

MCCARTHY CONVICTED

Slayer of George Fox Found Guilty at Santa Rosa.

HE PLEADED INSANITY.

But the Experts Declared His Sanity to Be Clearly Evident.

WAS NOT UNDULY DEPRESSED.

The Prisoner Stated He Would Rather Be Hanged Than Be Imprisoned.

SANTA ROSA, CAL., Oct. 10.—Dennis McCarthy, the San Francisco man who shot George Fox in cold blood on Sam Crooks' farm, Bellevue, a few weeks ago, heard his doom today. The case went to the jury at 5 o'clock Wednesday and a verdict was rendered this forenoon of murder in the first degree, without any recommendation for mercy.

McCarthy has feigned insanity ever since he heard of his victim's death. When he heard the verdict read, however, he appeared as sane as any one. Not a single extenuating circumstance was shown in his favor at the trial. The contention was that he had always been feeble-minded. Expert medical testimony was given for each side, but the jury concluded that he was sane and perfectly responsible for his acts.

McCarthy is the first man to receive a death sentence since the conviction of George W. Braxey, the Windsor man, who killed an inoffensive German, Dick Lennsen, and who was thrice sentenced to be hanged.

When McCarthy was taken back to the County Jail from the courtroom he did not seem to be unduly depressed by the result of the trial. He will be sentenced on Monday. He says he is satisfied with the verdict of the jury, as he killed George Fox, who was a peaceful and well-behaved man, and he would rather hang than go to San Quentin for life. The jail officials are taking extra precautions to guard him, as the jail is not too secure.

The last man sentenced here to death escaped by breaking out through the roof, and McCarthy is reported to have remarked that to be killed is a last attempt to escape would be preferable to hanging, as hanging was preferable to a life sentence.

Under the new law if McCarthy is hanged the execution will take place at San Quentin. It is the first conviction of murder in the first degree in a long time, and the people rejoice at the triumph. It has been difficult heretofore to convict white men in this county of capital crimes.

The crime of which Dennis McCarthy was convicted to-day occurred on June 25. The quarrel was begun with Sam Crooks, for whom the prisoner had formerly worked. George Fox, the victim, was a fellow-employee.

The trial commenced on Thursday morning last and has occupied several days. Much interest has been evinced in the matter, and each day the courtroom has been besieged with spectators. District Attorney Sewall, prosecuted and Attorney C. S. Farquar and Gill P. Hall appeared for the defense.

In his version of the trouble Mr. Crooks stated that on June 25, about 1:30 o'clock, he and Fox and a man named Simpson were engaged hauling hay when McCarthy, with whom he had had some talk the same morning, came up and asked to see him in private. He refused to comply with the request. McCarthy then asked witness to take him back to work again. He refused, as McCarthy had not behaved well. McCarthy then demanded his money and refused to accept the amount offered him and went upstairs and took off his coat.

George Fox then passed the barn and told him that McCarthy had a pistol. Crooks then ordered Fox to hitch up a horse and he would go to Santa Rosa for the Sheriff. He then went into dinner and while in the house heard the double report of a pistol. He went to the door and saw McCarthy coming out of the stable, where Fox had been harnessing the horse, with a smoking pistol in his hand. He then sent for Dr. Jesse. Fox died at his ranch on July 20. McCarthy had had some previous trouble with Fox.

The defense from the outset tried to set up the plea of insanity. The prosecution, however, called several experts to the stand, among whom were Dr. J. Osborn of the Glen Ellen Home for the Feeble-minded and Dr. R. P. Smith, who testified as to the sanity of the accused.

The greatest sensation caused during the trial was when John Clark of Santa Rosa was on the stand. Clark met McCarthy hours before the shooting took place at the depot. McCarthy told Clark that he had had trouble with a man at Bellevue and that he was going to shoot him. Clark cautioned him, but McCarthy's reply indicated that he would not heed the caution.

The argument commenced at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and at 4 o'clock the jury took the case. They were locked up all night, and at 11:30 o'clock this morning rendered a verdict of "murder in first degree." The verdict did not surprise many people.

McCarthy, during the progress of the trial, has been very quiet. He looked pale, but betrayed no excitement or interest in the proceedings. His father, brothers and sisters have sat by him, but never talked with him. One of his sisters resides at 1717 Jessie street, San Francisco, and the family are well known in that city.

