THE WEEK.

WEDDINGS possessing more than ordinary interest to society took place during the week—the Brown-Scott wedding in San Francisco and the Lang-McKee marriage in Oakland.

The Santa Cruz water fête claimed the attention of society people during the week, and many ladies and gentlemen well known in society circles went to this resort on the bay of Monterey.

Several weddings for the coming week have been announced. Trips to Alaska and the Yosemite Valley seem to be popular with society people this summer.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. George Crocker of New York, and the arrival of Lady Hesketh from London, are noted as society events of the week.

Young ladies, recently graduated from colleges and high schools, have been complimented with parties in their honor.

WHAT IS GOING ON.

A VERY pleasant gathering of the friends of the Episcopal church, San Mateo, took place in the parish house, last Tuesday evening. The ladies of the church guild had the matter in charge and issued the invitation. A varied program, containing something to suit everybody, was presented. The "Mother Goose" reception by fifteen prettily costumed young folks was very nicely personated. A musical programme was rendered by Mrs. J. H. Dosne, pianoforte; Miss Agnes Reynolds, mezzo-soprano; Miss Mary E. Nichols, violin, and William S. Jack, tenor. Flower-decked refreshment tables were covered with things good to eat and drink. The main floor was reserved for dancing. Elmer Anderson had charge of the dance program. The Rev. J. R. de Wolfe Cowan and Mrs. Cowie were present and helped materially in making the occasion an enjoyable one.

About seventy-five of the "old people" from the "Crocker Home" spent the day at Mills College last Thursday. This is an interesting party which took forward to through the year with a great deal of pleasure. It is a great treat to them to go about the beautiful grounds and to see the new buildings which remind them of their early childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crocker returned from their western trip last Monday, after occupying their home on California street. Just previous to Mr. Crocker's departure from New York city a dinner party was given in his honor by Herman Oelrichs. Fourteen gentlemen were present and among them were John W. McKay, O. Mills, Adrian Iselin, Theodore Havemeyer, Charles Childs, Mr. Sturges and Colonel C. F. Crocker.

Miss Rutherdale, daughter of Mrs. George Crocker, sailed from Europe last Wednesday for New York City. After her arrival she will visit Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and Miss Virginia Fair at Newport for three weeks and then return to this city, accompanied by her brother, Alexander H. Rutherdale. They will remain here during the summer months.

Augustus Comte Jr. has issued invitations for the wedding of his daughter, Miss Pauline Comte, to Robert Emmet O'Connell, which will take place at half-past 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 26, at the Church of Notre Dame des Victories.

Mrs. Rounseville Wildman gave a pink luncheon last Tuesday at her residence and entertained Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Stephen, Mrs. Louis Aldrich, Mrs. J. Condit Smith, Mrs. Colonel Chandler, Mrs. Frank M. Pixley, Mrs. M. B. Toland and Mrs. S. W. Holtzner.

The Music Teachers' Association of California gave a musical last Monday evening at Byron Fairbank's 305 Bay street. It was a charming affair throughout, and music of a high order, vocal and instrumental, was rendered.

The company is composed of some eighteen young men and women, and has Dr. Reading as treasurer and Herward Hoy as stage manager. They are to perform at Victoria, at Sitka, and possibly at one or two other places up north. The repertoire consists of "Love on Crutches" and "The Yellow Curtain."

BETROTHALS.

CARDS are out for the wedding on the 26th inst. of Robert Emmet O'Connell and Miss Pauline Juliette, daughter of Augustus Comte Jr. The ceremony will take place at the Church of Notre Dame des Victories at 8:30 o'clock.

The wedding of George Gordon and Miss Annie Brillant will take place in the latter part of June.

The marriage of Miss Mamie Sheehan, daughter of D. J. Sheehan of this city, to P. Martin of San Jose, will take place on Tuesday next.

ner, and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Brown left to pass their honeymoon at Castle Crags. The wedding of Miss Nellie McKee and Mr. Norman K. Lang took place last Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. A. McKee, 1033 Adeline street, Oakland. The ceremony was performed by Right Rev. Bishop W. F. Nichols. The residence was prettily decorated with pink and white sweet peas and pink carnations that had been sent from Redondo Beach. The bridal table was adorned with La France roses and orange-blossoms after the wedding. Refreshments were served, and the couple left for Southern California to pass the honeymoon.

Among those present were: Daisy Simpkin, Grace Lewitt, Clara Fuller, Gertrude Rocke, Elsie Anderson, Emily Cheyresen, Mae Corbett, Emily Collins, Jennette Perry, Ida Gilbert and Blanche Anderson; Will Isell, John Terry, Emmanuel Franklin, Jack Kellner, Ernest Hewson, Ray Hursh, Orley Angevine and Harry Simpkin.

Harrison-Street Surprise.

A surprise party which proved to be a brilliant success was given to Miss Minnie Byrne at her residence on Harrison street last Tuesday evening by her many friends prior to her departure for the East.

A very pleasant party was spent last Sunday by party of friends from the city, at Edenvale, Napa county, the beautiful country residence of the Misses Annie and Mattie Kelly. Those who formed the merry party were delighted with the charming spot and much time was spent among the magnificent redwoods which have made Edenvale famous.

A Rose Surprise.

On Friday evening, the 14th inst., a surprise party was tendered Miss Lulu Perkins by Charles de Gear and friends at her residence. It was what may be termed a rose party, as the queen of summer flowers was the principal factor of decoration.

Dancing, recitations and games were indulged in throughout the evening, and at midnight the guests repaired to the spacious dining-room, which was very prettily decorated, and the table also showed an exquisite elaboration of adornment which was really artistic.

The guests of the evening were: Misses G. Ginn, E. Lantieri, A. White, Laura de Gear, Eliza Ginn, Louise de Gear, Ada George, Antonette Frahm, L. Macdonald, L. Newbert, Miss Zahl, Cora de Gear, Mollie Ellis, E. Ellis, Elsie Zahl, Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Williams, Miss F. Perkins, Annie T. Perkins, Miss Fies, Miss Dugan, Miss Lewis, Miss Monroe, Miss Lake, Mrs. E.
