Master-in-Chancery Cornish Sets Forth Interesting Figures.

EARNINGS JUSTIFY PAYMENT.

Upon This Statement the Court May Order Interest and Principal Liquidated.

OMAHA, NEBR., Aug. 9.—Judge W. D. Cornish, master-in-chancery in the Union Pacific foreclosure case, to-day completed his report on the petition of the American Loan and Trust Company, as trustee, asking for the payment of defaulting principal and interest on the equipment trust bonds of the Union Pacific Company.

These bonds were issued in October, 1887, in payment of a lot of new equipment bought at that time, and amounted to $3,541,000, due in installments of about one-eighth each year, the last being due in 1900. The equipment in this mortgage trust consists of 98 passenger, baggage and mail cars, 370 freight cars, various classes, including refrigerator, fruit, furniture stock and coal cars, and 153 engines. There is $789,000 of principal past due, and the trustee asks that the court order it paid, together with the back interest.

"If a separate account should be stated of the value of the use of said equipment, basing such value upon the lowest average of allowances for rental between divisions of said railroad, and upon the actual use of said equipment, such an account would have a rental value for said property greatly in excess of the annual principal and interest charges as fixed by said trust indenture."

TURNING OVER PROPERTY.

South Dakota's Defaulting Treasurer Pays Part of the Deficit.

Bondsmen Will Put up the Remainder, and Then Mr. Taylor Is to Be Prosecuted.

PIERRE, S. D., Aug. 9.—The Taylor defaultation matter is about to be cleared up, and the defaulting Treasurer will be tried on Tuesday next. His bondsmen and himself, through their attorney, Charles McCoy of Aberdeen, this morning turned over to the State Treasurer, K. Y. Phillips, through Attorney-General Crawford, $100,000 in checks and drafts, as agreed that they should when Taylor surrendered himself in June, and a list of properties in which the defaulter held equities or owned prior to his retreat to South America.

The value of the properties will be assessed by the State Board and the amount agreed by them and the $100,000 will be credited to his deficit. The bondsmen will make up the balance as soon as the amount is made known to them. As the time approaches for the trial of the defaulting Treasurer much speculation is going on as to what statute will be tried under—whether it will be the one which provides the two-year, the five-year or the twenty-one-year punishment—but whichever it may be, the opinion of the attorneys of the State is that it will not be the last named, which is faulty.

TO CONTEST THE WILL.

SENECA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The heirs of Cornelius King, who died in California a few months ago leaving property worth over $200,000, residing in Seneca Falls said to a correspondent yesterday that they are not aware that the testator had a sister who left three children, who are reported as intending to contest the will.

The entire estate is in cash and securities in deposit in San Francisco banks. The principal heirs of the will in question are the children of a brother of the deceased, James, Mary, Daniel and Cornelius King. Mary having died, leaving no children, her share reverted to the others, one of whom, Cornelius, died, leaving a widow and four children, who reside on Mamford street, this town.

NEGRO OUTLAWS CAPTURED.

Indian Territory Residents Would Like to Take Them From the Officers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 9.—A special to the Chronicle from Tulsa, Ind. T. says that late this afternoon the Creek Nation's light horse police, three United States Marshals and a large number of citizens captured Rufus Black and four other Creek negroes implicated in the Wilson assault forty miles south of Tulsa, on Flat Rock Creek. The outlaws had robbed a store at Orewit, a small town near by, and were dividing the spoils when captured. The officers started to Muskego with them. A large number of citizens are in pursuit with the intention of taking them away from the officers.

CARS SMASHED TO PIECES.

Several Passengers Injured on an Elkhorn Train.

CROWELL, NEBR., Aug. 9.—The west-bound Elkhorn passenger train ran into a defective switch this afternoon. Five cars were smashed into kindling-wood. A number of passengers were cut and bruised, but the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Utterstine of Plattsmouth was the only one seriously hurt. She will probably die. A boy on the side track tore the side out of the chaircar and Wagner coach, the flying splinters injuring a number of passengers. Traffic was delayed two hours.

IDENTITY OF A LOST SHIP.

