

RUNNING TO FORM IS A DEAD CARD. THE ODDS SEEM TO AFFECT MANY OF THE BANG-TAILS NOW RACING. ROUGH DAY FOR FAVORITES.

JOE COTTON AND CAPTAIN REES WERE THE ONLY TWO IN FRONT YESTERDAY.

About the end of the present week's racing there will be a small library of "dope" books for sale. They are at a great discount at the present time, most of those that care to play money on the races following the close of the season. And, as the game drags on, this seems to be about the best method of beating the runners. Two favorites winning out of six on a good track sound very "Guttenburg," but that was the best they could do yesterday.

The conditions of most of the races prevent owners that have a fairly good horse from racing, most of them favoring the owners of "dogs" that are in arrears to the jockey club for back entrance money.

The first race recorded a very pleasant surprise—the reappearance of the well-known orange with green sash and pink cap colors of Theodore Winters. Adelaide, a son of El Rio Rey, carried them, and was made a warm favorite, but ran unplaced.

Loth, a 6 to 1 chance, made all the running, and won handily from Bobolink, Prince finishing third.

I looked very much to me as though the horse that could have won the second race, a six-furlong run, didn't have to. Commission, opening at 6 to 5, closed 9 to 10, carrying the "hobo" money. Arnette was well played by some of the heavy bettors at 6 to 1, and so was Arctic for the place.

When the flag fell to a rather poor start, Arctic, away second, went out in front, followed by Commission, and this last-named horse, who has run in hot company, couldn't head the rattle-headed dog, but galloped behind him into the stretch. Down the stretch Flynn swung Indian clubs for awhile, did a few song-and-dance steps, a flip-flap and a twister and finally landed in third place at the wire. Arnette, looking hopelessly out of it, whistled down brakes, ran around the field, and won by a length from Arctic. He is a good filly and it was a hotly contested race.

The third race, a light welter-weight race, five furlongs, proved a gift for Joe Cotton, the 9 to 1 favorite, who won handily from McFarland. Abi P, seemed unable to negotiate her weight, 130 pounds, and finished an indifferent third, indifferently ridden.

For the fourth race, short six furlongs, Major McLaughlin opened a warm 6 to 5 first choice, but on its being reported that he warmed up lame his price in the betting receded to 2 1/2 to 1, and from fours Venus was backed down to 6 to 5. The Duchess of Milpitas opened at 10 to 1, but Pittsburg Phil's money brought her price down to sixes at post time.

Venus sailed out in front as the flag fell to a pretty start, followed by Tom Clarke. Dan Williams' speedy filly led Clarke into the stretch by fully three lengths, and it looked all over. A little before the eighth pole it looked as though Chevalier took matters too easy for the favorite, and the field collapsed him. The Duchess of Milpitas soon showed in front, with Major McLaughlin, who came from the far rear, hot at her heels. In a driving finish A. Isom landed the Duchess first by a short half length. Venus ended up a fair third.

Red Pat and the Lark were the talent's pick for the mile and a quarter hurdle race on the outside track, over five jumps. Odds of 2 to 1 were at one time obtainable against the first named, but at post time 8 to 5 was the general price. The Lark, against which the odds were 8 to 5, led early in the betting, closed at 6 to 5. Bellringer at 7 to 1 was also well supported.

St. Jacob made a bluff at running the first part of the race, heading Red Pat over the second hurdle, but after that there was nothing in it but the horse with the Celtic name, although the last forty yards Bellringer made it decidedly interesting for him, coming with a rush and being beaten but half a length by the Lark, on which Clancy seemed to wait too long, finished third.

The seven-furlong run that ended the day's sport was captured by the 6 to 10 favorite, Captain Rees, with Griffin and Chartreuse, the second choice, finished in second position a neck away, although Griffin could have lengthened it out a little more.

There were twelve bookmakers that "cut in" did a good business, a great improvement on Monday's betting. MULLHOLLAND'S SUMMARY.

Good start. Won handily. Time, 3:17 1/2. Winner, ch. g. by George Kinney-Kate Clark. Betting: Captain Rees 9 to 10, Chartreuse 13 to 5, Mulberry 10 to 1, Realization 5 to 1, O'Brien 15 to 1, Polaski 8 to 1.

Around the Ring. Mulberry ran his first race at the meeting yesterday and showed up very creditably. Bookmaker Hayden played some money on Killy L at long odds. Grannan's best win of the day was on Arnette. He lost heavily on Venus and was whipsawed in the last run, playing Chartreuse and Polaski.

Pittsburg Phil played Realization in the last race, but he picked up a good bet by playing Duchess of Milpitas all around the field to win the fourth race. Abe Levy bet some money on Abe P. Charley Quinn cashed two tickets on Joe Cotton and Red Pat.

Dave Giddon played Captain Rees heavily to win the last, but put a few hundred on Chartreuse as a saver. W. O. B. Macdonough put a good sized bet down on Chartreuse to win. Tom Ryan and Barney Schrieber will shortly sell off some of their horses in training at the county fair.

