

UNDER BIG PRESSURE.

How the Deficit in the Treasury is Kept Down.

VERY BOLD JUGGLERY.

By Violating the Edicts of Congress a Good Showing is Made.

SUGAR-PLANTERS TO SUFFER.

Five Millions in Bounties Tied Up by the Comptroller of the Treasury.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 24.—A Washington special to the Press says: Another week and July will be ended. This brief time will be made the most of by the treasury jugglers in reducing the deficiency for the new fiscal year.

Three million dollars will therefore be retained for the next six days, which under other circumstances would have passed into circulation. Secretary Carlisle has sanctioned the refusal of the Comptroller of the Treasury to pay the sugar bounty recently awarded by Congress.

The Democratic Senators from Louisiana, who are in Washington with a number of attorneys and representatives of the sugar-cane and beet growers, are simply dumfounded at this exhibition of Democratic repudiation and defiance of law.

They realize at last that the policy of their administration is to pay no bills that can be dodged. The parsimony which prompts the action of Comptroller Bowler has therefore penetrated the Democratic mind, and it is perfectly understood now that the question of constitutionality would never have been raised had the Wilson-Gorman bill produced revenue enough to pay the Government's debt.

The Louisiana planters are in a quandary. If they go to the courts there is a certainty of delay, which is all that the treasury officials desire, while if they wait until Congress meets they will be equally embarrassed.

In the expectation of receiving this money from the Government, $12,000,000 of which was allowed by the same set of officials during the last year of the operation of the McKinley law, the Louisiana sugar-growers and the beet-sugar men of the West assumed obligations which are now due. These they cannot meet.

The consequence will be a great deal of financial hardships, some foreclosures and numerous notes protested. The treasury will be $5,000,000 the richer, however, and the deficiency will be lessened by that amount until Congress expresses the displeasure of the people at such outrageous proceedings.

MISS WHITNEY ENGAGED.

The Ex-Secretary's Daughter Will Wed Almerie H. Paget.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 24.—The latest social topic of conversation in local and New York society is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Pauline Whitney, daughter of ex-Secretary Whitney, and Almerie H. Paget of St. Paul, Minn.

Colonel G. M. B. Harvey, the ex-Secretary's representative in this city, is said to be the scene of the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons for the world's championship and a fortune. Dan Stewart, the promoter of the movement that brought the fight to Texas, returned to-day from Galveston, where he had gone to listen to the offers of that city for the encounter.

The whole matter resolved itself into a question of immunity from interference or subsequent prosecution, and Mr. Stewart was not so well satisfied with the Galveston guarantees as he was with that of Dallas.

A meeting of citizens making the guarantees for this city was held at the Lake Club house to-night to hear Mr. Stewart's final decision. Mr. Stewart said that he had been urged by business men, lawyers and other reputable citizens to bring the meeting to Dallas, and cited the legal opinions obtained that glove contests were not in violation of the laws of this State.

"Then," said Stewart, "to put at rest all speculation, I now announce that the Corbett-Fitzsimmons match will take place in the Dallas Athletic Arena on the morning of October 31 next."

MURDERED BY COMPANIONS.

Mystery Surrounding the Finding of Two Skeletons Cleared.

WINSTED, Conn., July 24.—In June last, when Samuel Barlow was excavating on his land in Canaan, he unearthed two skeletons, whose discovery recalled the fact that during the construction of the old Connecticut Western Railway, about twenty-five years ago, two laborers, Mike Houlihan and his nephew Patrick, suddenly disappeared, after having engaged in a row with their fellow-workmen, in a row which was then thought of as a little thing, but which in fact was the beginning of the disappearance of the two men.

Now comes a letter from San Jose, Cal., from a man named Slatery, who was one of the laborers on the railroad at that time, and who gives the story of the murder. He says he knew the two men well, and also knew another fellow named Patrick Houlihan, with whom he bunked at the time. Big Mike and Ryan assaulted and robbed Patrick Houlihan, and the latter, with his friends, laid in wait for and killed the two men. Slatery was in the party, but when he found murder was intended, he left.

