76 Suits, $18.75--were $25 & $29.50 (Few Higher)

We have trimmed the ranks in the great selling of women's tailored suits.

On Friday you may choose from 127 Suits unusually low priced; a group made up of small surplus lots and samples. They are mostly fancy or novelty suits, beautiful in material, beautiful in detail and finish.

Each of these suits is new. The thing most absolutely true about them is that they stand for one hundred per cent of value, service and satisfaction at their prices—$18.75 to $29.50.

The value, service and satisfaction have their origin in fine fabrics, fine tailoring work, fine finish and correct style.

Debate Called Off.
BUCKHANNON, April 26.—It was announced here today that the triangular debate which was to have been held between Wesleyan, Bethany and Marietta colleges, had been called off because of the fact that Marietta had seen fit to withdraw because it could not debate the question that had been settled on for the meet. Wesleyan at once got together with Bethany and those two colleges will meet in a dual debate on May 5. Wesleyan's affirmative team will be at Bethany, and Bethany's affirmative team will be at Buckhannon. It is possible that Franklin College will be met in a dual debate later in the season. Also Davis-Elkins is negotiating for a single debate with Wesleyan at the commencement at the Elkins school. It is announced that it is possible that both of these schools will be taken on this year.

The tryout debate was held at the college last week and the following men will represent Wesleyan in the dual meet with Bethany: M. A. Workman, city; P. W. Workman, Fairmont; P. C. Workman, Buckhannon; and W. F. Curtis, Barracksville.

May Day to Be Celebrated.
BUCKHANNON, April 26.—May day will be the big out-door event of the college year at Wesleyan just as it has been in the past, except that the preparations this year are far more extensive and call for a bigger time than there has ever been in the past. For months the girls, under the direction of Miss Butler, the physical director, have been preparing folk dances and drills and many other features that will help make the May-day celebration this year one that will long be remembered by the students and people of Buckhannon.

For the last several years, the May-day festival has been one of the big events of the outdoor life of Wesleyan, and each year a larger number of old students come to the Wesleyan campus to witness the annual festivities. It has become a part of the college life. On next Monday nearly the whole of the Wesleyan student body will take part in the festivities and the college band, which is the best in the history of the college, will give its first open air concert. The band is late in making its appearance this year, but it is said that this is because it is doing better work. This will lend another interest to the May day festivities this year.

THE DOG'S FAULT

Rovings of a Collie Did Not Result in Arrest of Man for Theft.

In order to correct an erroneous impression, caused by an article recently published about the recovery of a collie dog from the yard of I. N. Gregory's home here, the Telegram is requested to state that no criminal charge was ever preferred against Mr. Gregory, it having been ascertained that the dog followed him home after he had tried to prevent it.

The dog was recovered by county officers after Edwin Lewis, the owner, who is a farmer residing on the head of Jesse run, in Lewis county, had trailed it to the Gregory home. A civil suit was entered for the recovery of the dog, but as Mr. Gregory did not even claim ownership, it was dismissed, the plaintiff failing to appear.
