

MAMMOTH CAFE ZINKAND.

A Costly Institution With Scarcely a Superior in Existence.

ELABORATE AND BEAUTIFUL.

Briefly Sketched Description of the Restaurant Which Opens Tomorrow.

After tomorrow's reception at the Cafe Zinkand in the new Spreckels building, no one would think of pointing out the beauties of San Francisco without referring to this gorgeously appointed cafe.

The finest of marbles, the costliest materials, the handsomest woods, have been collected to make the interior as beautiful as the art of man can make it.

Everything is original, from the massive hammered wrought iron electric lanterns in front on Market street to the equipment of the big kitchen in the rear on Stevenson street.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership.

After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

SCENES IN ZINKAND'S MAGNIFICENT CAFE IN THE SPRECKELS BUILDING ON MARKET STREET.

[Sketches for "The Call,"]

SCENES IN ZINKAND'S MAGNIFICENT CAFE IN THE SPRECKELS BUILDING ON MARKET STREET.

[Sketches for "The Call,"]

private office are of ornamental glass. The liberal use of glass not only impresses one with a sense of cleanliness, but adds much to the attractiveness of the restaurant, especially under the blaze of its 2000 incandescent electric lights.

The refrigerating plant is novel, no ice being used, cooling being accomplished by mechanical refrigeration. The capacity of the plant, which is located in the rear basement, is equivalent to the melting of ten tons of ice every twenty-four hours. It is the first of the kind ever put up on the coast for restaurant purposes, and is such a plant as is used for coolers, breweries, cold-storage and packing-houses.

The kitchen is a perfect marvel of neatness, and situated as it is, completely separated from the dining-room, the latter can never be penetrated by odors arising from cooking. The menu will always be elaborate, and the name of the proprietor is a guarantee that the service will be of the highest order.

Charles A. Zinkand, the owner and designer of many of the original and metropolitan features in the arrangement and ornamentation of this cafe, is strictly a self-made man. Upon his arrival in New York City in 1873 he secured employment as a mechanic in the manufacturing establishment of Simon Brothers, one of the largest trunk factories in this country.

After six months of diligent work he was made foreman of a department. At the end of two years he became superintendent of the factory. After three more years had elapsed, at the age of 26, he came to San Francisco and opened a branch house for the firm.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

Success still attended his efforts, for at the expiration of the first twelve months in this city he was elevated to a partnership. After a time Mr. Zinkand concluded to withdraw from the firm for no other reason than that there were too many heads to the institution.

THE BAY DISTRICT TRACK.

Colored Riders Furnished Some Rare Good Sport for the Crowd.

SINBAD FIRST AT 75 TO 1.

Mainstay Lowered the Colors of Speedy Sport McAllister in a Fast Run.

"They're off for Sacramento"—the horseman.

George Miller will probably ride Del Norte in the cup race.

Good-natured Billy Donahay was looking across Sacramento money, so he thought he'd take a chance on and invested $5 each way at 75 to 1. He goes to the fair.

Mainstay negotiated the half in 47 3/4. Sport McAllister was at his side under a pull, so how fast can be stated that distance?

There will be a cessation of racing at the Bay District for two weeks during the State Fair, when it will again be resumed with renewed vigor.

The wise division all backed Fly. In speaking of the race Trainer George Beardsley blamed Tim Murphy's defeat to the bay start, and in this connection he is undoubtedly correct, for the roan horse was beaten but a length.

It was not to be wondered at that a large crowd found its way out to the Bay District Track yesterday, the closing down day. The "Chocolate Stakes," a seven-furlong dash over the inside course, with colored gentlemen riders in the saddle, totally eclipsed the other events on the programme, and was alone worth the admission charge. There were nine starters in the race, and they all received more or less support.

A Tally's mount, Gold Bug, particularly, was the great demand, the flood of odds cutting his price from 2 1/2 to 1 down to 9 to 10. Many pinned their faith to Abi P with "Chance" Treadwell, who sported in the Lorillard colors when younger than he now is, in the saddle, the mare going to the post second choice.

Alexis, on which Mr. Monroe Johnson with his bicycle whistle had the leg up, was heavily played by the first six, and so were Vernon and Charmer, but "Brunner" Rube Moore on Johnny Payne, a 20 to 1 shot, "done went out and did de trick."

The band was marshaled in full force for the paddock entrance to the track. Very little time was wasted at the start, the flag sending the southerly air as "Dixie," "Dar a New Coon in Town" and "What Am You Gwine to Tell Marse Peter When You Meet Him at de Gate?" Very little time was wasted at the start, the flag sending them away well bunched.

Vernon and Gold Bug showed prominently in front until the bottom of the first hill was reached, when Moore on Johnny Payne scooted, and they could never get near him again. He won hands down from the hard-riden favorite, Gold Bug, with Vernon third, a neck further back.

Alexis, on which Monroe Johnson had become entangled with a portion of the Jockey Club's fence. The ambulance carried Mr. Johnson to the paddock, and, beyond the loss of his whistle, a corkscrew twist in his neck and a general shaking-up he escaped serious injury.