In 1859 he met Houlihan on a railroad in Oregon, and on his deathbed the latter confessed to the killing of Mike by striking him on the head. Houlihan, he said, confessed to Father Doolan of Sequelan, Or., who would verify the story. Slatery was moved to write his letter upon reading an account of the finding of the skeletons.

CORBETT BADLY INJURED.

While Riding on His Wheel He Became Mixed Up in a "Spill."

Then He Went to Bed, and It Will Be a Week Before He Can Train Further.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 24.—Pugilist James J. Corbett, who is training here for his fight with Fitzsimmons, was severely injured this afternoon by a fall from a bicycle.

Corbett was racing around the bicycle track at the athletic grounds with his brother and another rider. The man riding in front fell at the turn and the two Corbets fell upon him. The pugilist, who was closely followed by his brother, was badly mixed up in the spill. His brother's wheel fell on top of him.

Corbett struck the hard gravel track on his right side. That entire side of his body was badly scratched. The skin was peeled off his shin, knee, thigh and his side. His right arm was severely bruised and lacerated, the right side of his face being slightly injured.

Corbett was picked up by bystanders who saw the fall. He went at once to his cottage, at the corner of Seventh avenue and Emory street, where his injuries were attended to by a physician.

Corbett was seen in bed this evening by a reporter. He said that he felt pretty well used up, and that it would be a week before he is able to proceed with his training.

WILL FIGHT AT DALLAS.

No Longer Any Doubt About the Glove Contest for a Fortune.

Stewart Satisfied With the Guarantees Made by the Business Men.

DALLAS, Tex., July 24.—It was definitely settled to-night that this city is to be the scene of the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons for the world's championship and a fortune. Dan Stewart, the promoter of the movement that brought the fight to Texas, returned to-day from Galveston, where he had gone to listen to the offers of that city for the encounter.

FOUGHT WITH REBELS.

Details of the Battle With the Forces of Campos.

INSURGENTS DESPERATE.

Spanish Troops Hemmed In by a Fire From All Directions.

MANY KILLED ON BOTH SIDES.

Peculiar Measures Taken to Harass Those in Sympathy With the Cubans.

HAVANA, CUBA, July 24.—Captain-General Martinez Campos has sent an official dispatch from Manzanillo which confirms the United Press dispatches about the recent battle near Valenzuela between Manzanillo and Bayamo. The Captain-General says he started from Manzanillo for Bayamo accompanied by 1500 troops.

No insurgents were seen until July 13, when a body of rebels numbering 4500 men was met near Valenzuela. The insurgents were well armed and had a plentiful supply of ammunition. The Spanish troops were hemmed in by a fire that was poured at them from all sides, and twice they were in danger of having their lines broken. But they fought desperately, and after five hours the rebels' fire slackened and the troops pushed on to Bayamo.

The Government lost twenty-eight men killed and ninety-eight wounded. Among the killed were General Santocildes, an aid-de-camp and a captain. Four officers were among the wounded. The dispatch adds that it is impossible to state what the insurgent losses were though they are estimated to have been over 50 killed and wounded.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—The Spanish authorities have adopted the severest measures for dealing with the insurgents in some of the Cuban provinces. An example of their character has been furnished the State Department by J. J. Casanova, United States Vice-Consul at Cienfuegos, who has transmitted to the State Department a translation of a proclamation recently issued by the Governor of Santa Clara. Its text follows:

In the Augustin Lague y Coca, Brigadier-General Governor of the province of Santa Clara, to the inhabitants of the same: The savagery of those who apply the torch, who steal and murder under the cry of "Viva Cuba Libre," and the propagators who disgrace the Cuban people, recruiting partisans for the hordes commanded by incendiaries and high-waymen, compel me, with a most painful feeling, to adopt energetic measures, which I fear you shall be carried out to the extreme if the noble war made by our valiant army is responded to by murder and pillage. For the present I decree the following edict:

Article 1.—Every countryman on entering or leaving the towns shall be provided with his personal certificate and his identification of his ownership of the horse he may be riding, and shall exhibit them to any agent of the Government that may demand them.

