and was quoted from one end of the state to the other.

In the coming of Rabbi Silver an oratorical treat is in store for our people. He is a man of pronounced learning and a deep thinker. He arrives at his conclusions only after extended study and research. When he favors a movement of such moment as the extension of the vote to women, his hearers are assured that his conclusions are the summing up of all the evidence by a mature and trained mind.

There is every evidence that Rabbi Silver will be greeted by one of the best audiences of the campaign.

Rabbi to Speak Here.

The people of Clarksburg will be delighted to hear that Rabbi Abba Hibel Silver of the Temple LeShon Shomayim, Wheeling, will address them Monday night at the court house. Rabbi Silver is one of the representative men of West Virginia. No religious congregation or denomination is led by a man of more intellectual culture and vigor than is this Wheeling temple.

It will be remembered that when the Woman's Edition of the Wheeling Intelligencer appeared, Rabbi Silver was represented therein by an article from his pen of exceptional strength and from a new point of view. In it he gave his reasons for favoring the enfranchisement of women. That article was a classic freshments consisting of chicken salad, rolls, ice cream and coffee were served.

The wedding was largely attended by friends of the family from out of town as well as from Elkins, many of the latter having given their friendly services in the decorating of the hall and church and in the catering.

After the reception and dance Mr. and Mrs. Walker left by automobile to spend a few days hunting in West Virginia mountains, returning in time for election day, after which they will live in Huntington.

Sutherland-Walker.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)

Elkins, Oct. 28.—At 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the Davis Memorial Presbyterian church, Miss Natalie Sutherland, the eldest daughter of Howard Sutherland, candidate for the West Virginia senatorship, became the wife of John Sidney Walker, Jr., formerly of Claremont, N. H., now a resident of Huntington, W. Va. The church, built by the late Senator Davis, a memorial to his mother, was a mass of mountain laurel leaves, rhododendron, and flat sprays of green hemlock brought from the surrounding countryside, its rich, dark coloring relieved only by clusters of bronze hydrangeas.

The procession led by the ushers who were James H. Barry, Huntington; Dennis Crowley, Charleston; Robert Lowry, Catlettsburg, Ky.; and John Morgan, Charleston; was followed by the bride's youngest sister, little Miss Elizabeth Sutherland, who acted as flower girl. The four bridesmaids, all striking brunettes, wore gowns of silver cloth covered with pumpkin colored tulle trimmed with full ruffles of the tulle and streamers of narrow silver ribbon. They carried large bouquets of small silver-white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, who were Miss Sutherland's classmates at school and college were Miss Dorothy Brown, of Detroit; Miss Charlotte Hipple, of Lock Haven, Pa.; Miss Gladys MacFarlane, of Bridgeport, Conn.; and Miss Laura Seymour, of New York City. Miss Virginia Sutherland returned from Miss Madra's school in Washington to act as maid-of-honor for her sister, and wore a gown of silver cloth veiled with black tulle, contrasting prettily with her fair hair. She carried an armful of large yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was the bridegroom's youngest brother, Mr. Archibald Walker, of Bluefield. The bride, escorted by her father, Congressman Sutherland, wore a costume of French Valenciennes lace and cream satin with touches of silver cloth showing through the lace. Sprays of orange blossoms were caught in the corsage and at the hem and arranged with tulle at the border of the long satin court train which hung from the shoulders. A tulle veil, arranged with plaiting away from the face was held with orange blossoms to the end of the satin train. The bridal bouquet was a shower of white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Sutherland is a graduate of Vassar College, 1915, and has been for the past winter teaching history and English at Marshall College in Huntington. It was here that she met Mr. Walker who was located in business in that city. Mrs. Sutherland, mother of the bride, was gowned in grey satin relieved by touches of old blue and a rose scarf. She carried a bouquet of sunset roses. Several out of town guests who have been visiting the bride during the last week and who were seated with members of the bride's family were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Henderson, the latter a sister of Mrs. Sutherland, and their daughter, Katharine, from Hancock, Md.; Miss Evelyn McCandlish, of Westport, Md.; and Miss Ruth Stanley-Brown, of Long Island.

Just preceding the ceremony Miss Winifred Gross sang "All For You" of Hurdell, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Boyd Smith, well-known violinist of Ashland, O., formerly of Elkins. During the ceremony Mr. Smith and Mrs. Hall of Elkins, played Saint-Saens La Cygne (The Swan). The old Scots service was read by the Rev. Dr. F. H. Barron, of Elkins.

After the dignified service was over, a large reception with dancing was held in Nathan Hall. The bridal party received at one end of the hall, which had been decorated with native oak leaves and other autumn boughs of ruddy tones. Re-

Masquerade Party.

A masquerade party was given a recent night at the home of Miss Helen Queen at 108 Holt avenue. The house was beautifully decorated. Delicious refreshments were served at a seasonable hour. Those present were as follows:

Mercedes Moore, Evelyn Jones, Mary Fultz, Evelyn Brewer, Helen Queen, Alice Queen, Leo Howard, Alex. Osborn, Worthly, Ross, Aron Ollker, Albert Appleby, Glen Sraley, Theodore Mattson, Walter Gallien, William Roberts and George Duncan.

