SKETCHES OF LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

BY O. O. McINTYRE

Telegram Bureau: Rooms 121-125 Hotel Majestic, West Seventy-second Street.

NEW YORK, June 6. Here are some peeps into the complex life of New York as noted by a breezy westerner. New Yorkers do not seem to notice them, and it takes the man from home to discover the curious. At a Long Branch hotel there is a checking room for dogs.

It costs $100 a month to keep a dog at a certain ultra-ultra hotel. Bones for dogs in any hotel where they are allowed are twenty-five cents each. There is a two cent moving picture theater on the West Side.

Claret girls in cafes make from $5 to $10 a night on their tips alone. Pretty young squabs walk along the curbs on Broadway to be picked up by automobilists for "joy rides." The man who owns a shop next door to George H. Colman's theater never saw Colman and didn't know he was an actor.

The largest barber shop in town is in the Equitable building on lower Broadway. It has sixty-two chairs and every article is immediately sterilized and wrapped in sanitary paper before use again. The New York Times is not edited or printed in the Times building, but in the annex a block away.

There is a table d'hote restaurant where the proprietor feels insulted and will not allow you to come again if you leave sober. His dinner is fifty cents, and all the "red ink" you can drink is free from a faucet at the edge of the table.

A dainty young thing was talking to a gentleman at the Waldorf. He gave her his phone number but she lost it, so she thought one of the operators at the hotel might know it.

"He is tall, good looking and a big Wall street broker. I have lost his name and phone number. Do you think you know the number?"

"Yes," was the snappy rejoinder—"Four-Flushing."

New Yorkers love the flag but do not know how. The flag-bedecked city on Memorial day shows that a few lessons are needed in etiquette of the Stars and Stripes.

About one in 10,000 of the spectators who lined the sidewalks as the parade passed, knew enough to remove their hats as the regimental colors went by. Regulation provides that on Memorial day the flag is at half staff until noon. Then it is raised to full staff.

Not a single flag in the city was accorded this treatment. Flags on the city hall set a bad example to other public buildings. At 2 o'clock on the afternoon they were still half-staffed.

When Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, was out frolicking with the Pilars he associated with a fellow actor who had only recently become a father. They were in Atlantic City and stopped at a lunch counter along the boardwalk after the performance.

The actor took out his watch and looked longingly at a photograph. He was away from home and lonely for the kiddie. Finally he put his watch away and looked away into space. A waiter approached. "Do you wish anything else?" he inquired.

It didn't jar the actor out of his dream, for he looked up with a simpering smile and cooed: "Dinnee little tink of wa?wa." Then he rushed out for an ocean breeze to cook his blushing brow.

Newspaper boys who were in Kansas City with Roosevelt tell of a story that was told the former president that made him howl with laughter. It was told by Dr. F. N. Plonck and concerned a battered, red nosed man who was before a Kansas City Judge for drunkenness. He was asked his name and said: "Felix McPherson McLean." "Who bought you the whiskey?" asked the judge.

Maternity! The Word of Words

It is written into life's expectations that motherhood is the one sublime accomplishment. And if there is anything, no matter how simple, how apparently trivial it may seem, if it can aid, help, assist or in any way comfort the expectant mother, it is a blessing. And such is a remedy called "Mother's Friend." You apply it over the stomach muscles. It is gently rubbed on the surface, and makes the muscles pliant; this relieves the strain on ligaments, natural expansion takes place without undue effect upon the nerves. And as the time approaches, the mind has gone through a period of repose, of gentle expectancy, and this has an unquestioned influence upon the future child. That this is true is evidenced by the fact that three generations of mothers have used and recommended "Mother's Friend." Ask your nearest druggist for a bottle of this splendid remedy. He will get it for you. And then write to Bradford Regulator Co., 707 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most interesting book of information to prospective mothers. It is mailed free. Write today. It is a book you will enjoy.

It is replete with important and timely topics such as a description of the nerves, muscles and parts involved, the strange mystery of a new baby, the law of contiguity, first pulsations, prefatory uneasiness, a maternity chart, diet list and many other subjects briefly told, but of value to all women and particularly so to one who is to become a mother. It is mailed free to all who write for it.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

Be Moderate in Your Diet and Reduce Your Weight. Take Oil of Kerein.

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Hland's Drug Store, Farrell's Drug Store, or any druggist a box of oil of kerein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of kerein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.