THIRD ANNUAL 100-MILE RELAY.

PERSONNEL OF THE ACME AND CALIFORNIA CYCLE CLUB TEAMS.

ZIEGLER FOR THE ACMES.

PRIZE LIST OF THE MEET AT SAN JOSE ON APRIL 19 AND 20.

Sunday last four of the prominent bicycle clubs who will enter teams in the great relay race of April 7, held preliminary try-outs over the San Leandro course. They were the Reliance and Acme clubs of Oakland and the Bay City Wheelmen and California Cycling Club of this city.

Remarkable time was made by the members of any of the clubs, but the ten-mile trout of the California Club materially aided Captain Burke and President Wynne in selecting their relay team for 1895, which will be made up of the following men: J. W. Harvey, William Reed, F. Struven, E. Erbe, W. G. Lovie, H. A. Friedlander, William Klutz, A. Thiesen, H. Eeberg and A. Alcayaga. These men are all local talent, as the club rightly does not believe in importing Eastern racing talent for a purely home race, in which regard the Bay City Wheelmen are also conscientious. But the above list comprises some excellent road riders, who will ride the race through and make a fine showing.

The Acme Club's 10-mile trout Sunday had fourteen starters, and the best time made was 28 min. 33 sec., which was good considering the condition of the roads. Captain Kitchen had his eyes on the men, and from their performances, past and present, picked nine of his relay team for 1895 as follows: J. R. Sampson, M. F. Rose, O. L. Pickard, Frank M. Byrne, G. Y. Nissen, E. W. Decker, W. A. Burke, J. Schellen, J. T. A. Schleuter, Byrne is the crack rider of the Imperial Club, Burke is a Los Angeles rider of great speed and Nissen is one of the Bay City Wheelmen's best class A riders, but as he lives in Alameda he will ride for the Acmes. The others are all home talent. The tenth man on the team is not yet selected. He may be Ziegler or J. A. Howard, or the captain hints he may have a surprise in store for us, somebody.

President Wynne and the road-racing committee of the California associated cycling clubs, being dissatisfied with the last part of the tenth relay, went over the ground Sunday and changed it as follows: Coming along the country road, turning into Fourteenth street, thence to Eleventh street, thence to Fourth street, and along the latter to Seventeenth street, turning into Fourteenth street and finishing at Ninth avenue. This is a great improvement over the proposed finish at Lake Merritt, where the roadway is bad and the street narrow.

In the Bay City Wheelmen's road race Sunday, a five-mile handicap event from Fruitvale to Hayward, W. C. Brode won with 1 min. 45 sec. handicap. W. A. Terwiller made best time, 14 min. 8 sec.

The Reliance Club of Oakland also ran a five-mile trout and Captain Bates will announce his relay team this week. The Bay City Wheelmen's team will not be made up until next Friday or Saturday.

All the wheelmen will be interested in seeing the prize list for the great meet to be held at San Jose April 19 and 20, which is as follows:

Friday, April 19, novice race, gold and silver medals, worth $35 and $15 respectively. One mile invitation, class A, first prize, $50 suit of clothes; second, piano lamp and rosewood chair, $30; third, $15 upholstered arm chair.

Two-mile class, class A, handicap, first prize $50 diamond locket; second, $25 onyx table; third, $15 cycling suit.

Two-mile scratch, class B, two beautiful unset diamonds for first and second prizes, worth $150 and $80 respectively; third, $25 overcoat.

One-mile handicap, class B, diamonds worth $150 and $85 for first and second place, and a $20 traveling bag for third.

For Saturday, April 20, one-mile handicap, class A, first prize, $50 gold watch; second, $30 chiffonier; third, $10 trousers.

One-third mile scratch, class A, first prize, $40 silver service; second, $25 carving set; third, $10 watch.

One mile class B, invitation, first $150 unset diamond; second, $85 diamond; third, $40 diamond.

One-half handicap, class B, first, $150 diamond; second, $85 diamond; third, $25 pair link Chinese handbag, first $40 gold watch; second $18 cycling suit; third, $4 sweater.

Altogether this is the most valuable prize list ever offered at a race meet in California, and it will attract the best riders from all over the State.

LADIES AT THE OLYMPIC. A GYMNASIUM MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT THAT WAS LARGELY PATRONIZED.

MISS COOK'S CORNET SOLO WAS A SPECIAL FEATURE OF INTEREST.

The gymnasium of the Olympic Club was captured by the ladies last evening. It was "Ladies' Night" and the excellent exhibition was witnessed by at least 3000 people, with the ladies in the majority. Leader Hammersmith was congratulated on all sides for the excellent programme he consisted of all kinds of gymnastic performances, with vocal and instrumental music sandwiched in between the acts. The cornet solo by Miss May Cook was a very interesting feature, which received a well deserved encore.

One of the most laughable and thoroughly appreciated specialties was the stretching out of one of the ladies, who whistling solo by O. A. Crable, who appeared on the stage dressed as a fashionable young miss from school.

