TRACTION TRAINS ARE ATTACKED IN NEW YORK

LAST DAY OF GRACE GIVEN BY LABOR UNIONS IS TODAY

HUGHES SCORES HEAVILY IN WISCONSIN SPEECHES

Rioting Continues Despite the Concentration of 2,000 Policemen in City's Center.

CAR WINDOWS SMASHED
Showers of Bottles and Brick Thrown and Several Passengers Are Injured.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Seventy-five business men organized as a committee tried to persuade labor leaders Thursday to refrain from declaring a general strike in sympathy with the street railway employees, of whom it is asserted there are 11,000 on strike. This is the last day of grace given by the labor unions to the mayor and volunteer mediators to settle the dispute with the Interborough Rapid Transit Company and the New York Railways Company.

Rioting continues despite the fact that 2,000 policemen were concentrated in the center of the city Wednesday night to protect elevated cross-town surface lines. Strike sympathizers bombarded cars with missiles. In one case several hundred strikers attacked a car and were beaten off only after a battle with the police.

Repeatedly during the early hours Thursday Sixth and Seventh avenue elevated trains were assailed by strike sympathizers on roof tops. Twenty-two such attacks were reported by the police in a few hours.

Car windows were smashed under showers of bricks and bottles and several passengers were injured.

CIGARS JUMP UP IN PRICE

And the Smoker Will Have to Come across with Extra Change or Quit Smoking.

In these days of everything going up and nothing coming down, those who smoke are about to find that they are not an excepted class. The prices of cigars, cigarettes, stogies and smoking tobacco are to take a big jump and there will be nothing cheap in these lines any more, for a while at least. Local retail dealers are advised that some of the leading cigars will be raised in wholesale price $2, $3 and $4 a thousand. The manufacturers assign as reasons for the raise:

Increased cost of raw material, increased prices of supplies generally, increase of wages just made to cigar makers and various other reasons.

Retailers who have been selling cigars six for a quarter will not be able to continue that practice, but will have to sell them absolutely at five cents straight to make any profit at all.

Some of the manufacturers have resorted to tin instead of wooden boxes in order to keep down the cost.

There is an inside tip that very few factories will make the very desirable twenty-five in a box for the holiday trade, and Christmas presents of this kind will be very scarce.

The situation is not at all pleasing to local retailers but they cannot help themselves and the public will have to pay, or quit smoking.

ROBINSON Gets Solid Support of Republicans in One of Lilly's Strongholds.

SISSONVILLE, Sept. 21.—What Pecca district of Kanawha county, has done in former elections it will do again in November is the promise of such men as Dr. W. P. Glass, William Sisson and other district leaders.

While Pecca was favorable to the candidacy of General Abe Lilly, all the Republicans are lined up solidly for Judge Robinson and will help Kanawha county to pile up a magnificent majority for the whole ticket.

FALL FASHION NUMBER SOON TO BE ISSUED

Daily Telegram Edition of September 29 to Be Devoted to Fashion and Trade.

The fall fashion and trade number of the Daily Telegram will be issued Friday, September 29. A special feature of this issue will be the fall and winter fashions as delineated in full page drawings by Gordon Wingwall, who is without a superior among American fashion artists.

It is well known that the salient points of modes and fabrics can best be delineated in pen drawings, but Dingwall by his bold treatment of the subject in this series of fashion illustrations has also produced all the beauty of big half tone display in a way that will insure clear printing.

This number of the Daily Telegram will also include a Pure Food section in which all of Clarksburg's leading grocers and butchers will carry their trade announcements, and an Automobile section giving the latest information regarding 1917 cars and automobile appliances.

In connection with the issuance of this number, the merchants will provide a novel feature in the way of window displays on Friday evening. All the merchants of the city will make special window displays, the store windows being covered all day Friday and at an hour to be announced later all the lights in the business section will be darkened and the curtains withdrawn. When the lights are again turned on, window displays of fall and winter fashions for men, women and children, pure foods, automobiles, etc., such as have never been equalled in this city will be shown.

