NEW TO-DAY.

HAPPY HOMES. A Recipe That Will Remove a Fruitful Cause of Unhappiness.

"John, I called you to dinner; why don't you answer?"

"Can't you see that I am tired and out of sorts? Why don't you let me alone?"

"The husband has just come home from business and has stretched himself on the sofa, gloomily staring at the ceiling. This is not the first time he has returned in such a humor. She is hurt, and sitting down by the window gets ready to cry."

"Papa, why don't you tuck and eat?" His little daughter's pleading prevails and he follows her to the table. His wife hurriedly brushes the tears from her eyes. She is too proud to show weakness—he too stubborn to apologize for his rudeness.

There is but a half-hearted attempt at eating. "Your crusty temper has spoiled your appetite," says the wife. She is wrong—it is the want of an appetite and a good digestion that has spoiled his humor, and it takes an heroic effort for him to be amiable.

Yes, this is only an advertisement—Purina Bitters—the remedy for such domestic ills.

Other medicinal and aromatic herbs in fine old California Brandy. A pleasant beverage, a healthy stimulant, a perfect tonic, a regulator of all digestive functions, a producer of good normal appetite, of peaceful sleep, of quiet, steady nerves, good feeling and a cheerful disposition.

A SERMON ON THE A. P. A.

Rev. Father Ferguson of St. Patrick's Church Speaks Plainly.

Joining Issue With Those Who Are Denouncing Members of the Catholic Church.

At the morning service of St. Patrick's Church yesterday Father James P. Ferguson delivered a sermon directed against those whom he regards as persecutors of the Catholic Church, and expressed regret that strife should be stirred up among the different denominations.

He said: The founders of the republic put themselves on record as opposed to anything savoring of the bigotry that the A. P. A. are now propagating. They had bitterly experienced the evils of persecution in the countries from which they had emigrated. That persecution was not Catholic. With its evils vividly impressed upon their minds, the Catholics of Maryland, the Puritan of New England and the Quaker of Pennsylvania declared in the first Congress that no man should be discriminated against because of his religious belief. It is now more than a hundred years since this principle was embodied in the organic law of the land.

To-day a set of bigots seek to nullify it. They ignore the spirit and the letter of the constitution. They seek to revive prejudices which it was the mission of America's institutions to destroy. They would open controversies which have been happily settled in every nation of Christendom for centuries of bloodshed.

A free press and free speech are the watchwords they employ to deceive their dupes. What Catholic is opposed to equality? Without them he would have no security against the attacks of bigots by his enemies. The Catholic is shut out from a fair hearing in papers controlled by the A. P. A. Their only conception of a free press is the freedom for themselves to attack and vilify Catholics. The freedom of the press, in its largest and best sense, has no greater enemies than the members of the A. P. A. They have proved themselves to be. They are goaded to madness when the Catholic side of the question finds an entrance into the columns of the press. Through that part of the press—where which they have no control—came the exposure of their spurious encyclicals and their silly rant about arms stored in the basement of churches.

Senator Hoar took occasion in a speech the other day to praise the gallantry of the Catholic Union soldier, Plunkett, who, on the parapets of Vicksburg, with both arms and right hand disabled, raised the Old Glory, and thus saved it from capture. Forgiving this just meed of praise to a hero who had fought and bled for the Union, these lovers of free speech have forgotten to mention the fact that Plunkett's death upon the senior Senator of Massachusetts. The services he has rendered the Nation and his native State in legislative halls will not save him from prosecution. His life will be invoked to drive him from public life.

The speaker said that it was no wonder that the soul of honest Abe Lincoln revolted at the thought that such persons spring into life on the free soil of America. He said that the New England society of the A. P. A. of the present. Their cry forty years ago was patriotism. They too professed the greatest reverence for Uncle Sam's flag. They pressed what the speaker considered the sentiment of an honest man when he said he wanted to emigrate to a country where his politics were pure and unalloyed the day their principles triumphed. The speaker said the warning which Josiah Quincy, the Massachusetts orator, addressed to his countrymen forty years ago will not pass unheeded. The doom of the republic is sealed when the bats take the lead of the eagles. The eagles are the Washingtons and Carrolls, the statesmen of the first Congress who had just such creatures as the A. P. A. view who they declared that a religious test should never be the measure of a man's fitness for holding office, public or private.

The bats are the narrow-gauge politicians. Debauched by these designing leaders, the rank and file of the A. P. A. are not aware that in advocating the religious proscription of fellow-citizens they are antagonizing the supreme law of the land. But the country is awakening to the real danger which threatens it from this society. The time is drawing near when all Americans true to their noble traditions will be one in opposition to intolerance and bigotry.

Miami is a corruption of Miamherah, meaning 'stony river.'