His impersonation was so perfect that a large number of the ladies present did not realize their mistake as to his sex until a young whistler made his second appearance, then a general laugh resulted. Crable's whistling was, in point of sweetness, far ahead of the California meadow lark, which is ranked as the leader of Western song birds.

So far as the gymnastic performances were concerned the various feats of athletic skill were splendidly executed. The Marshalls' only cause for complaint was the stretching out of some of the events until they became tiresome to the spectators. The programme was as follows:

Overture; triple horizontal bars, H. Belau, G. C. Rathbun, W. S. Lindsay; triple acrobatic, J. R. Larue, A. and L. Lansburg; selection to date, general, was born. All this (accompanied by J. Cooney; perch act, G. S. Meibling and W. N. Hog; club swinging, Paul J. Bernhard; cornet, "Souvenir de la Suisse," A. L. Lewis; Miss May Cook; balancing trapeze, G. S. Pettis; whistling (imitating Mrs. Alice Shaw) O. A. Crable; aerial balancing ladder, L. Lansburg and N. S. Hog; fencing (Fifteenth Century), L. Tronchet and E. Lastrero, E. B. Minville and J. H. Herrigan; violin, Ains Hoogroets (H. W.

A MONTANA MAN'S SCHEME EXPOSED.

HE ENDEAVORS TO EVADE THE LOTTERY LAW AND GETS INTO TROUBLE.

TRAP TO CATCH THE UNWARY.

HUNDREDS OF SAN FRANCISCANS HAVE BITTEN AT THE TEMPTING PLUM.

Dispatches from Butte, Montana, announce that Henry L. Haupt, president of the Montana Mining, Loan and Investment Company, domiciled in that city, is now being tried before the United States court on the charge of sending non-mailable matter through the mails. The company is well known in San Francisco among those who to every month spend a few dollars in the hope that "lottery lightning" will come their way and by others seeking a legitimate investment. Haupt is a cigar-dealer, at the corner of Clay and East streets, is the Pacific Coast agent.

The scheme of the company is peculiarly seductive, and was concocted to evade the lottery laws. It was said in the circulars that the company owned several rich mines and had a paid up capital stock of $12,000,000. Each share of stock was placed at $120, which could be paid in one sum, or in amounts ranging from 10 cents to $1.

It was said in the circulars that the company owned several rich mines and had a paid up capital stock of $12,000,000. Each share of stock was placed at $120, which could be paid in one sum, or in amounts ranging from 10 cents to $1.

On the 20th of each month the company made, or pretended to make, "loans" aggregating $55,000, with a "principal loan" of $15,000. The Honolulu and Little Havana lotteries call these monthly distributions "prizes," and the Postoffice officials are now endeavoring to make Mr. Haupt explain the difference between a "loan" and a "prize," and why he never expected to pay back, and the prize system used by the various lottery companies. Thousands of people in San Francisco and along the coast have been induced to part with their dollars in the vain hope of securing a "loan," or failing in that, ultimately become shareholders in the rich mining properties which Haupt said his company owned. People who are unalterably opposed to lotteries have not hesitated to give their money in this so-called mining stock. In the trial now going on in Butte it has developed that the capital stock of the company consists of a dozen worthless mining claims located by Haupt and donated to the company in consideration of $100. Upon representation that he intended organizing a legitimate mining company Haupt induced many of Montana's most prominent citizens to join the company, and the banks were used as references, and Haupt was doing a rushing business when arrested. In one of his circulars Haupt says: "The Montana Mining, Loan and Investment Company was organized for the purpose of prospecting, locating and acquiring mining properties and making other investments, and for the loaning of money."

Henry C. Mangels, the Pacific Coast agent, is not much disturbed over the arrest of President Haupt, as he declares that any one unwise enough to buy a lottery ticket expecting to get something for nothing should be swindled.

"All lotteries are frauds," said Mangels yesterday, "and I just rely on it that the manager knows before a drawing takes place where every dollar is going. Haupt's company may be a fraud, but it is no worse than any of the rest. We have done comparatively little business in making, only one small loan of $500 in Oakland. I can't recall the name of the person just now, but the money came through the First National Bank. I'm in the business for what money I can make out of it, but I think any man is a fool who buys a lottery ticket."

The certificate is a model of ingenuity and is well calculated to attract any man with a few dollars to spare. It reads as follows: "This is to certify that the holder hereof has paid the above-named company the sum of $1, part payment on a share of stock in said company of the par value of $120 per share, the balance due on said share being payable in monthly installments of $1 each. This certificate entitles the holder to make application for a loan from said company if presented within ninety days from the date hereof."

Carrington in his room, and requested him to go with them to the office of the Chief of Police for the purpose of being interviewed on certain criminal charges.

Carrington offered no word of protest, and made no sign of resistance. He simply proceeded to make a speedy end of all his impending troubles, real or imagined. He told the officers he would be ready to go with them in a minute, and he had passed clear through his brain, and killed him instantly. It was all done so quickly and unceremoniously that the officers had not time