Mr. Moore did not meet with the usual obstreperous reception, "fo' de members in de know did not have dere checks down."

The win of Sinbad at odds of 75 to 1 in the opening race was a startling one, but thereafter the favorites raced fairly well, four out of six taking purses.

Bob Tucker was ridden by 13 to 1 favorite for the opening race, a six-furlong maiden dash, but was never dangerous. The second choice (Yreka) led until well on toward the wire, when Sinbad collared him and in a drive won by half a length, with the favorite third.

The old roan sprinter, Tim Murphy, opened, favorite for the next race, a five-furlong dash, but the bookies were fairly smothered when Fly, a neck-breaking mill sprinter, posed a 9 to 10 choice, Tim taking a back seat with 13 to 1 against his chances. A half hour was consumed in getting the six starters away, and then to a poor start, Fly being on the run and Tim Murphy almost standing still. Fly was never headed, winning by a length from the roan horse, with Sigo a poor third.

The short six-furlong handicap for two-year-olds came very far from bringing Elbertus Imp, Miss Brummel, and that good youngster Grady together. The latter went to the post a 7 to 1 favorite and trailing behind the other two starters until the stretch was reached, passed them and won hands-down. Tibertus took second place by a nose in a drive.

Backed from 7 to 5 to even money in the mile and seventy yard handicap, McLight, the roguish son of MacDuff, suiked and would not run a bit. Abi P, on the other hand, as good as 9 to 1 in the betting, led all the way and won in a big gallop from Arnette. Fred Gardner finished third.

The fifth, ran at six furlongs with three starters, was quite a betting problem. Mainstay was ridden by Lucerna, and Sport McAllister, was the way it stood at post time. The two-year-old was away in front at flag-fall, but Mainstay almost immediately assumed the lead with Sport at the wheel. Mainstay was checked, and Straightened away in the stretch Mainstay proved the game finisher and won by a length in 1:14 flat.

The mile-and-a-quarter hurdle race was taken by Bellinger, who, cotyled with Carmel, sold favorite in the betting at 6 to 5. J O C was a strong second choice. The horse that never did anything right was on his good behavior, and, leading all the way, romping from the second choice.

MULHOLLAND.

REVIEWING SUTRO'S LIBRARY.

The Collection Visited by Regents and Other Prominent People.

In consequence of a special invitation issued by George Moss, acting librarian, nearly all of the regents and the Affiliated Colleges Committee visited the Sutro library at 30 Montgomery block and the branch library on Lafayette yesterday.

The University of California was also well represented.

Librarian Moss escorted his guests through the labyrinth of books and pamphlets, ancient and modern, explaining in a clear, succinct manner those features which make the Sutro collection one of the most valuable in the world.

The library comprised, he said, nearly 300,000 books and periodicals gathered from all parts of the globe, many of which could not be duplicated in any library, National or private, in existence.

Among those present may be mentioned George F. Mayne, General Houghton, Columbus Bartlett, Judge Evans, Professor Wenzel, Professor White and Secretary Bonte of the University of California.

Straw Bondsman Held.

John Desmond, a straw bondsman, was yesterday held to answer before the Superior Court in $10,000 bonds, on the charge of perjury. He was one of the bondsmen who qualified on the bonds of Mrs. Caroline Fletcher, who brought this case by Sharon under a four-year contract to open the Palace Hotel grillroom and city restaurant. He is a very popular young man, of fine qualifications for the position he now holds.

Board of Health and Cholera.

An informal meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday to discuss the prevalence of cholera in the Orient and the menace it constitutes to this city. Dr. Chambers, Professor of Cholera, was present and stated that he had called upon the Oceanic Steamship Company without getting much satisfaction. It was resolved to take every precaution against the disease arriving in this port.

Donizetti's Birthplace, Bergamo, is at last to erect a monument, costing $3000, to the composer of "Lucia," "Lucretia Borgia" and "La Favorita."

THE BAY DISTRICT TRACK.

Colored Riders Furnished Some Rare Good Sport for the Crowd.

SINBAD FIRST AT 75 TO 1.

Mainstay Lowered the Colors of Speedy Sport McAllister in a Fast Run.

"They're off for Sacramento"—the horseman.

George Miller will probably ride Del Norte in the cup race.

Good-natured Billy Donahay was looking across Sacramento money, so he thought he'd take a chance on and invested $5 each way at 75 to 1. He goes to the fair.

Mainstay negotiated the half in 47 3/4. Sport McAllister was at his side under a pull, so how fast can be stated that distance?

There will be a cessation of racing at the Bay District for two weeks during the State Fair, when it will again be resumed with renewed vigor.

The wise division all backed Fly. In speaking of the race Trainer George Beardsley blamed Tim Murphy's defeat to the bay start, and in this connection he is undoubtedly correct, for the roan horse was beaten but a length.

It was not to be wondered at that a large crowd found its way out to the Bay District Track yesterday, the closing down day. The "Chocolate Stakes," a seven-furlong dash over the inside course, with colored gentlemen riders in the saddle, totally eclipsed the other events on the programme, and was alone worth the admission charge. There were nine starters in the race, and they all received more or less support.

