How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the home, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

TWO ARRESTS

Two men, alleged to be the burglars who broke into and robbed the general merchandise store of R. S. Spith at Philippi Tuesday night, were arrested here Thursday afternoon by Officer Anthony Donohue of the local police force. Clothing worn by the men at the time of their arrest was identified by Smith as having been stolen from his store.

STEAMER LEAVES

Harbor at Santa Marta and Heads toward Haiti Seeking a Safer Anchorage.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Captain Drake of the British steamer Tortugero, which reached here Thursday from Santa Marta, Columbia, reported that on the night of November 11 the Hamburg-American liner Prinz August Wilhelm, which had been anchored at Santa Marta, steamed out of the harbor toward Haiti.
A representative of the Hamburg-American line asserted that the liner's departure from Santa Marta was for the purpose of changing its anchorage as recent storms had made it unsafe. The steamer, he said, had not sailed into the Caribbean further than the three-mile territorial limit of Columbia, but had hugged the coast to the nearby port of Savanilla, where it had anchored in greater security.

NEED FOR SPREAD

Missionary education have been promoted, until in every department and organization of the church there is an adequate method of missionary education. We have now come to the place where these methods need to be correlated and unified. No one knows that better than the pastors in this audience. We are, therefore, offering annually a united program of missionary education for all departments of the church. The theme for this year is "The Church and the Nations," with the watchword "Thy Kingdom, Thy Will Be Done on Earth." Sermon and prayer meeting suggestions are prepared in a little free pamphlet for pastors, programs for various organizations, Epworth Leagues and women's societies, reading campaigns, study classes, illustrated lectures, entertainments. Here is a plan of unified, systematic missionary education for the whole year, and if properly applied we feel cannot help but make an impression upon any local church. In addition, adequate provision will be made for a short, intensive plan of education just preceding the every member canvass by using the new literature of the Laymen's Movement and denominational material.
The second method is to adopt a definite plan for the children of the church. No matter how great the problem of the present day may be do

INSPECTORS

Are Sent to Fairmont for the Purpose of Probing Post-office Strike There.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Post-office inspectors were sent to Fairmont, W. Va., today to investigate the strike of the entire force of clerks and carriers as a protest against the dismissal of the assistant postmaster on charges of giving assistance to applicants before the civil service commission.
The postoffice department approved the dismissal, it is said, only after the civil service commission had twice recommended that action, and after one investigation by its own inspectors.
Attorney General Gregory began considering whether the strike was a violation of federal law. United States Attorney Walker of the Northern district of West Virginia telegraphed today, asking whether any federal law could be applied.

OVERCOAT

A man said to be Max Smith, of this city, is wanted by the police of Parkersburg on a charge of stealing an overcoat from William Nern, manager of the Commercial hotel at that place. Up until Wednesday night Smith had not showed up and Nern had little hopes that he would ever see his coat again.
Smith asked to borrow the coat for an automobile trip to Marietta, saying that any old coat would do. However, Mr. Nern brought out a new coat, which had been worn only two or three times, and loaned it to Smith.
