VAQUE LAND SELECTIONS.

Southern Pacific Not Required to Publish Necessary Details.

BIG POINT FOR THE MINERS.

Secretary Ralston Complains Strongly of This in His Protests.

Copies of three notices of appeal and assignments of error, with briefs, were served upon the Southern Pacific yesterday by Attorney Ricketts, chairman of the mineral lands committee of the California Miners' Association, the necessary papers being sent on to Washington.

These appeals affect about 600,000 acres of land in the Redding and Sacramento land districts.

Seven protests are also to be entered at various land offices involving what, roughly estimated, may be between 600,000 and 600,000 acres of land. Three are in the Redding, two at Marysville and two at Visalia.

It is impossible now to correctly specify the exact number of acres involved in any particular land office at which the defect are listed. This is another defect for which the rules of the Land Department of July 19, 1884, are responsible. As it is the newspaper official publications are very vague.

An extract from a letter from Charles H. Fisher, editor of the Roseburg Review, to Mr. Ricketts explains this in part as follows:

I take the liberty to call your attention to one matter of very great importance to the miners of this town. That is the recent inclusion of the names of certain lands in the list of lands to be published in full by subdivisions, but by townships only. This is not a new thing, but it is a new thing because of the great distance, to wit, two hundred and fifty miles between the said place of posting and the place of residence of the miner. Secretary William C. Ralston, in his protests against the applications of the railroad company for patents to the lands, those in the Redding land district, for example, explains this further, thus:

A man is informed and firmly believes that a copy of the list of lands situated in the township described in said newspaper publication, and for which patent has been applied for as aforesaid, by descriptive subdivisions, is published in the States and Office, for open to the inspection of all persons interested and the public generally, as in said newspaper mentioned, and that it is not accessible to him because of the great distance, to wit, two hundred and fifty miles between the said place of posting and the place of residence of the miner. CASHIN AND LIEBES FREE.

Indictments Against Them Have Been Dismissed by the Government.

The District Attorney Satisfied There Was Not Enough Evidence to Convict.

The indictments against D. M. Cashin and Jacob Liebes were not permitted to testify in the Federal Court by the United States District Attorney yesterday afternoon.

For some months past the Government has been trying to drum up sufficient evidence to convict either one or the other of the alleged conspirators, but failed completely. In consequence District Attorney Foote thought it wiser to dismiss the cases. No new evidence be discovered at any time there will be no difficulty in finding new indictments.

The dismissal of the charges against Cashin and Liebes brings up the old Neuberger, Reis & Co. and Liebes Bros. cases. The former imported silks and satins as "cotton" goods and the latter wrapper tobacco. The Government sent out experts, who made a thorough examination of the case. Liebes Bros. never paid a cent, as they stuck out through the neck and thin the Government sent out experts, who made a thorough examination of the case. THE SAUSALITO FETE.

A Naval Battle Instead of Vesuvius in Eruption.

An Original and More Attractive Plan Before the Committee.

The original idea of a "Night in Naples" to be given in Sausalito has been reconsidered from the fact that it would be dangerous at this time of the year when the grasses are so dry to send off fireworks and produce streams of fire along the sides of the mountain in the rear of the Pacific Yacht Club. A more original and certainly a more interesting night spectacle will probably be substituted, and one which will be seen to advantage from the shore. It will be the representation of a naval engagement, and the bay and the mountains will be the theater of this naval show. Possibly the committee will make the display of historic interest by giving to the vessels engaged the names of some ships famous in Revolutionary history.

The naval vessels will be represented by two barges anchored some 500 yards off shore and about 300 yards apart. They will be canvased and painted so as to resemble the broadsides of two men-of-war with the decks cleared for action. On the shore a fort will be constructed, which will keep up a steady fire on the hostile ships. When the engagement begins the ships will fire continuously batteries of fireworks, consisting of electric spreader darts and sparks, streamers of rose, green, crimson and blue, and silver torrents and festoons of brilliant coloring, floral cannonades, interspersed with lights and crosses of hundreds of rockets containing one or two shooting stars, parachutes, showers of rubies, heliotope, the couleur de rose, having chains, weeping-willows, peacock plums and other novelties.

From the fort on the shore will be projected hundreds of shells from forty guns and mortars continuously, which will not alone illumine the heavens, but keep up a constant cannonading, making the entire effect most real and impressive.

THE ITALIAN BARK BEPPE REPORTED LOST BY FIRE IN MID-OCEAN.