The British Four-Master Holt-hill Probably the One Sunk.

Many Reasons for Believing That She Was the Vessel to Collide With the Prince Oscar.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—It is believed that the vessel with which the British ship Prince Oscar was sunk in a collision off the coast of Brazil is the British ship Holt-hill. The survivors of the Prince Oscar, who were taken from their boats by the steamer Capac and landed at Philadelphia yesterday, were unable to furnish the identity of the craft with which they collided, as it sank immediately. They said, however, that she was a four-master with all sails set and sailing with the wind, which was south-east. This pretty well precludes that it was any of the American four-masters, of which there are five. Two, the Dirigo and the Kenilworth, are now at this port. The other three, the Roanoke, the Susquehanna and Mary Flynn, are bound from here for San Francisco and would not have been sailing the course of the ill-fated ship.

The Holt-hill sailed from San Francisco for Queenstown April 23, probably carrying only grain. On July 9, four days before the collision, she was spoken about 42 miles south of the scene of the disaster. With a fair wind she would have been on the 13th in about the position indicated. The facts and figures above are considered conclusive by men in shipping circles that the Holt-hill was the unknown vessel with which the Prince Oscar collided and sunk with all on board.

The Holt-hill is a four-masted steel ship of 2269 tons register, and was built in Glasgow in 1890. She is owned by William Price & Co. of Liverpool.

ONE OUTLAW WAS KILLED.

Deputy Marshals Had a Fierce Fight With Bandits.

The Desperado Slain Is Thought to Be the Notorious Bob Christian.

SOUTH McALESTER, Ind. T., Aug. 9.—Deputy Marshals W. H. Springfield and Stockton from Oklahoma, who have been following the Bob Christian gang since their escape from South End Junction about four weeks ago, came upon their camp at sundown five miles south of Wilburn, a small station on the C. O. and G. R. R., thirty-one miles east of here, and at the order of "hands up" the four bandits began firing at the deputies, who returned the fire. The fight lasted about thirty minutes, when the robbers mounted their horses and fled, taking one wounded and leaving one dead.

During the firing the marshals lost their horses and as they had no means to carry the dead man had to leave him and walk to town for assistance, it being dark, but they are sure it was Bob Christian, the leader of the gang, who was one of the most desperate men that have ever terrorized this country. The balance of the gang left in an easterly direction.

Springfield has wired the United States Marshal at McAlester to send more men and horses at once. A special train will leave here soon for the scene and try to trail the robbers with bloodhounds, which will be sent from Fort Smith.

IMMENSE DAMAGE DONE.

Efforts to Stay the Torrent of Flames Prove of No Avail.

FARMERS ARE HEAVY LOSERS.

Many Towns in the Wooded Country Are Threatened With Total Destruction.

SEATTLE, WASH., Aug. 9.—Forest fires in this part of the State have caused enormous damage to property, and for the past two weeks the smoke has been so dense in the Puget Sound cities that it has been with difficulty people are able to stand the stifling atmosphere. It has been several weeks since there was a rain, or a shower of sufficient duration to dampen the path of the forest flames, and the fires have consequently assumed tremendous proportions. Fortunately they have been more remote than in former years, and the railroads running in all directions through the dense woods have escaped serious loss, although some alarm had been felt and men are keeping constant watch on the wild flames along the lines of tracks.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

Missionaries Demand the Presence of Armed Forces.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Rev. A. B. Leonard, D. D., corresponding secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church Missionary Society, said this afternoon regarding the recent Chinese outrages at Hang-Ya, Kaiting, Sui-Fu, Li-Chung and other places where the missionaries were. Mr. Leonard says the actions of the Chinese officials in giving them every protection at Yachan.

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 9.—The chairman of the indignation meeting held in Shanghai to protest against outrages upon foreigners and to demand protection, has sent to the Times the following statement, which will be printed to-morrow: "We strongly urge upon the British people and the House of Commons that Lord Salisbury's demands upon the Chinese Government are utterly inadequate."