Article 2.—It is prohibited to travel in the country or in the outskirts of the towns from sunset to sunrise, with the understanding that the patriots and forces in operation will detain and put at my disposal all persons infringing this rule, if not provided with the proper permit, which to said edict shall be issued to them by the military chief of the district of which they are residents.

Article 3.—All permits to carry arms which are not counter-signed by the military governor's office are null and void. Residents in the country who are in possession of any kind of arms shall exhibit them within the period of ten days with the posts of the guard or detachments nearest to their abodes, the chiefs of which shall issue them a proper voucher.

Article 4.—It is only for agricultural work that working "machetes" may be kept in their residences, and it is forbidden to carry them about the same outside their respective landed property.

Article 5.—Those infringing these orders, as well as the agitators of opinions, and those who abet and harbor them shall be indicted for the crime of rebellion against the Republic, with the code of justice and punished with all the severity of the military law.

Article 6.—The municipal Mayors and Mayors of circumscriptions shall publish widely this edict, and the said authorities, as well as all civil and military authorities of this province, I hold responsible for the full and punctual observance.

AGUSTIN LAGUE Y COCA, Santa Clara, July 16, 1895.

BOARDED BY A SPANIARD.

The Carrie A. Lane Stopped Off the Cuban Coast.

DELAWARE BREAKWATER, DEL., July 24.—The schooner Carrie A. Lane, which arrived here to-day from Cuban ports, was brought up off Port Antonio, Cuba, by two shots from a Spanish warship and was then searched for her papers.

Captain Quick, commander of the boat, said to-night that he was sailing a short distance off Port Antonio and that he noticed the man-of-war lying at anchor in the harbor. When the Spaniard sighted the Lane she fired two shots as a signal for the schooner to heave-to. Captain Quick immediately obeyed the order and brought his vessel up in the end and awaited a yawl that had put out from the warship to come alongside.

The Spanish officer in command of the boat boarded the Lane and asked for Captain Quick's papers. The officer's demand was made in courteous and respectful language, and Captain Quick immediately showed him his clearances. There being nothing improper in the papers, and after obtaining the destination of the Lane, the Spanish officer went aboard his boat and allowed the Lane to proceed.

During the visit to the Lane the Spaniard did not mention the name of his ship. The captain considers the incident a trifle and believes the Spanish vessel to have been well within her right when she ordered him to heave-to off a coast upon which it is notorious that filibustering expeditions are constantly being landed. The Lane is a small schooner of about seventy-two tons burden and hails from Gloucester, Mass.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

There Is No Check to the Tide of Unionist Successes.

LONDON, Eng., July 24.—Interest in the elections is waning to a certain extent, the majority of returns showing Unionist gains and reduced Liberal majorities aiding to bring about this result. The exception to be found at the clubs where comparisons are still as eagerly made as they were during the first days of the contest.

To-day's returns show that the tide of Unionist success has not been checked to any material extent, and it may be reasoned that the Liberals have no hope of checking it. Their energies are now devoted to attempting to hold safe the districts in which the elections are to be held, but their campaign work is marked by a lack of vim that is particularly noticeable.

At the temperance set in the House of Commons, managed to be again returned despite the opposition to the local veto bill, but his majority was cut down from 71 to 24. Even this, however, is regarded as a sort of victory by the Liberals.

There are now in the neighborhood of seventy-five districts to hold elections, but it is not believed, even by Liberals, that the returns from these will materially reduce the Unionist majority. Some Unionists claim, perhaps with reason, that they are bound to make gains in some of these districts, while the more conservative claim to believe that the Liberal result will be little checked either way in the complex of the new House. The last polls will be held on Saturday in the northeast division of Derbyshire and the Wellington division of Somerset.

All Tranquil in Panama.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—A telegram received at 8:45 o'clock this evening by General Julio M. Benlo, the Charge d'Affaires in Washington of the United States of Colombia, reports a tranquil state of affairs among the strikers. The telegram says: "Strikes in Panama. The Government has enough troops to give security and maintain order." The dispatch is signed by General Arango, the Governor of Panama.