FIRE CHIEF SUSPICIOUS

A Family at Sacramento Lost Their Entire Property in Flames.

Husband and Wife Had Quarreled and the Latter Brought Suit for Divorce.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 10.—There was a fire in a small frame dwelling at an early hour this morning, the circumstances surrounding which have aroused the suspicion of the Fire Chief. The fire occurred in the residence of M. F. Wilson on Fifteenth street, near C.

Wilson, who is an employe of the railroad shops, says that himself, wife and three little children retired at the usual time last night. His wife and infant slept in one room, the two older children in another, and he occupied a front room.

About 3:30 o'clock this morning his wife screamed fire and awoke him from a sound sleep. Her assistance he refused, and she and the children fled to the rear of the house, leaving all of their clothing and household effects being destroyed. The children saved a part of their clothing that they had taken off when retiring, and Wilson saved a portion of a suit that lay on a chair in front of his bed.

He tried to enter the building after he had got his little ones out, but it was a mass of flames and he could not. He had the place partially insured.

Yesterday Mrs. Wilson brought suit for divorce against her husband, alleging extreme cruelty. The complaint further alleges that on Sunday last he forced her to flee for safety from the house, and she took her infant child with her, staying at the dwelling of a neighbor until yesterday, when her attorney advised her to return to her home.

It appears that Mrs. Wilson recently filed a homestead claim on the house, which is valued at about $500, and it is said that it was because Wilson was thus deprived of control of the property that he assumed an ugly attitude toward her, leading to her bringing suit for divorce.

Fire Chief Gutrie is very suspicious of the manner in which this fire took place and will investigate the matter thoroughly. There was an insurance of $500 on the house and $100 on the furniture.

GOVERNOR BUDD ARRIVED.

He Will Remain at Sacramento for One Week.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 10.—Governor Budd arrived from Stockton late this afternoon and was driven straight from the depot to his office in the Capitol building. He will remain in Sacramento until to-morrow night, when he will leave for a week's rest in the mountains.

He says he hopes to remain about to take up work for good. To-morrow afternoon he will attend the meeting of the Board of Examiners, which will be the first full meeting of that board since the Governor was taken sick.

AN OLD DEED IN COURT.

The Suit Against J. Downey Harvey in a San Diego Court.

It Involves Warner's Ranch of About Fifty Thousand Acres.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Oct. 10.—An old deed, torn to shreds and thrown in the waste-basket and fished out and patched up, is the basis of an important suit begun to-day against J. Downey Harvey, administrator of the estate of ex-Governor John G. Downey. The suit involves Warner's ranch in this county, comprising about 50,000 acres and valued at $250,000, and is entitled Kelly et al. vs. John Downey Harvey, administrator.

From all appearances the contest will be long drawn out. Plaintiffs are John Kelly, George Andrew Kelly and Charles S. Kelly, minors, John Thomas Kelly and Mary Catherine Parks, all children of John Thomas Kelly, deceased, who was a brother of Rose B. Downey nee Kelly second wife of ex-Governor Downey, America Kelly, widow of a deceased brother of the late Mrs. Downey, and Christine Egan and Mary Kelly, her sisters.

These plaintiffs are represented by Colonel George H. Smith and Works & Works of this city. J. Downey Harvey, as administrator of the Downey estate, is represented by Senator Stephen M. White and his partner, Charles Monroe.

When the case was called this morning Colonel Smith made an opening statement of the matter and it was proven. It appears that while ex-Governor Downey and his wife were living in the Downey block at Los Angeles, in August, 1889, the ex-Governor sent for his attorney, Judge Redman, and directed him to draw up a deed for the Warner ranch, excepting the one-fourth interest owned by the Merchants' Exchange Bank. The deed was duly executed and given to Mrs. Downey, who in turn gave it to Judge Redman to prove, he being a subscribing witness. The deed remained in his possession until the early part of November of the same year.

In the meantime Governor Downey had been ill, but upon his recovery went to his office with Dan Cunningham, his confidential assistant, and met Judge Redman by appointment. He made request for the deed "in order that Mrs. Downey might be suitably protected," and Judge Redman gave him the instrument on condition that it should be carried directly to Mrs. Downey. After Judge Redman left the office, Governor Downey handed the deed to Cunningham, it is alleged, and directed him to destroy it. This he did by tearing the paper into fragments and throwing them into a waste-basket.

