The length of his prospective term in prison rendered him desperate. He did not believe that any jury would hang him for killing the man accused of the Emmanuel Church murders, and he realized that the notoriety to be gained by the crime would benefit him at Folsom, where those guilty of bloodshed constitute the prisoners' 400.

From Hawley as ringleader the conspiracy spread till it involved men enough to render the attainment of its object certain if only opportunity offered. The plan was to get Durrant at the far end of the jail corridor at the time all the prisoners were taking exercise. Property-Owners Object to the Notices for Sidewalk Repair.

THE LAW TO BE LOOKED INTO.

Meeting of Club Officers to Be Held in Attorney Shadburne's Office.

The property-owners of the South Side do not propose to take the failure of the Board of Supervisors to provide for the bituminizing of Folsom street as a defeat. They intend to show their teeth and fight from now on; and the fighting is to be done in the courts as well as at the polls, if

At the last big demonstration, namely, that at Columbia Square, Attorney George D. Shadburne let fall a few observations that, like the seed of the sower in the Biblical parable, have fallen upon some good soil as well as by the wayside, and have brought forth much fruit.

The dominant idea conveyed by Mr. Shadburne's remarks at that time was that the City could be compelled to keep Folsom street in proper repair—that such was an obligation assumed by the City when it accepted the thoroughfare. It is this particular thought which has been fruitful of action.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the presidents

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the presidents of the four Folsom-street Improvement Clubs and Dr. T. A. Rottanzi, president of the South Side Improvement Club, with several other gentlemen prominently interested in the movement for good roads, will meet in Mr. Shadburne's office and discuss the legal phase of the Folsom-street question. Besides Dr. Rottanzi there are expected to be present A. B. Maguire, the originator of the movement, Secretary J. Schwartz of the South Side Club, and Messrs. George L. Center, Joseph Kelly, Leon Samuels and John Rafferty, the presidents, respectively, of the four Kelly, Leon Samuels and John Rafferty, the presidents, respectively, of the four Folsom-street Improvement Clubs.

It is proposed to stand upon a Supreme Court decision rendered early in the seventies. According to that decision the streets should be properly kept in repair from survey to survey, which means not only the streets but the sidewalks. It was this position taken by the court which Mr. Shadburne had in mind when he addressed the Columbia-square demonstration in the particular strain alluded to.

Particular strain alluded to.

What has served to precipitate this course of action has been the step taken by the Superintendent of Streets to compel the property-owners to put the side-walks in front of their property into such shape as might enable pedestrians to perambulate in safety. Notices to this effect have been served upon Leon Samuels, Captain Rafferty. Patrick Heyfron and a great many others. These gentlemen have no particular objection to spending a few dolars on sidewalks, but they wonder why they should be compelled to contribute toward a temporary makeshift of patchwork improvement, without the City itself first recognizing its obligations to property-owners in the matter of desirable street paving. So they have made up their minds to have the law looked into and then, if it is in their favor, to move in a body. Said by the Superintendent of Streets to is in their favor, to move in a body. Said President Rottanzi of the South Side Club yesterday afternoon:

The property-owners on this side of Market street are becoming tired of the treatment they are receiving at the hands of the City government, and they think it is about time to do something more than to hold meetings and pass resolutions. It is getting to be a conundrum with us what we are paying taxes for anyway.

drum with us what we are paying taxes for anyway.

Now, look at these streets! Is there one good street on this side? Will we ever in a hundred years get a decent street?

Nature in one of her most benignant moods bestowed her best favors upon us. Glance at the topography of this section and see if this is not so. It is all as level as a floor. Yet we despair of having one continuous street that an ordinary vehicle might roll over without damage. an ordinary vehicle might roll over without damage.

It is a crying disgrace, yet in the face of all this slight and neglect, all this failure on the next of the City government to keep a moral

He thought his riding on the outside of the van to and from the City Hall had no significance, as, when the curious public began to congregate on Kearny street at the hours it was known he would pass, he was, upon request, permitted to ride in side.

In fact, he openly expressed a doubt as has the dignity of the court, the fragrance of a country wood and the balmy air of an outing journey.

All of the car lines running to the heights will carry double the usual number of cars, and the seats which have been built will accommodate more people than could be crowded into any theater in the spiracy to kill him at the first favorable opportunity were made public yesterday, but the interest of the story is somewhat weakened by the fact that the plot was concocted and discovered and easily the theoretic discovered and easily the theoretic discovered and easily the theoretic discovered and easily the excursionists leave the foot of Market The proposed attack on Durrant originated with Thomas Hawley, a young man of the first favorable opportunity were made public yesterday, but the interest of the story is somewhat be to the Big Tree Grove near Santa Cruz, and not San Lorenzo, as was mistakenly stated. The excursionists leave the foot of Market Street at 7:45 A. M. The excursion promises to be a most enjoyable one and a big crowd will doubtless be in attendance.
