FEELING AT SAN DIEGO.

The Decision of Judge Ross Will Have No Effect on the City There.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 25.—Jerry Toles, manager of the Escondido Land and Town Company, has returned from Escondido. He says the immediate effect of Judge Ross' decision has not been had, as just before he left he closed a deal for the sale of a tract of 870 land, the highest priced land the company holds, and the buyer did not appear to be concerned.

FEELING AT SAN DIEGO.

In fact no one is. The people say the country has just completed its water system, and that it will stay there and the people will get and keep the benefit of it. He says the water will be used for that the irrigation plant, the ditch, reservoir, dam and conduits, and perhaps the water rights, would fall to the man who had paid for them, Henry W. Putnam, and that he would become their owner by private enterprise. It appeared that the future course would be that the water would be supplied, and land-owners would take it and use it and pay for it as they do other systems not operated under the Wright act provisions.

"I should like to own it at the price Putnam paid for it," he said. Then he explained that the district had issued a total of $300,000 in bonds, but still had $139,000 on hand, making a net issue of $161,000. Of these the Escondido Company had taken $9000 in exchange for the city water system it had owned, and which was put into the irrigation system.

Besides, the company had paid some $20,000 in irrigation taxes up to date, but Toles figures that it was worth all this to the company to secure water. The company could have afforded to give that as a bonus.

The Linda Vista irrigation directors will maintain the organization of their district, as though nothing had happened, and continue to pay the taxes, but they will not collect them. This is in expectation that the United States Supreme Court will reverse Judge Ross, and they do not propose to allow any rights to lapse meantime.

SAN DIEGO GRAND JURY.

It Is Declared Invalid and Its Indictments Are Set Aside.

THE LAW WAS NOT STRICTLY FOLLOWED IN IMPANELING AND DRAWING JURORS.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 25.—The entire work of the late Grand Jury was rendered invalid by the decision of Judge Pierce today, holding that the law was not followed strictly in impaneling and drawing the jurors.

The matter came up in the form of a motion of counsel for Clifton E. Mayne, indicted for bribery, to set aside the indictment on the ground that only twenty-four names were ordered placed in the box by Judge Puterbaugh, when the law requires not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty, from which to draw nineteen names to constitute the Grand Jury.

Assistant District Attorney Udey, in upholding the name penalty, stated that he declared that the impaneling of a less number than twenty-five did not invalidate the work of the jury, since the requisite nineteen to constitute a jury had been drawn regularly, and these were, as required by law, "good and lawful citizens of the county." Hence the requirements relative to impaneling grand jurors were directory rather than mandatory in their nature.

On the conclusion of the argument Judge Pierce granted the motion setting aside the indictments.

The indictments against Weineke were also set aside. In the meantime, Judge Pierce acting upon instructions from Judge Puterbaugh, who heard arguments in Weineke's case, thus the entire work of the Grand Jury is rendered invalid.

It is believed that the impaneling has not yet been determined. In the matter of the charges against Mayne and Weineke the District Attorney has authority to proceed against them as on any other charge of felony.

In 1872 Miranda was adjudged insane and disposed of in the insane asylum. She held this trust until her death in 1889, since which time it is alleged there has been no legal guardian and a brother, Jose Miranda, has assumed the management of the estate, consisting of 120 acres of valuable land near Mayfield and a house and lot in that place.

There have been from time to time numerous claimants to the estate, but as yet none have been able to satisfactorily establish his or her legal lineage as the direct descendant from William Ball, the original owner, who died in 1767.

It is believed that the lineage has been established. Mr. Nash is one of nine children and one-ninth of his mother's share of the estate amounting to $300,000. The whereabouts of one of the direct heirs is not known. It is Benjamin Brown,

Just Fancy What Only Two Weeks' Treatment Can Do!

CONFIDENCE FULLY SHOWN.

A Gentleman From Idaho Has Something Interesting to Tell About the Methods of Professor Hudson and His Skilled Associates.

THERE WAS A TIME WHEN THE NAMES of those great revivalists—Sankey and Moody—were enough to set the world by the ears, and when Sam Jones opened the field of competition a little later on it was almost possible to conjure with his name. And it is true that great revivalists have long held a large influence with the world at large. It was no uncommon thing at the meetings of either of the revivalists mentioned above to see men and women who were naturally of a retiring disposition get up in the auditorium and shout for joy, because they had, or felt they had, found relief from a stricken conscience. It was not alone in California that these amazing conditions began to show themselves. They were addressed to the manager of that grandest of all medical establishments on this continent—the Hudson Medical Institute—a gentleman from Idaho, Mr. William Glenn, mentions having observed this somewhat singular phenomenon. Mr. Glenn had very good reason to correspond with these gentlemen, for he was attacked in a most serious way by a nervous disorder, which at one time threatened his very existence. In fact, it is not going too far if we say that Mr. Glenn's condition could hardly have been more serious than it was. But, very sensibly, he applied to the staff in the big white structure on the corner of Market, Ellis and Stockton streets and in a couple of weeks even he was so much helped that he felt like saying so. This is the letter which he wrote:

Gentlemen: The second week has just passed. It has brought with it all the encouragement that is possible. Health and vigor have begun to show themselves. I have all the confidence in the remedy. I do believe I am to get well. Often at a revival meeting I have seen and heard both men and ladies shouting joy and proclaiming how they felt religion. I will know now that if they felt half the joy that I feel at this present moment no wonder that they gave vent to their feelings. I will write you again the coming week. Hoping that all will be well, yours, etc. W. WILLIAM GLENN.

It must be very gratifying indeed for the specialists to receive letters of this sort, showing clearly, as it does, how very promptly the system usually responds to the treatment which patients receive at their hands; but it is only one from among a very large number that comes to me daily through the mails. Mr. A. W. Neale of Los Angeles writes: "Your treatment has done all that you claimed it would, and I bless the day that I placed myself in your hands."

W. P. Dillman of Sacramento: "When I first wrote to you about this case, I was entirely cured. I am now, but now, thank God, I am entirely cured."

W. A. Russell of Macchia, Wash., says: "I only regret that I am unable to pay you ten times your fee. I shall recommend you to all sufferers."

E. Bartels of Orville: "I am altogether a new man to what I was when I began taking your medicines."

Evidence like this of the exceptional success which the specialists of this great institute have in treating every kind of curable disease is always being received, and as the witnesses now aggregate many thousands it may be taken for granted that if your case is curable the specialists of the Hudson Medical Institute can do more for you than any one else in the world can.

All the Following Cases Are Curable:

Catarrh of the head, stomach or bladder; all bronchial diseases; all functional nervous diseases; St. Vitus dance; hysteria; shaking palsy; epilepsy; all general diseases; all kinds of blood troubles; ulcers; wastes of vital forces; rheumatism; gout; eczema; all skin diseases, from whatever cause arising; psoriasis; all blood poisoning; varicose veins; poison oak; lost or impaired manhood; spinal trouble; nervous exhaustion; general debility; sciatica; all bladder troubles; dyspepsia; indigestion; constipation; all visceral disorders, which are treated by the depurating department. Special instruments for bladder troubles.

There are a few of the special diseases in which exceptionally remarkable cures have been made by the specialists, and it may frankly be stated that a helping hand is extended to every patient.
