sale of hosiery. These evils are cancellations, returns and allowances, extra dating, special discounts, etc. They have been prevalent for years, and as time goes on they are increasing rather than diminishing. All hosiery manufacturers complain of the practices, but they have never taken any positive steps to eliminate them, the report states.

Three of the most important chapters of the report are taken up with an exhaustive study of capital, profit and had been a member of the house of delegates in West Virginia from 1892 to 1895. The last year of his term he was speaker of the house. Col. Edwards was the Republican candidate for Congress in 1898. He was a delegate to the national convention in Chicago in 1908 and a delegate at large to the convention held there in 1912, being recently succeeded as national committee man by Virgil L. Highland, of Clarksburg.

Col. Edwards was a native of Kanawha county, W. Va., being born near Coalburg, 59 years ago. He was active in the development of the coal and oil properties and was possessed of great wealth. He was active three years ago in the arrest of five members of the legislature, who were found guilty of bribery in connection with the election of a United States senator. Col. Edwards also was a recognized authority on mining operations and had written several books.

ONE FOR

which internationalism is founded, we stand as anxious spectators of this most terrible example of nationalism. Let us hope that it is the final outburst of the cardinal evils of that idea which has for nearly a century spread its baleful influence over the world.

"Pan-Americanism is an expression of the idea of internationalism. America has become the guardian of that idea, which will in the end rule the world. Pan-Americanism is the most advanced as well as the most practical form of that idea. It has been made possible because of our geographical isolation, of our similar political institutions, and of our common conception of human rights. Since the European war began other actors have strengthened this national bond and given impulse to the movement. Never before have our people so fully realized the significance of the words: 'Peace and Fraternity.' Never have the need and benefit of international co-operation in every form of human activity been so evident as they are today.

"The path of opportunity lies plain before us Americans. The government and people of every republic should strive to inspire in others confidence and co-operation by exhibiting integrity of purpose and equity in action. Let us as members of this Congress, therefore, meet together on the plane of common interests and together seek the common good. Whatever is of common interest, whatever makes for the common good, whatever demands united effort is a fit subject for applied Pan-Americanism. Fraternal helpfulness is the keystone of the arch. Its pillars are faith and justice.

"In this great movement this Congress will, I believe, play an exalted part. You, gentlemen, represent powerful intellectual forces in your respective countries. Together you represent the enlightened thought of the continent. The policy of Pan-Americanism is practical. The Pan-American spirit is ideal. It finds its source and being in the minds of thinking men. It is the offspring of the best, the noblest conception of international obligation.

"With all earnestness, therefore, I commend to you, gentlemen, the thought of the American republics, twenty-one sovereign and independent nations, bound together by faith and justice, and firmly cemented by a sympathy which knows no superior and no inferior, but which recognizes only equality and fraternity."
