

THREE FAVORITES FIRST. Wheel of Fortune Won the Opening Race in an Exciting Drive. GRIFFIN WOULD NOT RIDE. The Lark Won the Hurdle Race, Clipping a Fraction Off the Record.

The crowd that strolled out to the Bay District yesterday was larger numerically and seemed to be much more bountifully supplied with cash than the Monday's gathering. The twelve bookmakers that were in the "cut" yesterday were pleasantly surprised by the volume of the play. Among the new names that appeared on the bookmakers' boards was that of N. S. Hall, the "jumping horse" man, and Nick's carmine whiskers had great effect in dissipating the gloom that has enshrouded the betting ring since the plungers' departure.

Favorites and outsiders broke even, three of each winning. Although he had accepted a mount in every race but the steeplechase, Harry Griffin was not seen in the saddle yesterday. The young jockey considered that the $250 fine imposed on him Monday by Starter Ferguson was exorbitant and refused to ride, and I think his action perfectly justifiable. Riding a 7 to 1 favorite, Contribution, he was naturally eager to get as good a start as possible and could not be blamed. On the other hand, had he accepted the worst of the start and finished where he did, second, the "croakers" would have said he tried to take the worst of it. Griffin has been a well-behaved boy at the post, and it seems strange that after weeks of work in the saddle he should have a fine amount of this one imposed on him two weeks before his departure for the East. It is unjust, and Griffin does right when he stays on the ground.

Backed down from three to 7 to 5, Joe Harvey's speedy filly Wheel of Fortune proved the proper thing in the first race. Venus was a strong second choice at 11 to 6, and Capt. Custer at 5 to 2 was by no means overlooked with Carr up.

When the flag fell McAdiff beat the flag a couple of lengths with Terra Nova and led the field to the stretch. Dying away, Hanford and the Duchess of Milpitas apparently had the race to themselves, when Ison slipped through on the inside with the favorite and won cleverly by a length. The Duchess second a length in front of Hanford.

Nephew clearly outclassed his field in the second race, but in his workouts has been obliged to use crutches, which made bettors a trifle shy. Starting at even money, he won by a neck from Nellie G, with Fleet wood a good third.

Had Glover's ability in the saddle been as good as his intentions, Bookmaker Humphrey's gelding, Joe Cotton, might have won the light weight-race at five furlongs, the third race on the card; but Carr on Nellie B, the second choice, landed her first by a length through superior jockeyship. Joe Cotton was second, a head in front of Fly, who had been backed down from 10 to 4 to 1, and led until well down the stretch. Opening at even money, Cotton receded in the betting to 8 to 5, when he was backed down to 6 to 5.

Of the original twenty-two entries for the fourth race, a six-furlong race for horses that had not won two races at the meeting, seven were scratched, leaving fifteen to go to the post. From two Seraphin was quickly backed down to 7 to 5. Of the others, Boreas, Centurion, Arctic and Hiram Argo received the most support.

After some delay the flag fell with the favorite away second. She led into the stretch by a length, with Boreas, who had made a fine run from sixth place, second. Bookmaker Rose's horse proved too strong a finisher for the favorite and beat her out a length. Warrago, a 30 to 1 chance, finished in third place.

After opening an even money favorite, and going back to 3 to 1, The Lark won the mile and a half hurdle race, running the distance in 2:40 1/2, knocking a quarter of a second off the coast record. Red Pat, who opened at three, and was backed down, ran an excellent race, and looked a winner up to the last jump, when The Lark collapsed and passed him. He finished second half a length in front of Captain Custer. Royal Flush and Captain Rees looked to have the last race, a seven-furlong run, between them, and they finished one, two. Royal Flush started an even money favorite, while a 10 to 5 was obtainable against the Captain.

OLYMPIC WHEELMEN. They May Not Be Represented in the Road Race. The Olympic Club Wheelmen had a meeting last evening and judging from the way they talked of Castleman, the Southern wheelman who had promised to ride with them in the great road race of next Saturday, it is only reasonable to presume that the Olympic Club will not be represented in the race. The political adviser of the cyclists, Jack McGlynn, stated that Castleman is a real mean fellow because he has given the Olympic boys a cold shoulder and promised to ride with the Acme Club team. It is true that Castleman has consented to ride with the Acme Club's team, and as a consequence the Olympic boys feel put out and may not be represented in the race of Saturday.