"The Chinese authorities have always promised to protect missionaries and to punish the guilty, but they never perform their promises. We believe that the outrages are generally inspired by officials. It is imperative that the Consul at Foo Chow shall have a British escort to accompany him to Cheng Tu. The Commission of inquiry must be reformed. Both cases require that more than one British official of adequate rank shall be appointed. Delay will be dangerous to the outposts and mission stations."

BLAND NOT A CANDIDATE.

The Missouri Statesman Will Neither Run for President Nor Governor.

LEBANON, Mo., Aug. 9.—Ex-Congressman R. P. Bland said this afternoon: "There was not a man who spoke to me at Pertle Springs about my candidacy for President, for Governor or anything else that I did not tell him emphatically that I was not a candidate for any office under the sun. No one had authority from me to use my name in any manner as a candidate for any office. There is a studied effort in certain quarters to bring Governor Stone and myself into political conflict. It will not succeed without our consent."

RE-ELECTION OF THE OFFICERS.

St. Louis Selected as the Site for the Next Annual Session.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The third day's meeting of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union Convention began this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The Rev. James M. Cleary, president of the union, presided. Rev. Alexander P. Doyle read letters and telegrams from all over the country expressing greeting and bidding the convention goodspeed. Among the telegrams read was one from 620 Keely gold-cure graduates, who are at present in convention at Plainfield, N. J.

When the communications had been read the Rev. P. O'Brien, chairman of the committee on resolutions, mounted the platform. It then developed that there was a majority report, which was a bitter attack on the liquor-sellers, and asked those engaged in it to give up the business. It also advocated a strict Sunday law. The resolutions also thanked the press, Archbishop Corrigan and Monsignor Satoli, but made no mention of the beer brewed by St. Vincent's abbey, which it was expected the convention would condemn.

Spain Resents the American Attitude Toward Cuba.

CITY OF MEXICO, Mexico, Aug. 9.—Regarding the attitude of the United States, its press and people, who are alleged to be almost universally in sympathy with Cubans and giving open aid to the rebel cause, Duquede Arco, the Spanish Minister here, intimates to-day that Spain would ask explanations and would exhaust diplomatic resource before proceeding further and would then act as circumstances might dictate. The Minister said he would prefer that Cuba, in the last resort, be annexed to Mexico than to become a part of the United States.

HYPNOTIZED HIS DAUGHTER.

"Trilby" Performed in a Most Realistic Manner by Amateurs.

Dr. Howard Played the Part of the Musical Jew With Too Much Success.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 9.—The extraordinary case of a daughter being hypnotized by her own father developed here last evening in the "Trilby" tableaux given by some of the leading guests at the Richfield Hotel. The proceeds of the performance were to go to St. Joseph's Catholic Church, and the summer theater where the entertainment took place was crowded early in the evening. The patronesses included the Baroness de Barrios, Baroness von Westernhagen and Mrs. T. C. T. Crain, wife of the ex-Chamberlain of New York City. Music, recitations and songs by Mme. Ricci of London and the Misses Braem of New York and Mather of Albany preceded the "Trilby" performance, in which the role of Svengali was assumed by Vice-President Frederick S. Howard of the Fourteenth-street Bank, New York City, while the Trilby was his only daughter, Miss Jennie Louise.

It had been intended that R. L. Crawford should pose as Svengali, but on account of his refusal to rehearse it was found necessary this morning at the dress rehearsal to substitute Dr. Howard. He is a man of strong intellectual force and threw his whole mind into the part. After the dress rehearsal Miss Howard seemed quite exhausted, and it was noticed that the pupils of her eyes were set and her features singularly contracted, but it was supposed that rest would restore her.

The performance last night was a great success. Miss Howard's interpretation of Trilby's peculiar obsession by the musical Jew being generally commented on. When it was found that Trilby continued after the curtain fell in the same distraught condition in which she had been since the dress rehearsal, however, she was carried to her apartments in the Earlington, and her family, now much alarmed, called in Dr. Crain, who succeeded finally in de-hypnotizing her.

It was then recalled that Dr. Howard, who practiced medicine some years ago, was all that time able to anesthetize patients simply by an effort of the will, although until then he was ignorant of his remarkable hypnotic powers.

