

WHITE CRUISERS IN PORT. The Olympia Returns From Her Run and Proves to Be a Peerless Craft.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations for the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

Contracts for the construction of an iron wharf and pumping plant at the Presidio were let yesterday to James W. Taylor. Quartermaster General H. B. Smith is to arrange for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

An interesting suit between the owners of the Dora and Katie Burnett mines in Shoshone county, Idaho, has been set for the Circuit Court of Appeals. The owner of the Dora asserts that the owners of the Katie Burnett have jumped part of his claim.

A campaign of eloquent appeals for home patronage throughout the State is being planned by the Manufacturers' Association. On July 12 the big mass-meeting at Metropolitan Temple, and on the night following there will be one at San Jose.

John E. Owens, a newspaper man, who has just returned from South Africa, says the Standard output of the Johannesburg gold mines is 179,000 ounces. Although these are the richest mines in the world 5000 men are out of employment.

PHILADELPHIA MEN TO MARCH. A New Concrete and Iron Wharf to Be Built—Grain for Shipmen—East.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations for the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

Contracts for the construction of an iron wharf and pumping plant at the Presidio were let yesterday to James W. Taylor. Quartermaster General H. B. Smith is to arrange for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

An interesting suit between the owners of the Dora and Katie Burnett mines in Shoshone county, Idaho, has been set for the Circuit Court of Appeals. The owner of the Dora asserts that the owners of the Katie Burnett have jumped part of his claim.

A campaign of eloquent appeals for home patronage throughout the State is being planned by the Manufacturers' Association. On July 12 the big mass-meeting at Metropolitan Temple, and on the night following there will be one at San Jose.

John E. Owens, a newspaper man, who has just returned from South Africa, says the Standard output of the Johannesburg gold mines is 179,000 ounces. Although these are the richest mines in the world 5000 men are out of employment.

THE NEW COMMONWEALTH. A Proposition Received From the Vice-President of a Projected Railroad.

The directors of the Co-operative Commonwealth met to complete the reorganization of the order last evening at the law office of Mrs. Laura de Force Gordon.

G. Sells received a rigorous overhauling of the inaccuracies and insufficiency of his report as manager of the Co-operative Home, and it was finally decided that the personnel of the incorporators of the college will include probably all the present Commissioners.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations for the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

Contracts for the construction of an iron wharf and pumping plant at the Presidio were let yesterday to James W. Taylor. Quartermaster General H. B. Smith is to arrange for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

MARINES ON THE FOURTH. Three Companies of Blue-Jackets Ordered Out for the Parade.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations for the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

Contracts for the construction of an iron wharf and pumping plant at the Presidio were let yesterday to James W. Taylor. Quartermaster General H. B. Smith is to arrange for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

An interesting suit between the owners of the Dora and Katie Burnett mines in Shoshone county, Idaho, has been set for the Circuit Court of Appeals. The owner of the Dora asserts that the owners of the Katie Burnett have jumped part of his claim.

A campaign of eloquent appeals for home patronage throughout the State is being planned by the Manufacturers' Association. On July 12 the big mass-meeting at Metropolitan Temple, and on the night following there will be one at San Jose.

John E. Owens, a newspaper man, who has just returned from South Africa, says the Standard output of the Johannesburg gold mines is 179,000 ounces. Although these are the richest mines in the world 5000 men are out of employment.

MISS SHAW WILL BE THERE. Post Hyde Has Also Been Honored With a Place by the Literary Committee.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations for the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

Contracts for the construction of an iron wharf and pumping plant at the Presidio were let yesterday to James W. Taylor. Quartermaster General H. B. Smith is to arrange for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

An interesting suit between the owners of the Dora and Katie Burnett mines in Shoshone county, Idaho, has been set for the Circuit Court of Appeals. The owner of the Dora asserts that the owners of the Katie Burnett have jumped part of his claim.

A campaign of eloquent appeals for home patronage throughout the State is being planned by the Manufacturers' Association. On July 12 the big mass-meeting at Metropolitan Temple, and on the night following there will be one at San Jose.

John E. Owens, a newspaper man, who has just returned from South Africa, says the Standard output of the Johannesburg gold mines is 179,000 ounces. Although these are the richest mines in the world 5000 men are out of employment.

SHALE GAS IN THE SHADE. San Francisco May Soon Be Lighted With a Brilliant Substitute.

The Philadelphia will remain in this port till after the 1st of July and her crew will take part in the parade.

Three companies of marines and bluejackets from the Philadelphia will turn out for the parade on the Fourth.

The Bank Commissioners have called for statements from all the banks showing their condition on June 17.

The cruiser Olympia returned last evening from her official trial trip. Her behavior is stated to be magnificent.

The fire of Thursday night was caused by a stray spark from the smokestack in the rear of the San Francisco boat factory.

Politicians concur in the belief that the Mayor will appoint James Benham and Albert E. Castle Election Commissioners.

The Weather Bureau forecasts for today in San Francisco fair weather, nearly stationary temperature, with fresh westerly winds.

Property-owners in the Mission give their views on the proposed improvement of Folsom street. All appear to favor the enterprise.

The Fruit and Flower Mission and Associated Charities have made a list of the names of poor children who spend a week in the country.

Thomas McBride, a carpenter, committed suicide in the bay yesterday morning. He had quarreled with his wife and was despondent.

Preparations to incorporate the Viticultural College are about completed, says Secretary Winfield Scott of the Viticultural Commission.

John Dubroff, the Russian convict, was taken to Sacramento yesterday to stand his trial for the murder of Mrs. W. C. Ober.

Davis C. Burke, the coin-sweater, was given eighteen months in the Alameda County Jail yesterday by United States District Judge Hawley.

The San Francisco Benevolent Society has placed $1000 at the disposal of the Associated Charities for the benefit of the sufferers from the fire.

The borings on the Postoffice site were completed on Thursday, and the experts will forward their report to Washington to-day or to-morrow.

The losses of Wednesday's fire foot up over $1,000,000, with an insurance of $2,000,000. High rates having prevented larger policies being held.

Directors of the Skagit Cumberland Coal Company have chartered a municipal ship to stock during an election with a view of securing control.

The literary committee has completed its report on the proposed municipal library. Rev. Anna Shaw has a place on it. So has Poet W. G. Hyde.

The Co-operative Commonwealth held a meeting last evening to discuss the proposed organization for the purpose of completing its reorganization.

Some unions reported an increasing demand for their services in the city. The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave its opinion that when all the accounts are in it will be no deficit for the financial year.

Louisa H. Hook was plaintiff in a suit against Howard Vernon to recover a balance claimed to be due for making typewritten transcripts of the Tracy vs. Smith vs. Devine legislative election contests.

It is rumored that Internal Revenue Agent Cromwell, who has just succeeded Major McElchlin, will be made set and lie at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

In affirming a decision allowing damages for ruin wrought by the explosion of the Grand Powder Works in 1891, the Supreme Court holds that such accidents, when unexplained, must be supposed to be the result of negligence.

Professor Fritz Schell will not read the Park to-morrow, nor in the future, unless he settles his trouble with the Musicians' Union. His contract with the Mechanics' Fair committee is also in question.

Complaint has been made to Mayor Sutro that Superintendent of Streets Ashworth has neglected to abate a nuisance that is causing a malarial miasma at the corner of Mission street and Eugene avenue.

The new Jockey Club racetrack is nearly finished, and contracts for building the monthly output of the new lodge will be arranged for the erection of other military buildings, to cost $100,000.

A dastardly attempt at incendiarism was discovered yesterday by Fire Marshal Tove. Preparations