

touching the surface before it was seized by the voracious epicure of the brook. With admirable patience he hunted among the grass for the "bon bouche," which was the piece of resistance of this obstinate gourmet. The first one he caught and dropped on the surface of the pool the trout rose to and took with avidity. It would be pleasant to record, after this intelligent labor, the landing of a big fish, but the unpleasant fact remains that the naturalist-angler lost a trout, certainly through no fault of his own, but because of a big piece of drift-wood, around which on the first dash the trout fouled the line. Still the efficacy of dabbling with the natural fly was demonstrated, and next to the long cast there is no more interesting or delightful method of fishing.

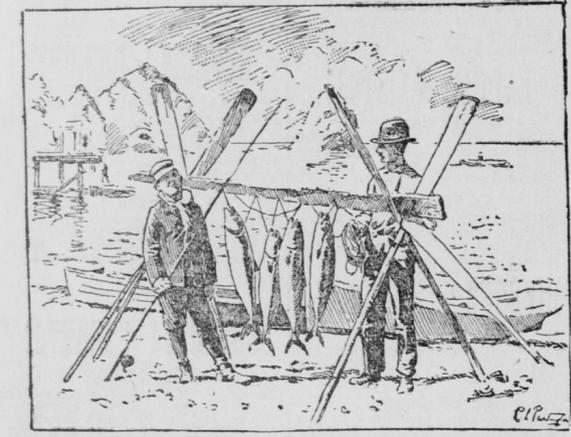

Sport on the Truckee, though early this season, has been good, or at least has made a good beginning. Alchamilton and Carey Friedlander had some good results on this stream last week, but the water is still too heavy for steady fly-fishing.

The big lagoon that comes in at Gioli's milk ranch, near the Point Bonita light-house, has been filled with salmon and steelheads this year, but none have been taken with the rod and line. Here is a chance for a fishing club to make a good preserve. With some slight expense as nice a piece of water as any in the vicinity of San Francisco might be secured and stocked. A stream which flows all the year round empties into the lagoon from the head of the valley. This is a possibility which will give lots of sport some day to those who cultivate it.

THE ANGLER.

Fly Fishing in the Truckee River Is Improving—Long Casts.

The proverb that "when the moon shines brightest angling is at its worst" has been exemplified during the past few weeks at San Andreas and Placitas lakes,

Among several admirers of a grand and quiet pastime who whipped and trolled the lakes for trout and bass were some of the most experienced and practical anglers of this city, but with all their cunning and dainty lures only poor success was the result of hard effort and great perseverance.

"First-class sport" are the words that generally appear at the commencement of letters received by lovers of angling in this city from friends who are at present rusticating in the mountains. All Cumming writes from Boca that the rainbows of the Truckee River have commenced to recognize a fly and that the sport of fly-fishing may be excellent in a few weeks. He caught a splendid mess of whoppers a few days ago during a thunderstorm and in a letter to Henry Skinner descriptive of the fun he is having said:

I may be considered a terror because I have handled a shark in Santa Cruz Bay in a manner created a sensation among the anglers, but that is not what I will tell you something now that will cause the hireste growth on the top of your head. Yesterday, during a confounded thunder-storm, I looked what I judged to have been a 20-pound rainbow, but how do you suppose I managed to strike every nerve in the attempt to stop his wild run, and by good fortune I succeeded; but how do you suppose I managed to land the trick? Just as my line had almost run out its full length the fish leaped into the air on feet, and I was almost blinded by a flash of lightning almost blinded my sight; but imagine my astonishment when the flash had gone when I felt the dead weight at the end of the line—the fish was actually stricken dead by a good lightning. I immediately set to work winding up slack and drawing my friend at the shore as the immense shark and I and I emptied my pistol at him the cuss managed to get away with my Truckee and ten rods of the finest line. Now what do you think of that, Henry? Please do not show this to THE CALL'S sporting editor, as he may josh what is candidly a truthful story.

John H. Grindley, Mrs. Grindley and Frank Leavitt of the Oakland Times, and his wife, are enjoying splendid sport now at Donner Lake. They will pay Lakes and Inyo a visit before taking a farewell of the mountains.