A Derelict in the South Seas—Failure to Float the Stranded Weeot.

The Italian bark Beppe, bound from Androssa to this port, was burned at sea some weeks ago. Her crew reached Montevideo in safety, and reports of the disaster were sent from there to London. The Beppe is on the regular run between San Francisco and European ports. She was here about a year ago, and left loaded with wheat for England. She was an iron ship built at Pertusola in 1891. Her dimensions were: Length 222.3, beam 33.7, depth of hold 20.2.

The British bark Castor, which arrived here on Sunday evening from Newcastle, N. S. W., reported sighting the abandoned hull of a wooden ship in latitude 1 deg. 40 min. south and longitude 169 deg. 4 min. west. She passed the derelict about 1 o'clock on the morning of July 1. The hull was that of a vessel of between 1000 and 1200 tons burden, and was apparently built in the latter part of the eighteenth century. However, there was no sign of life on board.

A dispatch to the Merchants' Exchange from Kureka reports that the first attempt to float the Weeot, which was stranded on the Humboldt bar last Saturday night,

THE MAN ACCUSED OF POISONING Mrs. Jennie Matthews at Laurel Hill.

Oliver W. Winthrop, the assistant superintendent of Laurel Hill Cemetery, was brought into Department No. 12 of the Superior Court yesterday to answer before Judge Bahr and a jury to the charge of poisoning Mrs. Jennie Matthews.

Mrs. Matthews went to Laurel Hill Cemetery on the forenoon of May 13, accompanied by her little daughter Mattie. While there she was poisoned, and at midnight she died. ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

The fall complement of members of the executive committee of arrangements for Sausalito's coming carnival will be selected to-day.

Three appeals were taken by Attorney Ricketts of the Miners' Association yesterday from Judge Conlan's decision in the case of the Southern Pacific land selections. Seven protests are also to be filed, covering probably over 500,000 acres of land.

The Masonic Association has filed a protest with the Board of Supervisors against the assessment for the construction of a cesspool on the southeast corner of Fourteenth and Broadway streets, on the ground that the work has not been properly executed.

An effort will be made this fall to revive baseball in California. Central Park has been leased for two months and four Eastern teams will play from October 12 to December 15. An effort will be made to reorganize the old California league as well.

John O'Rourke, 10 years of age, living with his parents on Post and Fillmore streets, was severely bitten on the left arm by a dog on O'Farrell street, between Judge and Pierce streets, last night. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, and the wound was dressed by Dr. Rinne. The boy's father will swear to the dog this morning. He said it had also severely bitten a little girl yesterday morning.

George Thomas Moran, who had his sentence of life imprisonment commuted by him by Judge Low on May 20, affirmed on appeal by Judge Bahr on Saturday, was resentenced to life imprisonment yesterday. He accepted the bond on appeal and also signed the order of release in the case, but the stay of the order is in effect.

THE SWORN TORTURERS.

Of the Spanish Inquisition named torturers more dreadful than those endured by the victim of inflammatory rheumatism. The chronic form of this obstinate malady is sufficiently painful. Arrest it at the start with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and avoid becoming a life-long martyr. The Bitters will remove malaria and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness and neuralgia, remedy debility and hasten convalescence.

THE MAN ACCUSED OF POISONING Mrs. Jennie Matthews at Laurel Hill.

Oliver W. Winthrop, the assistant superintendent of Laurel Hill Cemetery, was brought into Department No. 12 of the Superior Court yesterday to answer before Judge Bahr and a jury to the charge of poisoning Mrs. Jennie Matthews.

Mrs. Matthews went to Laurel Hill Cemetery on the forenoon of May 13, accompanied by her little daughter Mattie. While there she was poisoned, and at midnight she died. The only statement that she made while the physicians were trying to save her life was that a man had given her a pill and that she had eaten it.

Winthrop was arrested on suspicion. The only direct witness was the child

THE SAUSALITO FETE.

The original idea of a "Night in Naples" to be given in Sausalito has been reconsidered from the fact that it would be dangerous at this time of the year when the grasses are so dry to send off fireworks and produce streams of fire along the sides of the mountain in the rear of the Pacific Yacht Club. A more original and certainly a more interesting night spectacle will probably be substituted, and one which will be seen to advantage from the shore. It will be the representation of a naval engagement, and the bay and the mountains will be the theater of this naval show. Possibly the committee will make the display of historic interest by giving to the vessels engaged the names of some ships famous in Revolutionary history.