CALIFORNIA MINER'S ACT. A Fifty Cent Per Capita Assessment on County Organizations. A Representative Will Be Sent to Washington to Present Facts.

The executive committee of the California Miners' Association met last night to hear the report of a special committee on the subject of raising funds to carry on the objects of the association. J. H. Neff of Placer County presided. The committee reported that as one of the ways of raising funds it had devised a certificate to be given to each person making a contribution of $5. That portion of the report was adopted, and it was resolved that those who placed certificates were to be allowed 5 per cent commission. The committee also presented a suggestion that a financial statement be drawn up, to show what money had been received by the association and how it had been disbursed. This was also adopted.

After a lengthy discussion it was, on motion, decided to send a representative to every county organization, according to membership, and that the organizations, not the individuals, should be looked to for the money. The matter of penalty for non-payment was left for further consideration. Mr. Parsons said that he had the day before attended a meeting of the Board of Trade, and that that body while in strong sympathy with the objects of the association thought that the miners who are directly interested should contribute more than they had done. "Still, the board to show how it felt toward the association," said Mr. Parsons, "we determined to present to the committee to-night its check for $1000," and with that he laid the check before the president.

After this, when a bicyclist goes to the country for an outing on his wheel, he will have to carry a proof of good character to avoid arrest as a robber when a stage or a train is held up by highwaymen.

POLO TEAMS AND PONIES. Arrangements Complete for the Tournament at Burlingame. FIELD IN FINE CONDITION. The Fourth Cavalry Men and Home Team to Play the Opening Game.

The red and blue colors of the club wave over the polo grounds at Burlingame. Captain Wainwright ran them up yesterday. As director-general of the club he surveyed the field and pronounced everything in perfect condition for the tournament, which opens to-morrow afternoon and continues again on Saturday. Then he went over to the clubhouse and indulged in a brandy and soda and entertained his listeners with a discourse on polo.

The captain is an Englishman. He wears an English outfit suit, strikes an English pipe, takes long English strides and is referred to by his friends as a capital all-around good fellow. He has given close attention to the arrangements for the coming tournament, and will allow no person on the grounds until the opposing teams meet in the great struggle of Thursday and again on Saturday. The Fourth Cavalry team and the Burlingame players will struggle for victory on the first day and the winners will play the Riverside men on Saturday.

There will be no more practicing. The ponies will be allowed to rest to-day that they may be better able to withstand the fatigues of to-morrow. The three teams will be on the grounds this morning.

A GROUP OF FOURTH CAVALRY POLO-PLAYERS TAKING A REST AFTER LIGHT PRACTICE AT BURLINGAME.

They are of the cayuse breed, the untamed steeds of the Indians of the north. The cavalry officers seem to have them in good control, however, and the little animals strain every muscle in response to the urgent commands of their daring riders. The players have relays for the three different periods, though some of the lighter men expect to play the entire game through with one pony. The ponies of the Burlingame team are in the pink of condition. They have been training for weeks past at the Bay District track. Richard Tobin will have two mounts—Galloping Dick and Buckskin—and Joe Tobin will ride Mab and Andrey. John Lawson will ride Gossoon in addition to two mounts, and Harry Simpkins will appear on Jumping Jack. The ponies are now all at Burlingame and will be rested thoroughly in preparation for to-morrow's contest.

Weather Report for March. The report of the Weather Bureau, issued from the United States Department of Agriculture, for the month of March, shows that the city has been favored with nine clear days, fifteen partly clouded days and seven cloudy days. Frost was noticed four days, on the 14th, 15th, 24th and 30th of March. The mean temperature of any day in the month was 40 degrees Fahrenheit, on the 13th, while the hottest day was the 25th, with a temperature of 70 degrees. The prevailing winds have been from the west.

CHANGES IN BOXING RULES. They Are Opposed by Corbett for Very Good Reasons. PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 2.—James J. Corbett, talking of proposed changes in the boxing rules as advocated by the Olympic Club at New Orleans, declared himself opposed to making five-minute rounds and two-minute rests. It is not necessary, he said, for any changes, and none are likely to be made. The present rules were adopted by universal consent, and nothing short of that can change them. If the Olympic Club is allowed to make changes every club in the country can do the same thing, and there would be no standard for boxing tournaments. Corbett is opposed to two-minute rests because it would give a winded man too much chance to recuperate.

