

GREAT RUSH OF FANS

CRUCIAL GAME OF THE SERIES

Steady Flow of Traffic Groundward from an Early Hour of the Day.

BATTLE ROYAL IS CERTAIN
Weather is Cool and Breezy Better Suited for Football Than Baseball Game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—With the battle for the premier baseball honor of the year transferred from Boston to Brooklyn today the baseball enthusiasts of greater New York flocked by the thousands to Ebbetts field to view the world's series from a new angle. Brooklyn has sent many a large delegation to the Polo grounds in Harlem, home of the Giants, to witness post season struggles in former years, but today saw a reversal of the process with the tide of travel turned towards Flatbush, where sits the stadium occupied by the present National League champions.

In contrast with the warm haziness of the past few days, remarkable for its suitability to the great national pastime, the morning broke cool and breezy with the promise of a day more suited to work on the gridiron than on the diamond. The ticket holders for the games to be played on the Flatbush diamond—there were more than 20,000 of them before the rush to the grounds started—were not over impatient to get to the playing field and the Brooklyn traction lines were easily able to take care of their forenoon patrons. The thousands who had not been forehand, however, together with other thousands who counted on winning out in the struggle for places in the unreserved section provided a steady flow of traffic groundward augmented later by the throngs of possessors of the elaborately lithographed cards entitling them to specified seats within the playing arena. Long before game time there was every indication that the stadium at the call of play would be filled to the limit of its 26,000 capacity.

The struggle of the day, coming after the two desperate encounters in Boston, which left the Brooklyn without a victory and gave the Red Sox a commanding lead in the battle for the title, promised to be perhaps the "crucial" game of the series. The probable lineups of the teams for today's game is as follows:

GERARD RETICENT AS TO HIS MISSION

Tells Reporters They Need Not Ask Questions as He Can Not Say a Word.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, upon his arrival here Tuesday, declined either to affirm or deny published reports that he was returning to the United States on a peace mission on behalf of the emperor of Germany. Mr. Gerard's attention was called to a story which appeared this morning in the New York World to the effect that his errand was to inform the administration that a renewal of WHO'S WHO.

A well-known resident of Clarksburg was stopped in the street Tuesday and asked this question: "Who is this here fellow Al-derson who is running on the Democratic ticket for something?" "This was the reply: "Oh, he's running for prosecuting attorney up in Braxton, or Nicholas county or somewhere up there." "Sure he isn't running for Congress?" "Hub! There's nobody running for Congress in this district but Stuart F. Reed."

G. O. P COUNTY NOMINEES TALK TO BIG CROWD

Monster Crowd Turns Out for Political Rally in School-house at Sardis.

SARDIS, Oct. 10.—One of the greatest crowds that ever turned out to hear a political speaking here was present Monday night at the Sardis school house at a monster political rally, which was addressed by several of the Republican county candidates. It was a regular old-fashioned Republican jamboree. The crowd was most enthusiastic and every time a speaker showed up the Democratic misrepresentations in their true light the applause was loud and long.

The speakers who addressed the meeting were R. M. Fisher, candidate for house of delegates; Will E. Morris, candidate for prosecuting attorney; Ira L. Swiger, nominee for assessor; Charles A. Sutton, candidate for judge of the criminal court; Lloyd D. Griffin, nominee for sheriff; and S. R. Harrison, Jr., candidate for the house of delegates.

The meeting was called to order by L. M. Husted and the speeches followed. Because of the number of speakers, the speeches were necessarily short, but every one bristled with good old Republican doctrine—the doctrine that has brought prosperity to the American people without the aid of a foreign war, the kind that has upheld American rights at home and abroad.

His funeral took place Tuesday morning at the home of his father, William Price, at Halesville, near Weston, where he succumbed Monday night. The Rev. Mr. Beddow, of the Methodist Episcopal church of Weston, officiated at the funeral and burial followed at the Machpelah cemetery. The deceased man was a native of Franklin, O., and was 31 years old. SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING CREW

Of the British Freight Steamship Blown Up by German Submarine.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 10.—The crew of the British freight steamship Kingstonian, missing since Sunday when its members abandoned the ship at the order of the German raiding submarine in the waters off Nantucket and shoals lightship, had not been heard from Tuesday. Eleven torpedo boat destroyers were despatched to the vicinity of the lightship by Rear Admiral Gleeves to continue the search. No further report of the submarine or submarines which destroyed six steamships Sunday on the trans-Atlantic lane that rounds the lightship same to hand Tuesday. There has been no trace of the submersible since its last victim went to the bottom Sunday night.

Search for the missing crew said to number more than fifty men was halted Monday on receipt of reports that some of them had been found. There was no confirmation from any source by wireless and in fact the report was officially denied. As the men had been afloat for more than thirty-six hours in open boats and probably without food or adequate clothing the anxiety on the part of the destroyer fleet to locate them became more intense especially as the weather Monday night became extremely cold.

SUBS ARE SUNK.

CHRISTIANIA, Vit London, Oct. 10.—A Russian torpedo boat Monday sank two German submarines, after the submersibles had attacked the Russian wireless station at Sepnavorik on the Murman coast, according to information received here Tuesday from Petrograd. Several persons were killed by the gunfire of the submersibles.

