with a fleet of thousands of high speed motor boats armed with rapid-fire guns, have fulfilled the conviction of American naval experts that means would be found to successfully combat undersea warfare. Likewise the reports have reaffirmed the faith of American experts in all big gun ships—the dreadnaughts—as the effective fighting force of any navy.
One immediate departure of this newest lesson drawn from the European war probably will be provision in the new naval bill for continued additions to the dreadnaught fleet instead of building submarines on such an extensive scale as had been desired by many.

Tetric's Mouthpiece Engages in Some More Mean Pin-Head Politics

More of the meanest pin-head politics, characteristic of the Exponent ever since W. Guy Tetric, former Democratic county clerk and disappointed politician who was not only turned down by his party for re-nomination but also overwhelmingly "sold-showered" by the citizens of Clarksburg at the last mayoralty election, is attempted over the appointment of a court house janitor. That sheet ever since Tetric took charge of it has strained at gnats and swallowed camels. Every little street, alley, loose brick or such like that has come to the consideration of the city council has been made the basis of the lowest type of politics by the Exponent under its present management, giving every evidence that Tetric's sour grapes are becoming more bitter.

BRITONS SAY OUR EXPORTS ARE GREATER

Great Britain's Answer to Reports of Interference Reaches State Department.
GERMAN AGENTS BLAMED
Figures Are Given to Sustain England's Denial of the Reported Interference.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Great Britain's answer to reports widely circulated in this country that it has been interfering with legitimate trade of the United States with neutral European nations for the benefit of its own exporters is given in a note handed to Ambassador Page at London by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister, and made public last night by the state department. Data and figures are quoted to prove that where British exports and re-ports have increased the growth of similar trade from the United States has been many times as large, while in many cases there have been vast increases of American exports compared with decreases in those from the United Kingdom.

The note, which is in response to the British ambassador's report of a reference at the state department to the unfavorable impression created here by reports of increases in British trade with northern European countries since the war began, suggests also that statements concerning Great Britain's policy have been inspired by German agents.
August 13 is the date of the document, which was transmitted by mail instead of by cable. It follows, with certain statistical tables omitted:
"I have the honor to refer to the memorandum which you were good enough to communicate on the June 3, last, in which you informed me of the desire of the United States consul with figures showing the amount of raw cocoa and preparations of cocoa exported from Great Britain to Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Italy during the four months ending April 30, 1915, as compared with the same period in 1914 and 1913. Your excellency will remember that I had the honor to communicate to you tabular statement of these figures on the 16th ultimo.
His Majesty's ambassador at Washington reported on July 22 that the acting councillor of the state department had referred in conversation to the unfavorable impression created at Washington by reports as to the increase in British exports to northern European neutral ports since the outbreak of war received from Mr. Consul General Skinner, these reports having given figures showing increases in the British exports of some commodities to these countries. I am therefore communicating to Sir C. Spring Rice statistics showing what the exports of the United Kingdom were in comparison with those of the United States during the first five months of this year, in order that this impression may be removed as soon as possible but as I hear that statements no doubt inspired by German agents are being circulated in America to the effect that His Majesty's government is trying to stop the legitimate trade of the United States

"Therefore, the undersigned citizens respectfully request the appointment or employment of a competent janitor, and if necessary an assistant janitor, whose duties it shall be to keep the court house of the county in a sanitary condition.
"And we further request the appointment of Aaron Wilson as janitor, and Floyd C. Robinson as assistant janitor."
The names of the signers of the petition are as follows in the order in which they were written to the petition:
Roy E. Parrish, W. A. Meredith, P. R. Cost, Howard Robinson, J. M. Deem, Henry C. Robinson, L. J. Davison, F.

INDUSTRIAL PLAN DULY GIVEN MINERS

Junior Rockefeller Makes a Friendly Address before Miners in Meeting.
PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 2.—The Rockefeller industrial plan was unfolded today at a meeting of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company officers, mine superintendents and the grievance committee elected by the miners at eighteen Colorado coal camps. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in a speech to the delegates explained the provisions of the system devised by himself and W. L. MacKenzie King, in collaboration with President J. F. Welborn and other officers of the company for settling the relations of capital and labor. The meeting was held in the club room at the steel plant here.
It was announced that the details of the industrial plan would not be made public until tonight after it had been acted upon by the delegates.
In case the plan is approved by today's convention it will be referred to the directors of the company and to a referendum vote of the miners on final adoption.
About thirty delegates from the coal camp, superintendents for sixteen miners and half a dozen company officers were in the room when President Welborn called them to order.
Among the miners' delegates were seven from Fremont county, all of whom declared themselves members of the United Mine Workers of America, and former strikers.
Practically all the other delegates were non-union men, most of them having worked for the company during the strike.
Mr. Rockefeller in opening his address said:
"This is the first time I have ever had an opportunity to speak to the delegates, to the miners and the officers of the company together. This is a day which I shall remember to my dying day.
"Two weeks ago in a meeting of this kind we would have met as strangers. Since then I have visited the coal camps of southern Colorado. I have gone into your homes and met your wives and children. So I now feel we meet not as strangers but as friends."

The anti-loan plank was defeated almost unanimously. The vote on the prohibition plan was 239 for and 1,042 against.
The platform offered by the committee on resolutions and containing several planks suggested by former Progressive leaders was then adopted.
Former Congressman Samuel W. McCall, in accepting the nomination for governor, welcomed the co-operation of former Progressives.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The National Commission at its meeting today decided that the first game of the world's series shall be played in Philadelphia on Friday, October 2. The seventh game, if one is necessary, will be played on Friday, October 15. The place of this game will be chosen by the toss of a coin.
All the rules that governed the play during the 1914 series will be in force against this season. The National Commission announced that the umpires would have the complete support and backing of that body in preserving order and enforcing the rules among the players. They are to be particularly cautious against permitting any disorder or loud comment by players on the benches of the rival clubs. It was further decided that in case of a tie game or postponement due to inclement weather the teams will remain in the city where such game was to have been played until that game is completed and dates of future games on the schedule will be advanced to meet any such emergencies arising.