There is very little news of any importance to relate as regards the fishing of coast streams. Some nice catches have been made by anglers who fished late in the evening.

It is said that trout fishing in the upper waters of the Garcia River in Mendocino County is destroyed because of the immense quantities of trout flies that are now piled up in the stream.

AQUATICS.

New Bathhouse for the University of California Oarsmen.

The Berkeley University boys do not propose to remain behind in aquatic sport; they hope to see the new bathhouse at Sessions Basin constructed in a week or so. It will be remembered that the club suffered quite a loss some months ago by the burning down of their aquatic quarters, but the loss sustained at the time did not dishearten the boys in the least. They will soon be in the swim again, when active practice with the oars will commence.

The new building will be 70x25 feet, and first-class accommodations will be provided for the storing of the club's aquatic paraphernalia.

Five new boats are now being built, and these will include two 40-foot four-oar shells, two pair oar shells and a double-oar shell.

Jake Gaudard has accepted a challenge issued by Edward Hanlon for a three-mile race on Toronto Bay in September. Oarsmen are of the opinion that Hanlon has seen his palmy days, and that Gaudard is of little account if he cannot defeat the once famous sculler.

The comments of prominent oarsmen and authorities on rowing previous to the great Henley regatta on the Cornwell crew are worthy of mention. The captain and coach of the famous London Club, Mr. Harrison, said: "I particularly commend their straight backs and their rigidity of arm during the stroke. Straight action in these important respects means an application of force to the water in straight lines."

Americans possession of "swing," and insisted that their first catch of water, as well as the finish of their stroke, was lacking in power; that it falls, in fact, in that essential last "kick," which serves to keep a boat traveling during her crew's recovery. Another authority said that Cornell's style of rowing was a great puzzle and a mystery, which should be easily solved on the day of the big race, and that if the American boatmen could only master the system of rowing must be revolutionized.

SEA FISHING.

Where Anglers Should Try Their Luck for Striped Bass.

Fishing continues good on the north shore, and during the past week some very large catches have been made on all the principal fishing-grounds from California City to the Lime Point fog-whistle.

On Monday George Coleman, the well-known angler, and two companions caught eighty-five pounds of red rockcod at Point Cavallo, the largest weighing three and a half pounds and five of them over two pounds each.

On the same day Fred Manson and friend caught about sixty pounds of red and blue rockcod between Lime Point and Sugarloaf Point, the largest a blue rockcod weighing two and three-quarter pounds.

The tomcods are coming into the bay in large numbers, and good catches of these fish have been made during the week on the Sausalito fishing banks. The best place to catch these fish is about 300 yards off shore, on the banks extending from the tide-gauge to the Sausalito ferry landing. The depth of water varies from twenty to forty feet, and the hooks used are generally No. 5 or No. 6 gut hooks, with morsel worms for bait. Considerable numbers of kingfish and a few foundlers are also caught in the same place. On Tuesday last Thomas Menderson and lad caught over 200 tomcods and kingfish in a few hours' time on the banks opposite the ferry landing in Sausalito.

Several large striped bass have recently been caught by Italian fishermen at the United States tide-gauge near Yellow Bluff and also near Belvedere Island.

CRICKET CHIRPS.

W. G. Grace and His Laurels and Other Miscellaneous Notes. The center figure of entire cricketdom just now is the English champion, W. G. Grace. The "shilling testimonial" instituted by the London Daily Telegraph caught on like wildfire and promises to swell into quite a fortune. And if ever a cricketer merited a mark of public esteem "W. G." is undoubtedly the man. I remember seeing him at the Oval a couple of years ago and figuring that his cricket days were drawing to a close. Yet since then he has held his own with hands down and established a record which is not likely to be broken. This very season he has made 1000 runs in eight innings, in first-class matches, and has completed his hundredth century. Twice has he taken all ten wickets in an inning, a feat that has only sixteen parallels. And he is still well in the ring.