TESTIMONY

Is Taken in Federal Court in a Suit over Valuable West Virginia Lands.

Testimony was taken Tuesday in United States district court here, Judge A. G. Dayton sitting, in the case of Drusa Sturm and others, of Gilmer county, against the Rev. John S. Stump, of Parkersburg; the American Baptist Home Mission Society and the Latin-American Improvement Association, Inc., in which the plaintiffs, seek to set aside deeds of Daniel Huffman, an aged farmer and Baptist preacher of Gilmer county, which gave the major part of his estate to the defendants.

The estate consists mostly of realty in Gilmer, Braxton and Calhoun counties, which of late years have accumulated greatly in value, being now worth in excess of $50,000, perhaps as much as $100,000. It is contended by the plaintiffs, who are the heirs at law of Daniel Huffman, that he was so feeble physically and mentally at the time of deeding the property that he was incapable of doing so legally. Daniel Huffman died in March, 1916, at the age of 93 years. The deeds transferring his property to the Baptist organizations were made several years before he died.

WARM REPLY TO EXPONENT FOR ITS SLUR

One of Leading Townsmen Mince No Words in Allusion to the Wilson Course.

(By L. K. Richards.)
That many other voters in this neighborhood who have been made to feel ashamed of their native land (by reason of the foreign policies of the Woodrow Wilson administration) may be defended in their position, along with myself, I answer the free advertising given me in the morning newspaper.

The man who penned those lines was either a fool or at heart knowingly misrepresented the matter by the use of that conventional little word "if." Of course, no one is ashamed of his country on account of its virtues, but we must feel ashamed of its mistakes before we can see the need of remedying them, and we believe there is shame enough in the country to apply the remedy on election day. As to those who are ashamed of their country's diplomacy (under the guiding hand of Woodrow Wilson) going to Europe to seek bloodshed, allow me to say that not all of the people in Europe are fighting, only the soldiers. The soldiers are being slaughtered. Our country has all its available soldiers and reserve (National Guard) in the field. Our soldiers are being slaughtered. Our countrymen's property being destroyed, and we dignifying the procedure by calling it peace, according to the "Woodrow" interpretation. Europe calls it war. You have but little chance, except in matter of extent. We even note by the papers that the government at Washington is afraid some portion of our domain will be blown up by Europe's fight conducted at our front door. What we believe in and admire is a neutrality such as this country maintained during the war between Russia and Japan, when the chief executive of the United States was practically the referee, and a potent factor in the adjustment of the terms of peace—acquitting himself with honor to himself and country. On the other hand if war must come we admire an honorable war, such as we had under McKinley, wherein the bloodshed was less than that under the Woodrow peace plan and the war tax about the same. Let those admire who will, but for me I do not admire a spineless imitation of a man or administration made up of theories that are not good enough for him or itself to adhere to on all occasions.

As man or nation we must command respect if we expect to receive it. Cowardice is not a guarantee against attack.

WARRANT DISMISSED.

A warrant charging Mary Sfear, of the Tin Plate addition with stealing a chicken from Maggie Sasko, a neighbor of the same place, was dismissed by Magistrate Jackson V. Carter when the prosecuting witness failed to appear against Mrs. Sfear Monday evening, when the case was set for trial.

When He and His Party Arrive Here Wednesday Morning for Hour's Stay.

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED

Regular and Special Trains Are to Bring Crowds from All Sections.

When Charles Evans Hughes, Republican nominee for president, comes to Clarksburg, the industrial heart of West Virginia, Wednesday morning, he will receive a reception unsurpassed by any given him in any city he has visited since he began his campaign, considering, of course, the size of the places he has visited.

County Chairman Roy E. Parrish Tuesday morning estimated that 10,000 persons would bear the distinguished statesman. "This is a conservative estimate," Mr. Parrish added.

The last nail in the platform, from which Mr. Hughes is to speak, was driven late Tuesday afternoon. All committees appointed at the recent meeting of the Hughes club have completed their work, and everything is in readiness for the meeting.

Reports from towns and cities throughout northern and central West Virginia indicate that the crowd which will hear Mr. Hughes Wednesday morning will be the largest that was ever in this city for any event. Two special trains will be operated over the Baltimore and Ohio, one from West Union and the other from Pine Grove. Reports were to the effect that the trains would be filled at their starting points, without taking into consideration the number who will get on board at intermediate stations.

The Hughes special will arrive in the city at 9 o'clock from New York. As soon as the train arrives at the station, Mr. Hughes will be escorted to the platform and will immediately begin his speech. Besides his regular party of about forty persons, including his wife, physician, secretaries, stenographers and newspapermen, the presidential nominee will be accompanied by Judge Ira E. Robinson, of Gratton, Republican nominee for governor of the state. Mr. Hughes will speak for one hour, leaving at 10 o'clock for Parkersburg, where he speaks shortly after noon. From Parkersburg the Hughes special goes to Huntington, where the nominee will deliver an address late in the afternoon. The evening meeting will be held at Charleston.

The ladies' committee appointed at the Hughes club meeting Monday night will take charge of Mrs. Hughes, who is accompanying her husband on his campaign trip.