Home from Florida.

Captain E. C. Sperry, who has been in Florida for several months, has returned to Clarksburg. Captain Sperry commanded a company in the Second West Virginia volunteer infantry during the Spanish American war, and was for many years chief of the Consolidation Coal Company's police with headquarters at Frostburg, Md. The captain intends to go into business here.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The first big party in the gymnasium of the Young Woman's Christian Association building will be held on Tuesday evening of the coming week, when the members of the association, both old and young, tall and short, big and little, will have an opportunity to enjoy a good time together.

The party will take the form of a "Mother Goose Party" and those who wish may dress representing some of the characters of the Mother Goose rhymes—Red Riding Hood, Old King Cole, Little Mother Hubbard, Jack and Jill, Little Bo-Peep, Humpty-Dumpty and others.

The gymnasium will be decorated to suit the Halloween festivities, and the fun will begin about 7:30 o'clock. All association members are invited. All girls and women are invited to become members.

The schedule for the coming week is as follows:

Monday—Classes and clubs. Monday afternoon class in sewing, crocheting, knitting and millinery meets from 2:30 to 4:30 with Miss Phelps in charge, with several assistants. This class is open to all members with a small tuition for those who take the instruction in sewing, crocheting or knitting. All members are invited to bring Christmas ideas to share with others and help to make it a real social afternoon.

Evening class in English with Miss Nannie Lowe in charge will meet from 7 to 8 o'clock. This class will review some of the work of the high school in English and rhetoric, and continue in the study of some of the English classics. This class is open to members, and is a special feature of the Business Girls' Club.

Evening class in Spanish with Miss Margaret Lord in charge will meet from 7 to 8 o'clock on Monday. The class will take beginners in Spanish and is open to members with a small tuition, and is also a feature of the Business Girls' Club.

Tuesday—A splendid class in sewing has been organized for regular Thursday evening work, but this week because of the Halloween party the class will make up the lesson on Thursday evening. Several in this class are those taking a systematic course in domestic art under the instruction of Miss Phelps, and will no doubt prove a most profitable class in every way. The class meets from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Thursday—Besides the gymnasium classes on Thursday afternoon and evening it is the big night for the club girls, when the girls who make up the Industrial Girls' Club come for supper and may have a short time for play in the gymnasium; then the regular class in sewing, crocheting, knitting and millinery begins at 7 o'clock. This is just the beginning of many very happy times for the girls this year. The Federation of Industrial Girls' Clubs is the biggest organization within the association as yet, and it is hoped the girls of Clarksburg will respond to the plan as those in other cities have already done.

At the council last July at Western College at Oxford, O., two delegates, Edna Coburn and Winnie Kidd from Clarksburg, represented the club that was to be formed here in Clarksburg. So far the girls have almost twenty-five members and as soon as that number is filled, there will be quite a celebration and it will be the beginning of a great organization of industrial girls of the city.

Thursday night is club night. Last Thursday evening the members of the Business Girls' Club met at the Association to go to the home of Mrs. John J. Davis for the first study of the year in the new course outlined.

A vote was taken and the majority favored the Bible study course which under the leadership of Mrs. Davis will be a rare privilege for all the girls. It is hoped to make this a real home hour for all the girls, and the hour will be all too short for those who must hurry away to take the gymnasium course at the association. All the girls are invited to join this class and it is planned as a special feature of the Business Girls' Club. Mrs. Davis will not only lead in the Bible study but at the request of the girls will no doubt have several talks on current events.

A monthly meeting of the Business Girls' Club will be held Tuesday evening, the first one being on November 14, when the real organization of the club will be affected, and a good program will be enjoyed. As it will be during the "World's Fellowship week" there will be the stereopticon view of the associations of India, and it is hoped to have Miss MacCorkle as the speaker of the evening. As yet the club has a temporary organization with Miss Frankie Pearce as president, and Miss Nelle Lilly as secretary. Committees are at work on the constitution, the year's program and club colors and motto. The membership committee also will be hard at work for the charter members.

With the association only two weeks in the new quarters on Court street it is surprising the rapid strides that the cafeteria has made. It is not the plan to make this a public restaurant to compete with others, but to serve the young women of the city in offering a good home-cooked meal at reasonable prices and prompt service. The cafeteria is open to both men and women and every one seems to find it most satisfying and a happy place to eat. A small reading and rest room is open to all.

The number of classes planned at the first for the gymnasium has been increased because of the demand, and there will no doubt be others too. The small children have their class on Saturday morning, while those of the early teens have a special class after school on Monday and Thursday from 4 to 5 o'clock.

Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock will be the Employed Girls' Club gymnasium hour, including the younger girls from many of the homes and offices, and Monday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock the Business Girls' Club class, which meets also on Thursday evening.

Tuesday evening is play night in the gymnasium, which means games, basketball, volleyball and baseball. But this week, Tuesday night means the Halloween party.