The following day A. W. Krause, Governor Downey's secretary, directed an assistant to get the fragments of the deed and put them together. When this was done the patched-up deed was placed by Krause in Governor Downey's safe, where it remained until J. Downey Harvey, as executor of the estate, came across it among some other papers.

The only witness examined to-day was Judge Redman, Governor Downey's former attorney, and who was at one time Judge of the Superior Court in Placer County. His testimony fully corroborated the statements of Colonel Smith, and though closely cross-examined by Senator White Judge Redman's answers remained substantially the same. The deed was shown in court and commented upon. It will be formally submitted in evidence to-morrow, and if not allowed by the court the case will necessarily come to an end.

Senator White made a lengthy motion to strike out that portion of Judge Redman's testimony relating to matters touching upon the relations of Judge Redman and Governor Downey as lawyer and client, on the ground that professional obligations involved rendered the transaction between them of no concern to other persons. This motion was taken under advisement by Judge Torrence. Other evidence is to be introduced by plaintiffs tending to show that the deed had been mentioned by Governor Downey before his death.

INDEPENDENT FORESTERS.

Election of Officers at the High Court at Riverside.

RIVERSIDE, CAL., Oct. 10.—The annual session of the High Court of the Independent Foresters for California concluded its labors to-day, after a very successful session of three days. The principal business of to-day was the election of officers for the coming year, as follows:

G. A. McElfresh of Los Angeles, high chief ranger; J. R. Price of Colusa, high vice-chief ranger; W. H. Perry of Los Angeles, high secretary; Dr. Charles Meland of Sacramento, high physician; G. S. Perry of Sacramento, high counselor; James Mills of Riverside, high auditor; H. S. Eberle of Los Angeles, high treasurer.

All the officers were re-elected except the last named. Said officers were decided upon at the place for holding the session of 1896. The court closed its session to-day.

Morel Not Wanted.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Oct. 10.—A pretty theory of Detective Goodman's mysterious action in regard to his prisoner, Morel, arrested at this place a few weeks ago and so strangely concealed from the public eye ever since, has been dissipated by a telegram received to-day by Sheriff Hicks from the Governor of Louisiana, which distinctly declares that no reward is offered for the arrest of the murderer of Chief of Police Hennessy of New Orleans.

CALIFORNIA MATERIALS USED.

Cost of the Structure One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

AUBURN, CAL., Oct. 10.—Placer County officials are soon to be ensconced in one of the prettiest buildings in the State. The new Courthouse, on which work has been expended for months, is fast nearing completion, and although it lacks the finishing touches to complete its architectural beauty, the massive structure ranks above anything of its kind in this section if not in the State.

The building is of the Corinthian style of architecture and similar to no other courthouse in the State except in its classic features. The ground dimensions of the main structure are 102x106 feet. It contains three stories, and its height from the ground to the fire walls is sixty feet. The first and second stories will be of granite and the third of pressed brick with terra cotta trimmings.

The first story will contain the jail, with all the necessary appointments and twelve modern steel cells; offices for the Jailor, Sheriff, Assessor, Tax Collector, Treasurer and Surveyor. On the second is a spacious room for the meeting of the Supervisors, together with the offices of Clerk, Recorder, Auditor and District Attorney. The third story will have a large courtroom, Judges' chamber, jury-rooms, office for Superintendent of Schools, library and an assembly-room for public meetings.

The halls are wide and the offices are spacious and well lighted and ventilated. The offices of the Treasurer, Sheriff, Recorder and District Attorney are each provided with a vault. There is to be a place or grate in each office and lavatories on each floor. The building is piped for hot gas and electricity. It will be so constructed that it may be heated with hot air or water from a furnace heated in the sub-basement.

The new Courthouse is absolutely fire-proof, and it is strictly a California building so far as the materials used in its construction are concerned. The granite was taken from Placer County quarries at Rocklin. It is gray granite, and there is none prettier. The pressed brick and terra cotta came from the famous pottery of Gladding & McBean at Lincoln, Placer County. The fireplaces, mantels, etc., will be made of the latest designs in glazed brick at the Lincoln pottery. The roofing is of El Dorado County slate, and the dome is of copper.

The cost of the new building will be in the neighborhood of $150,000, two-thirds of that amount having been expended already. The heaviest and most expensive portion is up, including all the outside walls, roofing and dome, and two of the three mammoth granite stairways. The contract has recently been let for the completion of the inside work of the two lower floors.

