BIG BUSINESS YEARS AHEAD FOR UNCLE SAM

President Schurman, Who Prophecies Big Business Problems for the Next Administration.

The vital question of the day is not to prepare for war but to prepare for peace, is the declaration of Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University.

Trade and commerce are "our most tangible relations with foreign nations," he declares, and it is not premature, he asserts, to consider the situation in American foreign trade on the resumption of peace.

President Schurman's views run close to the idea gaining ground throughout the country that the next four years will be big with business problems for the nation. Economists declare that, with the foreign trade situation to which President Schur-man refers, the United States is going to have more perplexing business problems to deal with in the next few years than it has ever faced before. In fact, they say, the next administration will be, above all, a "business administration."

Out of the situation, has developed the Business Men's Presidential League, an organization with headquarters in New York City, advocating the election of a business man for President.

"The man we elect to lead America will have the chief responsibility," declares President Schurman. "Heaven grant us a man of the right mind and will and spirit for this exalted task."

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood purifier and health-giver. It embodies the careful training, experience, and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The club women of the country, two and a half million of whom are represented in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, have perfected a plan for the greatest convention in the history of the federation in New York this month. The dates are May 22 to June 8. During those seventeen days it is expected that fully 20,000 women representing clubs in every state in the union, as well as some from Alaska, Japan, England, Hawaii and South America will attend many of the innumerable meetings and social functions that have been arranged.

New York City this year is said to have more than 500 different conventions on its calendar but from all indications none will equal in attendance the gathering of women. Special sentiment is attached to the women's convention by the fact that although the federation was founded here twenty-six years ago, it is the first time since then that the women have met in New York. It was "Jennie June" Croly, one of the founders of the Sorosis, the pioneer woman's club in this country, who initiated the idea of a general convention of women's clubs in 1889, and the outcome of this was the holding of the first convention of the general federation in New York in the following year when sixty-three clubs were represented by 128 delegates and the Sorosis was hostess.

Sorosis Again Hostess. Chicago, Philadelphia, Louisville, Denver, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, St. Louis, St. Paul, Boston, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Chicago again have been the convention cities in the order named. The forthcoming convention, the thirteenth, will have Sorosis again as its hostess, in conjunction with the New York state and city federations which are working their hardest to make the gathering a notable one in every direction.

The main drill hall of the army of the Seventh regiment of the New York national guard, which will accommodate upwards of 8,000 women, will be the principal meeting place. The colonel's room and other officers' quarters will be turned over to the women for headquarters. The army is located at Sixty-sixth street, occupying an entire block between Lexington and Park avenues.

The chief executive is Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, the president of the federation, whose home is in Austin, Tex., but who for the last two years has been traveling throughout the country keeping in personal contact with the activities of women's clubs. She will not be a candidate for re-election this year, however, and the question of her successor will be one of the most important items of business during the convention. The two candidates for the offices are Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath, of Tiffin, O., and Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, of Los Angeles. The Ohio candidate is at present first vice president of the federation, and is a club woman of wide experience. Mrs. Cowles, whose name has been put forward by the California women, has also been prominently identified with the federation several years as director, treasurer and chairman of various committees.

Big Business. In the words of Miss Lottie E. Stearns, one of the directors of the federation, "the business of being a club woman is a big business and is getting to be a bigger business every day." This is apparent from the elaborate program that has been arranged for the convention. The topics indicate an increasingly wide range of affairs in which the club women are taking not only an interest but an active part. There was a time, for instance, when the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs could report on all of its activities at each convention, but now, says Mrs. Eugene J. Grant, the president of the city federation, it takes the six conventions of an administration to get through the reports of the thirty-eight committees which have developed.

The general federation has as its broad object the furtherance of every movement in the interest of women, children and mankind in general, and the program calls for reports and discussion by committees on art, child welfare, civics, civil service reforms, home economics, conservation, industrial and social questions, legislation, education, literature, music, public health, and under these headings come subjects ranging all the way from moving pictures to international relationships at each convention, an announcement that will be made at the convention is the fact that the federation has raised an endowment of $100,000. The plan to raise such a sum was voted at the Cincinnati convention in 1910, and now that the sum has been realized it will be invested by trustees, the interest being used to help carry on the work of the general federation.

Many women prominent in New York club life will take their turns as hostesses to various sections of the great gathering. Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, for instance, will be one of the first to entertain the women, at her home at Llewellyn Park, N. J. Mrs. John Hays Hammond will be hostess at a luncheon to all of the state presidents. Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, will be hostess at a pioneer club women's dinner, and in addition there will be luncheons and dinners and other entertainment at various women's clubs. A Shakespeare masque, a reception at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and a number of other outside features will be included.

Secret is Out. It just leaked out Monday morning that on last Tuesday about 2:30 p. m. Dr. W. C. Taylor, of the First Baptist church, of this city, was much disturbed in his study by hearing several quick, but distinct knocks on the parsonage door.

Dr. Taylor at once arose from his study, opened the door and greeted the young man who was standing here with the usual "How do you do, sir? What can I do for you?"

In reply the young man informed him that he was looking for a friend he could and would perform a service for him in which he was peculiarly interested. Without hesitation Dr. Taylor assured him that he would be pleased to perform such service, and in a short time Dr. Taylor was again standing at the door, saying, "Come right in," to the same young man who was accompanied by a young lady whose blushes gave evidence that she, too, was personally interested in the occasion.

This service proved to be a matrimonial one, which was soon performed by Dr. Taylor in his usual beaming manner, and made Francis V. Swiger and Jessie Alberta Morrison man and wife.

Mr. Swiger is a profitable farmer in Eagle district, and the oldest son of the late Allen Taylor Swiger, and Lydia Swiger, of Rosebud, this county, and the only brother of Ira L. Swiger, the present candidate for the republican nomination for assessor of this county.

Mrs. Swiger is the youngest daughter of Ashum and Sarah (Nixon) Morrison, farmers of Lambert's run, and the youngest of nine children, all of whom are married except Ida and India, who live at home. The other children are Leo, a railroad engineer, who married in the West and lives at Winslow, Ariz.; Earnest, a farmer, who married May Mines, and lives at Warren, O.; Moses, a farmer, After charging Dr. Taylor to keep the secret, Mr. and Mrs. Swiger took the Short Line train for Rosebud, where they both pretended to neighbors that she (Mrs. Swiger) was just visiting for a few days.

After a two-days' visit, Mrs. Swiger returned home, where, no doubt, she is now busy preparing to return to her new home at Rosebud, wondering all the while "When will we tell the secret?"

Opening in September.

As was duly announced in the Telegram, parents visiting day was observed at the Morgan school Friday afternoon. A program was rendered by the pupils of the school. The opening of the newly remodeled Morgan school, however, was not a part of the program Friday as the new part of the building is not completed. The opening of this building will be announced later. It will probably be soon after school convenes in September. The Morgan school is in Stealey Heights, one of the best suburbs of Clarksburg. The people in Stealey Heights are proud of their new school building. Perhaps nowhere in Clarksburg is there a better school spirit. Somewhere between 150 and 200 people attended the visiting day Friday.