Here is an instance of the excitement that reigned in London during the progress of his big match against the Gloucester-Middlesex match. The colossal swindler, Jabez Balfour, was on trial at the time. A prosecution witness was giving the most damning testimony in court, but he seemed not to interest himself a little bit. He was peering round among the reporters present, and when at last he succeeded in attracting their attention he inquired audibly, "How many has Grace made at the moment?"

Eastern cricket is attracting more attention than ever, and although there have been no very large scoring, the standard of playing has improved.

The resting of the Halifax cup for the season of 1895-96 was virtually decided June 29, when Germantown defeated Belmont by the score of 95 (two wickets) to 92.

At Philadelphia, June 22, All New York beat Germantown, 356 to 148. Delaware beat Germantown, 154 to 100. Wayne beat Lansdowne, 113 to 97, and Germantown second beat Belfield, 131 to 90.

Coming to local items, the formation of a new club at Mills Valley is an indication that the southern circuit is about to lay a concrete wicket and will soon be ready to enter the association.

As in the East, the scoring has been lower than usual. Hood and Sloman of the Alamedas and J. C. Robertson of the California are the only men who, in cup matches, have approached the century notch.

In the race for the cup the champions are Belmont, 154 to 100, and Wayne beat Lansdowne, 113 to 97, and Germantown second beat Belfield, 131 to 90.

very liberal stakes should receive recognition from horsemen.

Entries close August 1, and all communications should be addressed to the secretary, J. F. Newby.

Hueneme, another town on the southern circuit, is offering some very liberal inducements to horsemen for its annual fair, to be held September 24 to 28.

Purses aggregating $2400 are hung up for the trotters and pacers, open to all, with ten events for the running division. Entries close on August 3 with Thomas H. Merry, the secretary.

Owing to a lack of entries the directors of the Willows fair have declared the meeting off.

SAN JOSE SPORTING.

McFarland Is the Coming Cycling Star—The Rod and Gun.

SAN JOSE, CAL., July 12.—Floyd McFarland's riding on the Fourth, when he rode a heat of the two-thirds of a mile handicap, class A, from scratch, in 1:25 1/5, is being commented upon by all bicyclists, and many predict that he is destined to be a world-beater. It was not discovered until the following Sunday that the record had been broken. McFarland is without doubt the greatest road rider in the West, if not in the country. In the great relay race this spring he made the fastest time, covering his ten miles in 26:59. A few weeks later, in the five-mile handicap road race of the Road Club, he broke the coast record, riding from scratch in 1:34 2/5. McFarland has wonderful powers of endurance. For the last year he has carried the Daily Mercury to Gilroy every morning a distance of thirty miles. He carries about thirty pounds of papers and makes the distance in a little over two hours. During the great strike of a year ago McFarland carried the Mercury to Gilroy and returned on his wheel every day—a distance of sixty miles—for nearly two weeks. Riding this distance day after day has developed McFarland into a phenomenal road-rider, and he is now being looked upon as the head of class A riders. He has ridden in all the meets of the last two years, and has won more than his share of prizes. McFarland is but 20 years of age and has been a prominent member of the Road Club ever since it was organized. A few weeks ago the Olympic Club of San Francisco made an effort to secure his membership, but he preferred to remain with the Road Club.

The San Jose Road Club will hold the seventh of its series of five-mile handicap road races over the regular course in East San Jose on Sunday. The race is for a silver trophy, which has to be won three times to become the personal property of a rider. Navlet and Benson have each won the cup twice, and Harris and McFarland once. McFarland won the last race in 1:34 2/5, which is the coast five-mile record. The entries and handicap for the race are: T. E. Belloli, G. Navlet and G. Hardenbrook, scratch; V. A. Benson, J. Harrington, 45 seconds; C. Dahlstrom, J. Wing and M. J. O'Brien, 50 seconds; Fred Smith, 1 minute and 15 seconds; and Fred Smith, 1 minute and 15 seconds.

The race should be a close and exciting one, for all the riders are in active training for the event.

The Road Club and Acomes of Oakland hold a joint run and picnic on August 4. A barbecue and feast will be the attractive feature. Alum Rock will probably be selected as the picnic ground.