This fine structure is located upon a little prominence in the center of the town and overlooks the country for miles around. In time the grounds will be terraced. The structure is being built by the issuance of $80,000 bonds and by direct taxation for the rest of the amount. While it has made taxes high at a time when the taxpayers could least afford it, they do not regret the outlay and are proud of the new Courthouse.

The cornerstone was laid July 4, 1894, by Judge Prewitt, and it is hoped the formal dedication will not be later than July 4, 1896.

Beside the local press much of the credit of building a new courthouse is due to the members of the Board of Supervisors. The present board is composed of the following gentlemen: J. S. Mariner, chairman; G. C. Coker, Adolph Schnabel and John Dams, guard. Colonel J. H. Keown, G. B. Hewes and Sam J. Pullen also contributed to the success of the new Courthouse at an early date in the capacity of Supervisors.

GOSSIP OVER A DIVORCE.

Portland (Oregon) Persons in High Standing Get Into Court.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilson Said to Have Been Unlawfully in an Asylum.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 10.—The divorce suit of Dr. George F. Wilson against Evelyn Elderton Wilson is causing much gossip. The parties belong to the best social circle here. Last spring Mrs. Wilson, who is a daughter of a prominent army officer, was ostensibly sent to a private asylum in California for treatment of the morphine habit.

The real cause was her infatuation with Harry Hastings, a man about town. She returned a day or two ago and to-day made an application to the court to be allowed to see her children, who are ignorant of the parents' separation, but the petition was denied.

George H. Williams, who was United States Attorney under General Grant, is counsel for plaintiff and State Attorney-General C. M. Idleman for the defendant.

After a Government Place.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 10.—Hollister D. McGuire, State Fish and Game Warden of Oregon, it is learned, has become ambitious of capturing the position of United States Fish Commissioner, and with that end in view has set about agitating sentiment in favor of his appointment. Local Democrats do not see why he should not have it, and it is claimed McGuire's experience fully qualifies him for the position. Mr. McGuire is said to be working hard to secure the endorsements of leading lights in the party, and a petition is in circulation asking the President to appoint him. Democrats will support him, although some have little hope of seeing him getting the place.

War Among the Brewers.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 10.—The bitter war between the beer brewers shows no sign of abatement. The brewers are still cutting prices. In the past few days prices have tumbled from $9 to $6 and $7 50 per barrel. To-day another large brewery came out with the announcement that it was selling beer at $5 per barrel. Retailers are enjoying the situation, because it gives them a chance to recoup, as they had a struggle to pay high licenses.

Coal Dust in the Sugar.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 10.—On the steamer State of California, which sailed for San Francisco to-night, is a cargo of 2000 sacks of sugar which arrived on the last steamer. It was stored in a warehouse.

Workmen were renovating the roof and coat dust settled on the whole cargo. An attempt was made to sweep it off, but the dust settled in the sacks and the sugar was entirely ruined. It will have to be refined over again.

THE STOCKTON ASYLUM.

Ninety-Two Patients Received During the Month of September.

For the Year There Has Been a Decrease in the Number of Patients.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—The Board of Directors of the State Insane Asylum held its regular monthly meeting to-day. Director Thornton was unable to be present owing to the injuries he received a few days ago.

The auditing committee reported having examined claims against the asylum for the past month and recommended payments from the different funds as follows: General fund, contract bills, $3177 75; miscellaneous, $2407 16; payroll, $895 69; salaries and mileage of directors, $65 69; salary of treasurer, $50. Total, $15,755 60. Contingent fund, $1897 35. Grand total, $17,652 95.

The superintendent's report contained the following information: Number of patients in the asylum August 30, 1035 males and 469 females; number admitted during September, 21 males and 71 females; number of escapes returned, 2 males; number discharged as recovered, 4 males; number discharged as improved, 1 female; number discharged unimproved, 1 female; number discharged by order of court, 1 male; number died, 6 males and 4 females; number under treatment September 30, 1046 males and 468 females.

In addition to his regular monthly report the superintendent submitted his annual statement. During the year there was a decrease in the number of inmates. In July, 1894, there were 1523 persons in the asylum, while on June 30 last the number was 1495.

ANDREW J. MEANS DEAD.

