Better Be Safe than Sorry

A man told me a story a short while back about another man who would not carry fire insurance on his home, but all of a sudden he changed his mind and decided to take out a policy, but while he was gone, and before he received his policy, his house burned. Fire insurance cost such a trifle you cannot afford to go without it.

EXPEDITION'S CAMP IS ONE THAT'S NOVEL

Built by the Men Themselves without Aid on the Part of the Government.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) EL VALLE SAN BUENA VENTURA, Mexico, Dec. 29.—The camp that serves as a model for the entire American punitive expedition has been constructed by the Sixteenth Infantry, Colonel W. H. Allaire, commanding, at this point, the southernmost of the expedition. The work has been done by the men themselves with the meagre material available here and without a cent of government aid.

A feature of the camp is a combined adobe kitchen, mess hall and recreation room for each of the fourteen companies now here. The kitchen contains a work room for the cook and his assistants, a huge adobe oven and incinerator, a meat house, a store room and quarters for the cook. The wall separating the kitchen is pierced by a can of hot ashes is almost impossible. With their roofs of canvas shelter tents, they are ideal for open air sleeping, but that is all. Consequently the recreation hall is always well filled at night.

The mess hall, which adjoins the kitchen, contains benches and round tables that accommodate the entire company. After meals these benches are cleared and the mess hall becomes a recreation room, well heated by a large fireplace and lighted by gasolene lanterns, oil lamps and candles. The recreation hall appeals especially to the men. Their sleeping quarters are too small to permit of the presence of more than two men sitting or lying and heating them with anything but a can of hot ashes is almost impossible. With their roofs of canvas shelter tents, they are ideal for open air sleeping, but that is all. Consequently the recreation hall is always well filled at night.

The adobe brick for the company buildings was made by the men, and they paid from their own funds for the lumber necessary for doors, window frames and benches. They also bought the saws that are used for rafters, and cut the brush upon which the mud roofs are laid. Back of these buildings is a wide company street, on the other side of which are the adobe officers' houses.

This regiment has developed the adobe oven to a state of efficiency higher than any other organization has succeeded in obtaining. The fire is virtually the only one necessary to the company. By an ingenious arrangement of chimney and flue, the company cook can bake and stew on an open fire place, bake and roast in the oven and use the blaze for incinerating purposes.