FRENCH MAKE ANOTHER GAIN IN VERDUN SECTOR

GUARDSMEN AND REGULARS ARE IN REVIEW

In the City of El Paso, Tex., to the Number of 26,000 in Dusty Khaki.

EL PASO, Sept. 21.—National guardsmen and regulars—26,000 of them in dust-stained khaki—swung through the streets of El Paso and passed a reviewing stand at Fort Bliss Thursday in the first parade and review of an infantry division at full war strength ever held in the United States.

Military men said also that a larger number of troops were in line than at any other time in the history of the country with the exception of the grand review in Washington at the close of the Civil war, May 23 and 24, 1865.

Tanned by service on the border the brown-clad legions of cavalry, infantry, field artillery and auxiliary troops marched in an unbroken column nearly twenty miles long. Major General Charles M. Clement, commanding the Pennsylvania division, and Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, reviewed them.

Participating in the review were troops from the regular army, from Massachusetts, Michigan, Kentucky, Ohio, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and New Mexico, in all 799 officers and 25,941 men. Eight thousand animals and 1,000 vehicles, including ambulances, gun carriages and supply wagons, helped make up the pageant.

They also gained 100 yards east of Fort Vaux and in the Chapire wood. Bad weather still halts operations on the Somme and the German attack has not been renewed.

STUBBORN RESISTANCE IS BEING OFFERED NOW

SOFIA, Sept. 21.—Stubborn resistance is being offered by the Roumanians and Russians to the attacks of the Teutonic allies in the great battle now in progress in the Roumanian province of Dobrudja. HUGHES GIVES AN OUTLINE OF HIS POLICIES

Wants to See a Great Driving Force of Patriotic Sentiment in America.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 21.—Charles E. Hughes, addressing his second audience of the day in the open air here Thursday outlined the policies for which he stands and declared he wanted to see in the United States "a great driving force of patriotic sentiment" which would furnish the motive power for progress.

"I want American rights protected throughout the country," Mr. Hughes said. "I desire to see a great driving force of patriotic sentiment which will give us the motive power of progress. We cannot have progress unless we have that loyalty and love for our country which will enable us to get up steam to supply energy."

Mr. Hughes went into detail concerning his tariff views.

"The protective tariff," he said, "would have to be applied to enable America to meet European competition after the war."

"If it is not," he said, "we will not only have a repetition of the period of unemployment that we had just before the European war, but we will have agitation and confusion and disaster in this country. I see unbounded trouble ahead in disappointments and blighted prospects of labor if this is not done. I see only disturbance and disaster unless we take this matter in hand in time."

Mr. and Mrs. Leeman Maxwell, of West Union, were visitors here Thursday.

Kaimakealan peak with heavy losses to the attackers is reported in an official statement given out by the war office Thursday. In the region of the Broad river the Bulgarians forced their way into the village of Boreznica after two attacks had failed. They were driven out by the Serbians in bayonet fighting.

Further progress for the Allies is reported on the left wing where they have reached hill 1550, three miles northwest of Plesoderi.

MAJOR BURKE HERE NOW AS ADVANCE MAN

Announces That Colonel Cody is in the Saddle Again and Will Be Here.

Major Burke is in town. It therefore goes without saying that Colonel Cody (Buffalo Bill) is following close, as did in the olden days, the United States army and its Indian-fighting generals, such as Sheridan, Sherman, Custer, Miles and others followed the lead of the old scout, Bill Cody, in the '60s, '70s and '80s, when he led the van as chief of scouts.

Concerning the visit of Colonel Cody, Major Burke gave out the following descriptive information: "Yes, Bill is back in the saddle with a triple combination, reviving American history when it was in the making and for a purpose appropriate to present world conditions, an old time outdoor outfit."

"Millions of the present generation who must soon in their turn assume the responsibility of conducting the affairs of the republic should know our history and renew acquaintance with the type of men who were scouts, pioneers, ranchmen and who built the foundations on which the present great commercial prosperity is based."

"Believing the time appropriate to utilize the small number of remaining factors in pioneerdom, a merger has been arranged between Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and Miller Brothers, Arlington 101 Ranch Wild West Show, Buffalo Bill will be surrounded by more than a half century of the once Wild West atmosphere and the last of the younger Mohicans, the typical Oklahoma range riders, led by Colonel Joe Miller."