F. A. McFarland of the Road Club and Dick Moony and C. M. Smith of the Cyclers have gone to Eureka to compete at the races there at the Sequoia carnival on July 19 and 20.

On McFarland's return from Eureka he will try for the world's mile record. He has applied for the sanction of the L. W. racing board for such an event. Tandems will be put on at the thirds, and as he rode two-thirds of a mile in 1:25 1/5 on the Fourth, it is thought he will be able to reduce the record.

The San Jose Road Club was never in a more prosperous condition than at present. It has a membership of eighty-five, city, who will leave by rail for Donner Lake next Sunday. The party is under Messrs. Mohr and Yoerk, young men of practical mountain experience obtained in camping trips of many years. Every member of the party will go provided with a bicycle, and many are the projected moonlight rides through the giant pines and along the picturesque roads that thread the country in all directions.

The party will establish a permanent camp on the banks of Lake Donner, and Mr. Yoerk, who is an experienced rifle shot, intends trying the novel experiment of deer stalking on the silent stand.

Mr. Mohr is the crack fisherman of the party and will provide many a toothsome trout from the water of Donner, Independence and Tahoe, making trips to the outlying waters on his bike.

Police Sergeant Plunkett and his family will leave August 1 for Philips station, and will pass his vacation among the deer and trout of that region. This is one of the most picturesque portions of the Sierras, always cool, with a fair sprinkling of deer and grouse and numerous small lakes well stocked with trout. It is reached by wagon or stage via Placerville, and is already the favorite resort of the majority of Sacramentoans.

Mose Nixon Kimball, one of Sacramento's leading sport-lovers, has returned from his summer's outing at Pacific Grove. He gives interesting accounts of successes achieved in salmon-fishing.

The officers of the Capital City Wheelmen have determined to return the interest in racing. President, H. Bennett; vice-president, S. F. Ennis; secretary, George Atwood; treasurer, C. E. Wright; captain, George Readman. George Lavenson will act as historian, and the director of the party, consisting of Upson, Newbert, Deuce and Sullivan, all shots of note, bagged 124 in an afternoon's shooting.

Law tennis is rapidly gaining fresh adherents throughout this locality and the Sacramento Club is gaining in membership. Wheatland promises a club of thirty members and J. H. Durt, the crack not of that place, also a leading member of the Tennis Club, has been in the city this week having a try at the Sacramento courts.

The Misses Cooper, Beaumont, Colclow and Willis, of the Sacramento Club, are rapidly becoming experts before the net and challenge the admiration of the spectators by their graceful play and great agility. Drs. Bailey and Taylor are also playing in good form and promise to show up well, as they evince great interest in advancement of their play.

ers of the string would have equal or lowered their records had a rain not come on just before the trial.

The coursing meet begins on October 1 and continues five days. Racing on the Northern circuit ends just before the races here, and from 300 to 350 horses will pass through Fresno to go to the Southern circuit. The officers of the Fresno association are confident of being able to induce the owners of nearly all of these to stay over for the week. Purses amounting to $11,800 have been hung up. In five events, three of which are running and two pacing, the purses are $1000 each.

There are twenty-two events as follows: Trotting, for all, 2:15, 2:17, 2:20, 2:24, 2:27, 2:30, 2:32 (district); 2:40 (district); pacing, 2:25 (district), free for all, 2:15, 2:17, 2:20, 2:25; running, five-eighths of a mile dash, quarter of a mile dash, three-quarters of a mile dash, one mile dash, half-mile dash, half-mile dash and repeat, seven-eighths of a mile dash. American Trotting Association rules govern the meet. The district includes Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Kings, Merced, Mariposa, Mono, Madera and Tulare.

The citizens of this place have taken hold of the proposed meet with enthusiasm, and a large amount of money is being raised by subscription to defray the expense of putting the track and grounds in the best of condition. The fair grounds were sold under a foreclosure of a heavy mortgage a few months ago, but horsemen determined to retain the interest in racing.

THE KNIGHTS OF CHESS.

A Match by Telegraph to Be Played With the Seattle Chess Club.