CAUSED BY A STORY.

Dabney Marshall and Friends Murdered by T. Dinkins.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 9.—Hon. J. Dabney Marshall, Senator-elect from Morgan and Hinds counties, shot and killed R. T. Dinkins of Jackson at Brander this morning. Marshall and his three friends, S. H. Coleman, R. P. Fox and W. P. Vollens, drove to Brander this morning in a hack and met Dinkins at the depot. As he turned a corner of the building they opened fire on him and shot him fifteen times. Marshall was unharmed, but grabbed Marshall's pistol from him as he fired the first shot. The shooting was caused by a sensational report circulated by Dinkins that Marshall had attempted a crime while he and Marshall had roomed together.

Marshall denounced the report as a lie, but Dinkins stuck to it, and everybody looked for a killing sooner or later. Marshall is a little fellow and weighs about seventy-five pounds. He is highly educated, a lawyer and a man of letters, and his family is one of the most prominent in the State. He has served a term in the Legislature, and was the nominee for floater Senator of Warren and Hinds counties. Dinkins' family is equally as good. He is a brother to W. L. Dinkins of Madison, President Cleveland's United States Marshal during his first term, and is closely related to many prominent men in the State, being a cousin to Bishop Charles B. Galloway of this city. Marshall and companions are under arrest at Brander. The body of Dinkins was brought to Jackson to-day.

ONE STEAMER WAS SUNK.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 9.—The steamers Britannic and Russia were in collision in the Detroit River just below Wyandotte shortly before 5 o'clock this evening and as a result the Britannic was sunk and one of her firemen was drowned. The Russia was quite badly damaged, but managed to keep afloat until she reached the Detroit drydock.

AMBIGUOUS.

The American—Awful, isn't it? The Chinaman—Whoo!

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 9.—Minister Denby has been instructed by Acting Secretary Adee to secure protection for American citizens at Pan Yang, China, a place about forty miles from Foo Chow, where the American mission is reported to have been looted by the Chinese.

The statement of Miss Mabel C. Hartford, one of the American missionaries at Hwasang, regarding the outrages at that station on the 1st inst., is regarded by the officials at the State Department as fully vindicating their confidence in Minister Denby's promptness and efficiency, despite the criticisms that have been made against him.

Saturday, the 3d inst., the second day after the assault was committed, and according to her statement, the relief party met them the next day en route to the scene of trouble. It is pointed out that notwithstanding meager means of communication existing in the province and the equally poor facilities for transportation the relief party had made most excellent progress, more rapid even than might naturally have been expected. That it did so, these officials say, is proof additional to that furnished by the developments in the matter of the outrages at Cheng Tu some weeks ago, that the Minister is especially vigilant and active in looking after the interests of his countrymen in China and protecting them to the utmost extent of the means within his power.

Appeals for the protection of American missionaries in China have been coming in to the State Department this morning by telegraph and mail from officers of the religious organizations who have missionary stations in that country. Some of them alleged that Minister Denby is not doing his duty, and indicate a state of feeling that might naturally be caused by the press dispatches concerning the outrages, but it is hardly consistent with the efforts which the department, Mr. Denby and Admiral Carpenter are making to secure adequate protection for all Americans in China. The few dispatches received at the department from United States Consuls in China have been acted upon promptly. Mr. Denby has been cabled all the information contained in these, together with instructions to use his best efforts to give protection to American citizens, and to prevent a repetition of attacks on American missionaries.

J. Courtney Hixon, the United States Consul at Foo Chow, has informed the State Department that another mission chapel at Pang Yang has been looted, and directions have been cabled to Mr. Denby to take cognizance of the matter. This is believed to be the place given in the press dispatches as Inghok or Pinghok.

It would be of value to the State Department if all the American missionary societies quickly furnish the location and description of the missions they represent, and a list of the Americans attached to them.