A Tally's mount, Gold Bug, particularly, was the great demand, the flood of odds cutting his price from 2 1/2 to 1 down to 9 to 10. Many pinned their faith to Abi P with "Chance" Treadwell, who sported in the Lorillard colors when younger than he now is, in the saddle, the mare going to the post second choice.

Alexis, on which Mr. Monroe Johnson with his bicycle whistle had the leg up, was heavily played by the first six, and so were Vernon and Charmer, but "Brunner" Rube Moore on Johnny Payne, a 20 to 1 shot, "done went out and did de trick."

The band was marshaled in full force for the paddock entrance to the track. Very little time was wasted at the start, the flag sending the southerly air as "Dixie," "Dar a New Coon in Town" and "What Am You Gwine to Tell Marse Peter When You Meet Him at de Gate?" Very little time was wasted at the start, the flag sending them away well bunched.

Vernon and Gold Bug showed prominently in front until the bottom of the first hill was reached, when Moore on Johnny Payne scooted, and they could never get near him again. He won hands down from the hard-riden favorite, Gold Bug, with Vernon third, a neck further back.

Alexis, on which Monroe Johnson had become entangled with a portion of the Jockey Club's fence. The ambulance carried Mr. Johnson to the paddock, and, beyond the loss of his whistle, a corkscrew twist in his neck and a general shaking-up he escaped serious injury.

Mr. Moore did not meet with the usual obstreperous reception, "fo' de members in de know did not have dere checks down."

The win of Sinbad at odds of 75 to 1 in the opening race was a startling one, but thereafter the favorites raced fairly well, four out of six taking purses.

Bob Tucker was ridden by 13 to 1 favorite for the opening race, a six-furlong maiden dash, but was never dangerous. The second choice (Yreka) led until well on toward the wire, when Sinbad collared him and in a drive won by half a length, with the favorite third.

The old roan sprinter, Tim Murphy, opened, favorite for the next race, a five-furlong dash, but the bookies were fairly smothered when Fly, a neck-breaking mill sprinter, posed a 9 to 10 choice, Tim taking a back seat with 13 to 1 against his chances. A half hour was consumed in getting the six starters away, and then to a poor start, Fly being on the run and Tim Murphy almost standing still. Fly was never headed, winning by a length from the roan horse, with Sigo a poor third.

The short six-furlong handicap for two-year-olds came very far from bringing Elbertus Imp, Miss Brummel, and that good youngster Grady together. The latter went to the post a 7 to 1 favorite and trailing behind the other two starters until the stretch was reached, passed them and won hands-down. Tibertus took second place by a nose in a drive.

Backed from 7 to 5 to even money in the mile and seventy yard handicap, McLight, the roguish son of MacDuff, suiked and would not run a bit. Abi P, on the other hand, as good as 9 to 1 in the betting, led all the way and won in a big gallop from Arnette. Fred Gardner finished third.

The fifth, ran at six furlongs with three starters, was quite a betting problem. Mainstay was ridden by Lucerna, and Sport McAllister, was the way it stood at post time. The two-year-old was away in front at flag-fall, but Mainstay almost immediately assumed the lead with Sport at the wheel. Mainstay was checked, and Straightened away in the stretch Mainstay proved the game finisher and won by a length in 1:14 flat.

The mile-and-a-quarter hurdle race was taken by Bellinger, who, cotyled with Carmel, sold favorite in the betting at 6 to 5. J O C was a strong second choice. The horse that never did anything right was on his good behavior, and, leading all the way, romping from the second choice.

MULHOLLAND.

REVIEWING SUTRO'S LIBRARY.

The Collection Visited by Regents and Other Prominent People.

In consequence of a special invitation issued by George Moss, acting librarian, nearly all of the regents and the Affiliated Colleges Committee visited the Sutro library at 30 Montgomery block and the branch library on Lafayette yesterday.

The University of California was also well represented.

Librarian Moss escorted his guests through the labyrinth of books and pamphlets, ancient and modern, explaining in a clear, succinct manner those features which make the Sutro collection one of the most valuable in the world.

The library comprised, he said, nearly 300,000 books and periodicals gathered from all parts of the globe, many of which could not be duplicated in any library, National or private, in existence.

Among those present may be mentioned George F. Mayne, General Houghton, Columbus Bartlett, Judge Evans, Professor Wenzel, Professor White and Secretary Bonte of the University of California.

Straw Bondsman Held.

John Desmond, a straw bondsman, was yesterday held to answer before the Superior Court in $10,000 bonds, on the charge of perjury. He was one of the bondsmen who qualified on the bonds of Mrs. Caroline Fletcher, who brought this case by Sharon under a four-year contract to open the Palace Hotel grillroom and city restaurant. He is a very popular young man, of fine qualifications for the position he now holds.

Board of Health and Cholera.

An informal meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday to discuss the prevalence of cholera in the Orient and the menace it constitutes to this city. Dr. Chambers