Thursday morning, from 9 to 10 o'clock, the woman's gymnasium class will meet.

The afternoon girls' gymnasium class will be from 4 to 5 o'clock in evening, from 7 to 8 o'clock, the Industrial Club girls, and 8 o'clock the Business Girls' Club.

A special class for school teachers will be organized if enough teachers request it.

Attractive Cary Party.

A very attractive card party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Howell Cooper from 8 to 11 o'clock Saturday evening. Yellow chrysanthemums were used in the floral decorations of the rooms. Auction bridge was played at six tables and later a salad supper was served at small tables. Covers were laid for twenty-four guests.

Married at Parsonage.

Oscar H. Pratt and Miss Joan Butz, both of this city, were married at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the parsonage of the Central Christian church by the Rev. P. M. Baber, pastor of the church.

FIBRE CENTER

Of the World Are the Philippine Islands Planned by the Bureau to Be.

MANILA, Oct. 28.—Plans looking to the raising of the Philippine islands to the position of the fibre center of the world are being undertaken by the bureau of agriculture. Hemp grading established last year by law, has done wonders for the hemp industry and now the bureau is turning its attention to magney sisal in an effort to threaten Mexico's supremacy in these products.

Cheap stripping machines are to be provided to encourage the production of cleaner fibre. Fibre literature is being distributed among all growers, samples of magney and sisal bolls are being sent to all the fibre producing sections and everything is being done to promote fibre production on a large scale.

HORSE SOLVES MYSTERY OF A STOLEN PURSE

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 28.—A mystery of a year's standing has been cleared up. Recently Justice of the Peace W. H. McElvaney, of New Galilee, received a pocketbook containing checks and railroad tickets from Mayor Christopher of Lisbon, O.

Last year Justice McElvaney attended the Columbiana county fair in Lisbon and reported to the authorities that his pocketbook had been stolen from his pocket.

Mrs. McElvaney and a woman friend saw the thief take the pocketbook and the following day the man was arrested in Smith's Ferry, Pa. Mrs. McElvaney identifying him. The grand jury released the prisoner for lack of evidence.

A few days ago J. B. Lyther, of Lisbon, tied his horse to a post in the fair grounds. The horse dug up the pocketbook.

SUFFRAGISTS ARE TO VISIT SALEM SOON

"Flying Squadron" Will Campaign in Second City of the County for Suffrage.

SALEM, Oct. 28.—Salem is to be visited by members of the suffrage "flying squadron" and a public meeting is announced for Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Bank corner if the weather permits out-door speaking, and if not the meeting will be held in the Strand theater. The speakers announced for the occasion are the Hon. C. Burgess Taylor, of Wheeling, and Attorney Millard F. Snider, of Clarksburg. Local suffragists are active in keeping their "votes for women" before the voters and there seems to be a drift in favor of the amendment in this section.

Other Meetings.

Miss Mary Geff, of Colorado, spoke at the bank corner Saturday night on the question of Socialism. The meeting was under the auspices of local Socialists.

John W. Davis, United States solicitor general, is advertised to speak here Wednesday night, November 1.

Republican Rally.

The climax of Republican rallies will take place here Thursday night, November 2, when the Hon. Joseph Holt Gaines, chairman of the Republican state committee and ex-congressman, will be the principal speaker. The exact place of this meeting has not been determined at this time, but it will be the big meeting of the campaign here.

Going to Akron.

L. J. Shahan, who was recently a clerk in the First National Bank here, was greeting friends in town Saturday, before going to Akron, O., where he will likely accept a clerical position.

Kemper Chosen.

T. F. Kemper was chosen chairman of the Wilson and Marshall club at its meeting Thursday night, filling the vacancy caused by the death of D. L. Ferine.

Little Interest.

Little interest and no significance was attached to the much heeded "Wilson Day," October 28. No additional Wilson pictures were displayed with the American flag, and even partisan Democrats neglected to observe the day.

Personals.

David Drucker, the well known traveling salesman of Baltimore, visited his regular trade here Friday.

Camden Lowther was here from Mannington this week with his family.

Deputy Sheriff G. W. Conley made sittings in Tenmile district the last week for the collection of taxes, giving the usual discounts.

MRS JOSEPH VELTRY WHO MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED THREE WEEKS AGO FROM THEIR HOME AT HAYWOOD.

Joseph Veltry, a coal miner, of Haywood, is conducting a wide search for his wife and their eight-months-old baby who mysteriously disappeared from their home at Haywood three weeks ago. He came to Clarksburg and made further arrangements for the search, including the offer of a cash reward of $25 to any one who will give him information as to where his wife and baby are.

The missing woman's given name is Carrie. She is rather small, weighing only about ninety-five pounds. She has black hair and black eyes and has a very dark complexion. Her baby has black hair and eyes and is very small for its age.

The distracted husband believes his wife has been enticed away by another man. He has appealed to police authorities to aid him in his search with the request that she be arrested if found, as well as any man who may be with her.