Acting Secretary-General Jernigan at Shanghai a dispatch dated July 12, enclosing four letters received by him from missionaries, giving in great detail accounts of the events in China leading up to the riots against the missionaries at Cheng Tu, in the province of Szechuen. One of these, from Spencer Lanir, very comprehensive in scope and dated Chun King, China, says that the West China mission of the Methodist Episcopal church is the only American mission represented in Cheng Tu. The Americans there were the Rev. Olin Cady and wife, H. L. Canwright, M.D., and wife and two children and Rev. J. F. Peat and wife and two children. This mission owned but one piece of property in Cheng Tu, which is a building fitted up for the residence of two families, a Chinese building used as a chapel, a dispensary and minor structures. Mr. Lanir says that substantially all these are gone, even the paving-stones being carried out of the courts. The total loss, exclusive of personal loss, is about 6000 taels.

The American Baptist Missionary Union had stations in Sui-Fu, Kaiting and Yachan. The missions and personal property at Kaiting and Yachan are probably all lost, though particulars had not been received by Lanir when his letter was written. At Sui-Fu the Americans owned a great deal of property, but not much damage was done to it.

Mr. Lanir describes the various attacks made on the missions at Cheng Tu, the particulars of which have been printed in American newspapers. In the attack on the premises the Canadian Methodist mission the two persons in charge of the hospital and chapel, which were afterward looted and burned, kept the mob at bay, but the officials would give no assistance, although several of them were quite near. Late that evening, May 28, the members of the American Methodist mission sought refuge in the District Magistrate's yamen, but were refused and told they would be protected if they returned home. Relying upon these promises they were entirely unprepared for the mob which soon visited them, and had barely time to escape. Operations were renewed by the mob at daybreak next day, and before noon the attack was general on all the Catholic and Protestant mission places. The American Methodists, from their hiding-places in an attic only six feet away, watched the mob for twelve hours plundering their houses.

Some of the 10,000 soldiers in the province assisted in the looting, and dug up a number of bones, which they took to the district yamen, representing them to be the bones of babies which the foreigners had eaten. The Viceroy, says Mr. Lanir, and consequently all lower officials, were simultaneously suffering from a severe attack of indisposition. He makes serious charges against the Viceroy, Cheo Taoti, claiming that, as he had been degraded and was soon to be recalled, he was bent on giving a parting hit, both at the foreigners, whom he hated, and the Government. When the flames burst forth from the Catholic Bishop's residence, scarcely a stone's throw from the Viceroy's yamen, the Viceroy remarked, according to Mr. Lanir, that this was a matter for his successor to attend to, and he states that only after everything was quite destroyed did the Viceroy make an effort to restore order, in the meantime having sent out telegrams that a mutilated child had been found at the foreign place, with a result that nearly all the natives believed the story.

Mr. Lanir scores the Viceroy severely and demands the punishment of hostile officials. He incloses copies of the inflammatory placards that were posted everywhere charging that the foreigners were kidnapping children and using oil from their bodies.

A letter from Dr. Harry L. Canwright confirms Mr. Lanir's statements. George W. Hill of the American Baptist Missionary Union at Yachan tells of the flight of himself and party from that place and of an attempt to mob them while proceeding down a river in a boat. He was unable at the time the letter was written to say whether or not the Baptist mission property at Yachan had been destroyed, but he learned before leaving there that all the stations on the Cheng Tu and Yachan roads, Catholic and Protestant, had been noted, and there had also been riots at Hang-Ya, Kaiting, Sui-Fu, Li-Chung and other places where the missionaries were. Mr. Hill praises the actions of the Chinese officials in giving them every protection at Yachan.

DENVER'S RIVAL BOARDS.

It is Expected That the New Commissioners Will Get Control.

OMAHA, NEBR., Aug. 9.—Charles J. Green, the leading attorney for the old board, continued his speech for his clients this morning and talked till Judge Hopewell announced that he must close at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

At the close of his speech the Judge announced that he would give his decision at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. From some of the pointed questions which Judge Hopewell asked of Green to-day the friends of the new board are hopeful that he will make his decision in their favor. This decision, of course, not be final, will either confirm the right of the old board to occupy their office until the Supreme Court decides the case or will give into the custody of the new board the office until that time.