"They will present American history on a more comprehensive scale as the show consists of a military exhibition, combined with a touch of the old days of frontier life in the North for which soldier boys from the South (direct from Mexican border service) officially furloughed to act as a color guard to Old Glory in the parade and in the exhibition, combine a program illustrative of training for national preparedness."

"This color guard is also active in recruiting for the United States regular army, with a recruiting tent, officer in charge, to receive applicants, examine them and forward them to nearest local section central recruiting office. Applicants, friends and guardians can receive all information desired from boys who have 'been there' and have re-enlisted to return to the colors; some aiming to school themselves, as all can in our army up to 25 years of age to become shoulder strap officers, as many stars are now worn by men once in the ranks."

"Besides many innovations such as combined cavalry drills, all the realistic features of pioneer life will be presented. The highest of skilled horsemanship will give a lesson in that line which the present European war is emphasizing as still a valued military factor; that the cavalier has come back and that cavalry in which our nation can excel in case of need is available when the bugle sounds 'to saddles.'"

HARD AT WORK IS GRAND LODGE NOW

Ancient Order of United Workmen Transact Business in Secret Session.

Delegates and officers of the grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of West Virginia were busily engaged in secret sessions of their sixteenth biennial convention Thursday in the assembly hall of the Waldo hotel. The convention is scheduled to end late in the afternoon with the election of officers to serve the next two years and the selection of the place for the 1918 convention. All of the business engaging the attention of the grand lodge Thursday was said to be of a routine and miscellaneous nature with nothing of especial importance for the general public.

Reports of officers thus far submitted show a total membership in the state of 3,500, the payment of $1,123,590 in death benefits since the organization of the West Virginia grand lodge and the investment of $310,000 of its funds in county and municipal bonds of West Virginia. It is the custom of the order to make all its investments within the state. During the last fifteen years $17,000 has been paid in death benefits in Clarksburg.

Ten candidates were initiated at a session of the grand lodge held Wednesday night, the work being put on by the Morgantown degree

Sincerity of Reception Disproves Opponents' Prophecy of Cold Middle West.

HE TALKS BEFORE 50,000
Crowds Are Turned Away as Audiences Fill Halls to Overflowing.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—Wisconsin would scarcely have welcomed Charles Evans Hughes more graciously if he had come into the state to give away apples instead of speeches. From the moment he gripped the attention of 7,000 persons in an outdoor meeting at Sheboygan, until he swung his arms in delight at the final cheers of 10,000 in the auditorium here at night, it was evident to any fair-minded observer that Wisconsin is going to do its bit in putting him in the White House.

50,000 Hear Speeches.

It was not one meeting or two or three that contributed to this feeling, an impression as palpable and definite as a warm breeze. It was seven meetings that gathered 50,000 persons within the sweep of Mr. Hughes' voice and the appeal of his personality, revealed their eagerness for his ideas of government and progress and national courage and drew them to him for the personal contact of handshake and earnest word wishes.

His experience in Wisconsin when he spoke at Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Milwaukee, following his fine reception in Illinois, has convinced his political advisers and associates that the talk of the middle West being cold to Hughes is nonsense and that the truth is the whole section is swinging strongly to his support.

It was not so much the size of the crowds that heard him although they were impressively big, or the character of the applause, although the cheering was frequent and heavy that developed assurance of middle West friendliness. It was the general attitude and spirit of the people, their obvious and expressed satisfaction with the man's words and personality. It was the complimentary things they were heard to say quietly to each other that made it apparent Mr. Hughes has scored heavily.

Puts on High Speed.

The candidate's own attitude, together with the fine organization of the second western trip, has played a big part in the business of reaching, convincing and holding the people. Charles Evans Hughes is now on high speed with the muffler cut out and you can hear him coming for miles away. He is brimful of confidence. He goes at his crowds like a man that knows he is bound to win. He talks straight from the shoulder.

There is fire in his eye and a swing to his fist. He knows how to make a joke and how to take one. He has the knack of making people laugh with him. He can make them frown.