ANGLER AND SPORTSMAN. Trout-Catchers Report That the Streams Are Too High. The Governor Asked to Appoint a Commissioner From the South. Some of the anglers who took their departure from this city last Saturday with the intention of having the first whip of the season at favorite streams have returned, and report that the creeks are too high for good fishing. Messrs. Swan, O'Rourke, Williams and Douglas attacked the Glen Ellen stream and some of its tributaries on Monday, but they retired from the whip after a few hours' fishing somewhat disgusted with their luck. It is referred to by his friends as a capital all-around good fellow. He has given close attention to the arrangements for the coming tournament, and will allow no person on the grounds until the opposing

Some members of the Country Club did fairly well by worming the small creek that meanders through Bear Valley. Several lucky sized trout filled the creels of the lucky club anglers. The Olema Creek panned out very well for those who fished that stream. Contractor McLaughlin caught fifty nice fish in Purissima Creek, and says that the trout of that favorite resort have not yet finished spawning, as many of the fish he had taken contained roe or milt. The Taylor brothers of South San Francisco fished the San Gregorio and Purissima creeks and report having had good success, returning with well-filled baskets of small fish. Should the weather remain fine all the creeks will be in good order by next Sunday, and good sport should follow.

The following communication from C. A. Loud of the Southern California Kennel Club at Los Angeles is self-explanatory. The gentleman believes, as the CALL has said, that Southern California should have a representative on the Board of Fish Commissioners of this State:

LOS ANGELES, March 28, 1895. Editor Morning Call: It was with no little pleasure that the sportsmen of Southern California read in a recent issue of your paper your article on the appointment of the members of a board of fish and game commissioners. They were indeed pleased to see that you fully recognized the justice of their demand for representation on this important board. All that great stretch of country—in fact, nearly half of the State—is a richly watered soil of Southern California has no representation on the board as now constituted. Since the commencement of the commission very many thousands of dollars have been drawn from the State treasury for the purpose of propagating and protecting our game and fish. Of this large sum not one dollar had been expended in the interest of Southern California up to the time of the appointment of our fellow-citizen, Hon. H. L. Macnell, about two years ago, and that in justice we have keenly felt and repeatedly condemned.

Southern California has become an important factor in the prosperity of the State. It has done so by its share in making the name of California a household word in every home of the civilized world. It pays into the public treasury nearly one-third of the entire revenue of the State, and yet, so far as the Fish Commission is concerned, experience of the past has demonstrated that without a representative of our game and fish. A gentleman possessing this knowledge in the fullest degree, a pioneer of this section, a practical sportsman and angler, and an enthusiastic devotee of fish and game protection, has been selected by the sportsmen of the south, and heartily inducted into the office of commissioner. We have great confidence in Governor Budd and believe that as soon as the press of business left upon his hands by the adjournment of the Legislature is dispatched he will consider our appeals for representation on the commission by one conversant with our game and fish. A gentleman realizing the comparative isolation which our remote situation from the home of the present commissioner makes apparent, and fully understanding the impracticability of any Board of Commissioners concerning our interests when none of whom are in any way acquainted with our country, its needs, and its conditions. Especially must this be so when these gentlemen have to serve without compensation.

Grand American Handicap. NEW YORK, N. Y., April 2.—The third annual grand American handicap at live pigeon shooting will begin on Thursday morning at Willard's Park, Paterson, N. J. Amateur and professional wing shots from nearly every State in the Union have entered and an interesting contest is looked for. "Droppers" will not be heard of in this year's shoot, as the three highest guns will score for the money. To-morrow's tournament will consist of sweepstakes, in which the "shooters" will try their nerve and get a line on their possibilities of success upon the big event, which will begin on Thursday morning. Among those who have already entered the big prize contests are C. F. Thomas and J. S. Sedman, of Denver, and J. A. R. Elliott, of Kansas City.

Young Corbett Matched. LOS ANGELES, CAL., April 2.—Young Corbett (George Green) of San Francisco and Billy Gallagher, boxing-master of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, were matched to-night to box twenty-five rounds, catchweights, on April 23. Green goes to Santa Monica to-morrow to begin training.
