The police have so far been unable to find a clue to the murders of James Howard, the harness-cleaner of Wells, Fargo & Co. G. A. Ravetz was arrested for selling liquor to Fred Hallis, a boy 13 years of age, in the Mechanics' Pavilion on Tuesday night.

Assemblyman H. G. W. Dinkelspiel and Miss Estelle Jacobs were married last evening. Rabbi Jacob Nieto performed the ceremony. T. F. Bonnet and E. Maloney defeated M. J. Kitchell of Denver and Dennis Dealy of Oakland at handball in the Occidental court last night.

Judge Slack yesterday awarded a commission of $12,500 to G. H. Umbson & Co. for management and sale of the property of W. B. Ryer, deceased. Dr. Clinton went on record in his address to the graduates of the Lincoln Evening School as a eulogist of San Francisco schools and teachers.

A test of the truck fender was made yesterday, and Superintendent Vining of the railway company seemed to favor this newest device for saving life. Herman Bruening, a married man, 28 years of age, living at 610 1/2 Polk street, died at the Receiving Hospital last evening, it is supposed from opium poisoning.

and Charles W. Reed, while Reel B. Terry appeared as special prosecuting counsel on behalf of Dr. Levingston, who was also present. Attorney Reed started the ball rolling by offering a motion to dismiss on the ground that the complaint was inadequate, inasmuch as it failed to include the whole of the article, or rather the communication to Governor Budd, in which the libel was said to have occurred.

"The defendants," said Mr. Reed, "have simply done what they conceived to be a public duty. They opposed the appointment of Dr. Levingston to a public office and had sent their protest to Governor Budd. The Governor had, they presumed, then notified Dr. Levingston and he had written to the Governor that if they had charges to make against him to make them specifically, so he would have an opportunity of replying and clearing his character of all accusations made."

"In response these gentlemen, representing the Civic Federation, looked up the records and made an investigation of the facts brought to their attention and had sent a communication embodying the result to the Governor. "He did not think the complaint was fair or complete or such as would bring out the true state of the case in regard to the alleged libel. There were a great many serious allegations against Dr. Levingston in the article complained of, and Dr. Levingston in making the complaint singled out two or three which were of minor importance. If the others were included and were given the opportunity to prove that they are true we would be able to show that Dr. Levingston is beyond libeling."

Attorney McNab said: "We do not propose to be technical, but will go into the fullest investigation into the character and official record of Dr. Levingston. The complaint is so drawn up that the evidence would necessarily be restricted to the two or three minor allegations. We want to have the utmost latitude to prove all the charges contained in the communication." "A wide range will be allowed counsel," said Judge Joachimsen, "so that we can get at the facts."

That was satisfactory to both sides, and the Judge set the case for hearing on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. GIBSON IS TO LECTURE. The Subject of His Discourse to Be "The Crime of a Century."

I have the honor to advise you that I have directed a salute to be fired from the forts in the harbor of San Francisco, Cal., on June 17, 1895, the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The officers waited until he had returned the glass, and then placed Ravetz under arrest for selling liquor to a minor. The boy gave his name as Fred Hollis, and his age as 13 years. The case was called in Judge Lov's court yesterday morning and was continued till to-day. The defense, it is said, will be that the boy was in the habit of going to the Pavilion with his father, and going to the bar for a glass of beer to take to his father, who was too lazy to walk to the bar himself. The bartender will swear that the boy said the beer was for his father.

The bridegroom was accompanied by Ed Dinkelspiel, his brother, who acted as best man. With the bride were Miss Dinkelspiel and Miss Carrie Jacobs, her bridesmaids. These two young ladies were alike dressed in white polka-dotted satin, trimmed with mousseline de soie. They carried bouquets of pink roses. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and sweet peas. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Jacob Nieto, who delivered an opening address. He was assisted by Cantor E. J. Stark of the Temple Emanuel-Ei, who recited in Hebrew the blessing appropriate to the occasion. FRONT VIEW OF THE PROPOSED NEW HOTEL NEAR GOLDEN GATE PARK.

A syndicate of capitalists have arranged to build a large hotel near Golden Gate Park. The plans have been drawn, and most of the preliminaries have been completed. The structure will be 500 by 200 feet in size on the ground plan, and it will have three stories. It will be picturesque, in Spanish design, with a large interior court, and will be of wood and brick. The grounds will consist of a 600-foot block owned by a local capitalist, and the hotel will be owned by a number of San Francisco gentlemen, and will be conducted in first-class style. The object is to make this hotel a pleasure resort in summer and winter for people who wish to come from the interior of the State, or from other States or foreign countries, for the purpose of enjoying the refreshing sea breezes of this climate, and at the same time be near Golden Gate Park. Connected with the new hotel will be an extensive livery stable and cyclery.