Scores of the Local Players in the Long Tournament Up to Last Evening.

Local chess-players will have another opportunity to measure their strength against outsiders, as negotiations have been opened with the Seattle Chess Club in reference to a telegraphic chess match. T. Martin received a telegram on July 11 stating the Seattle players could not play before the 1st of August. It would seem from this information that the Seattle men intend to make extraordinary efforts to get their strongest players together and thus make the contest an interesting one for the local players.

Joseph Ney Babson of Montreal, the well-known problem composer, is a great accession to the chess department of the Mechanics' Institute. His games are generally marked by brilliancy of conception, which makes them much more attractive to the spectators than the ordinary games played.

The senior and minor chess tournaments being played at the Mechanics' Institute have attracted considerable enthusiasm and the competition is very keen. Thompson and Cole are the leading players in first and second classes respectively, both having won six and drawn two games out of eight games played. Over 100 games have already been played in both classes. Herewith is the score at 8:30 o'clock last night of each class, showing the number of games won, lost and drawn by each of the contestants. A drawn game counts as a half win and half lost for each of the players.

FISHING NEAR CATALINA.

The Coast Record Broken With a 215-Pound Jew Fish.

AYALON, CATALINA ISLAND, CAL., July 12.—The fishing record of the Pacific Coast is broken by a Canadaique (N. Y.) angler, Stuart-Menteth Beard, who has been making enormous catches all the season at Catalina Island. Recently Mr. Beard returned from a two days' fishing expedition to San Clemente Island, which lies twenty miles farther out to sea, bringing a 215-pound Jew fish, which he landed with a

NO CHANGE IN THE POUND.

McDonough's Petition Is Denied—A Supply Contractor Wants to Throw Up His Job.

At the meeting of the Health and Police Committee of the Board of Supervisors yesterday morning, the petition of Patrick McDonough asking for the contract of the City Pound was denied. McDonough offered to perform the duties of poundkeeper without expense to the City. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which is now in charge of the pound, entered a strong protest, which was listened to by a majority of the committee. The King of Hearts in favor of McDonough on the ground of economy, but his conferees voted down the proposition.

Sheriff Wielan had a communication before the committee complaining that the printer of the History, relating to the corporation in the world's record up to date is 235 pounds with a 21-thread line and a stiff Tarpon rod.

Goldsmith appeared and asked to be released from his contract as owing to lack of experience he was unable to carry it out. This the committee refused to do, but they agreed to recommend an assignment of his contract to the Pacific Marine and Supply Company.

It was decided to report against covering the patrol wagons, as the police objected to it.

Fresno has one of the finest tracks on the coast and several world's records have been beaten on it. Sunol, when a colt, lowered a record, and the racers brought here by Monroe Salisbury last winter did excellent work. Mr. Salisbury considered this one of the fastest tracks he had raced on, and he said that Flying Jib, Robert J. and other

THE BAY DISTRICT RACES.

Installer Upheld His Reputation as the Kingpin Sprinter.

BERNARDO TOOK A HANDICAP.

Remus Given the Decision Over Road Runner in a Very Doubtful Finish.

Next week, and until further notice, there will be five days' racing a week.

Trainer and Owner Joe McCarthy said Bernardo would win, sure, if he didn't bleed. He didn't.

Johnny Humphreys, who likes to bet the favorite, was given $23 to $100 against installer going to the post.

A falling off among the book-making fraternity does not look as though money will be very plentiful at the Bay District. The number of pencilers cutting-in was reduced to seven yesterday.

Dan Miller's mare Charmion was sent to the post yesterday for the first time in blinkers. Dan, who is very sweet on his mare, backed her as usual, but she acted rank and would never extend herself.

"Doc" Turville, the California jockey, is now riding for Green B. Morris, whose hands are being put at the Oakley meeting. The young lightweight is receiving very favorable press notices for his riding.

Chevalier had a hoodoo day yesterday. He succeeded in landing but one winner, which hard luck was augmented by a $25 fine imposed by the judges for showing young Bryan, who rode imp. 1-3, how easy it was to cut a horse off on a turn.

Judging from all accounts, both private