THE CAPITAL CITY RACES.

Hal Corbett Won First Money in the Three-Year-Old Pace.

Honors in the 2:27-Class Trot Carried Off by Fleet Stam B.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., July 24.—Maxie Hamilton died in practice to-day and several other horses are ailing, but the race meeting is a good one, nevertheless, abounding with close contests. To-morrow will be the best day of the meet. Business houses will close, and Secretary Kelly states the gate and grand stand will be full. A large crowd is expected from San Francisco. Some of the choicest events of the season are promised.

The third day's racing opened with a pacing event for three-year-olds in the 2:25 class. Hal Corbett sold a favorite at $15, Roan Wilkes $7, the field $6. The track was greatly improved, although still not considered fast. Ed Lafferty went to the front from the start. On the first turn May Nutwood flew into the air and Roan Wilkes got up second. Up the back stretch Ed Lafferty, who was leading by four lengths, went badly wrong, and was so long in the recovery that Roan Wilkes got the front position, with Lafferty second and the third place to the fourth. They passed under the wire with Roan Wilkes a winner by two lengths and Hal Corbett five lengths in advance of May Nutwood. Time, 2:18.

In the second heat Hal Corbett led at the start, with Ed Lafferty second and Captain Hackett third. Roan Wilkes went to pieces on the first turn and could not recover. These positions were retained to the stretch, where Roan Wilkes came in second, with Ed Lafferty and Captain Hackett in the rear. Pools then sold on Roan Wilkes at $10 and the field $9. Time, 2:25 1/2.

In the third heat Hal Corbett delayed in the start, but he carried the race in the air in a series of bucking jumps that fully evinced that his temper had been ruffled. At last he settled down, got away last and flew to the front at the quarter by two lengths. May Nutwood had six lengths the best of Ed Lafferty, who had again gone wrong. At the half Corbett led by five lengths, May Nutwood second, with long daylight between them. At the three-quarter mark Corbett was leading by two lengths, with Ed Lafferty and Captain Hackett. In the stretch Corbett still had the best of it by long odds, finishing first, Roan Wilkes second and Captain Hackett third. Time, 2:22.

In the fourth heat of the pace Hal Corbett had it all his own way, winning first length, with Roan Wilkes second. Captain Hackett, the only other horse that started, flew to pieces repeatedly, and got dismasted.

The second event was the trot for three-year-olds, 2:27 class, for a purse of $1000. In the pools Dr. Puff, Stam B and Zombro sold at $10 each with the field at $9. Knowing they were coming in the rear, the two winners, Dr. Puff and Stam B, were "run" by Zombro. At the quarter in the first heat Stam B had the lead, Dr. Puff second, Jasper Ayrer third, with the balance in the rear. These positions were retained throughout the race. Zombro broke, and his driver took a cropper, suffering no bodily damage, but ruining the expense of his white ducks. Zombro trotted madly down the stretch with a neck in length of Stam B. He beat the field in, but took tenth position. Time, 2:21.

In the second heat of the trot Stam B sold favorite at $10, the field at $7. Zombro made his appearance seemingly none the less, and he was a neck in length of Stam B. Down the stretch Zombro went to the front, finishing two lengths to the good with his neighbors whipping.

This was known to be the greatest performance ever known by a three-year-old. Zombro came down the track with a wrecking pound at every jump in one heat and then coming to the scratch and trotting the next heat without a quiver in 2:19 flat.

In the third heat Zombro brought $30, Stam B $5 and the field $5. Sidney Howard reached the quarter first, Dr. Puff second and Zombro third. At the half it was Dr. Puff, Sidney Howard and Zombro. Down the stretch Zombro went to the front, finishing two lengths to the good with his neighbors whipping.

This was known to be the greatest performance ever known by a three-year-old. Zombro came down the track with a wrecking pound at every jump in one heat and then coming to the scratch and trotting the next heat without a quiver in 2:19 flat.