Well-Known Farmer Who Resided Near Knights Ferry.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—Andrew J. Means, a well-known farmer residing in the vicinity of Knights Ferry, died last night of Bright's disease of the kidney. Means was 70 years old. He was a Mason and that order will have charge of the funeral services, which will take place at Knights Ferry to-morrow morning.

A Contractor on Trial.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—The trial of Colonel R. R. Thornton, the Valley Railroad contractor charged with having attempted to kill Michael Gibbons in a dispute over a time check, was begun to-day in Judge Smith's court. The jury has been secured, and District Attorney Nutter presented the case for the people. T. D. Nicoll and R. C. Miner appeared for the defendant. The jury, by permission of Judge Smith, visited the scene of the shooting in the Union block, after which the taking of testimony was begun. Mr. Gibbons then testified to the affair as outlined in the testimony at the preliminary examination. The court then adjourned until morning.

The Governor Gone to Sacramento.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—Governor Budd left at noon on the train to-day for Sacramento. This is his first trip to the capital since his recent illness. He will not remain long there, but dispose of the most important work and then leave for the mountains as soon as possible. Here he will try to regain strength.

Superintendent Barr Re-elected.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—At a special meeting of the Board of Education held this evening Professor James A. Barr was re-elected Superintendent of the Public Schools. Professor Barr is an educator of State reputation, and the action of the board will meet with a general indorsement of citizens.

Chinese Women Released.

STOCKTON, CAL., Oct. 10.—The police have failed to secure any evidence that Dr. Hong Sing, who died last night, was poisoned by the Chinese women residing at the house where he died. The five women were released from jail and the case dropped.

TRIBUTES TO E. J. GLAVE.

The Young African Explorer Had Friends Here and in Alaska.

HIS TRIP DOWN THE ALESGH.

Saw Glaciers a Thousand Feet Above the River—Trained His Horses to Use Snowshoes.

E. J. Glave, the heroic young African explorer who died in May last, was well known to many San Francisco scientific men by reason of his Alaskan explorations in 1890 and 1891.

The Century for October pays him deserved tribute for his African explorations, but says little of his work in Alaska. When only 21 years of age in 1883 Glave went with Stanley to Congo land and distinguished himself by his earnest and indefatigable work. He was there several years, but returned to England in 1889 and then came to this country. With Wells, a Cincinnati newspaper man, and John Dalton, who had seen service in the coast survey, Glave went to Alaska, the party being outfitted and backed financially by Frank Leslie's Weekly. The party separated, Wells and a companion going down Forty-mile Creek and Glave and Dalton exploring the headwaters of the Alegh River, a torrential stream, about which little was then known. Glave discovered quite a number of mountain lakes and then with his companion accomplished the wonderful feat of following the Alegh to its mouth in the Pacific. It was a journey of over 300 miles through a country where a white man had never before set foot. He located one glacier 1000 feet high and discovered many geographical facts of value. Returning he went East and lectured, but the next summer found him here again. He went forth again, and this time attracted much attention by his use of snowshoes on the horses which he took from Seattle. He went across the plateau and mountain region between Chilkat and Forty-mile Creek, and demonstrated that this was a feasible route for mail-carriers to the mines on the creek. On his return he arranged through Professor Davidson of the coast survey with the Alaska Commercial Company to begin a mail service over the route suggested the following season. But events changed his plans. He went East suddenly, thence to England and on to Africa, where on May 12, 1895, he died. His last African trip was in the interest of the Century Magazine. Of him it is said editorially:

"In June, 1893, he set forth with buoyant spirits accompanied by the warmest wishes for his success and safety that ever worked invisibly for the support of a human being, and not a friend but felt that, no matter what the difficulty, the discouragement, the peril, Glave would find within himself resources to surmount and withstand them. His journey to the outlet on the western coast confirmed this confidence and justified both his judgment and the encouragement which was reluctantly bestowed upon his plans. But, alas! the dread fate which was repelled at the entrance to the wilderness lurked again at the emerging gate."

Professor Davidson conceived a great fondness for the self-reliant young man. "He was a remarkably modest fellow," said the professor yesterday in speaking of him and his work. "There was no boasting about him—no extravagant statements as to what he had accomplished. He just went quietly ahead and did what he set out to do. His last trip to Alaska was disastrous for in crossing a lake his raft went to pieces and the party lost everything. As he had outfitted the party for the second tour he returned here almost penniless. I knew he had something big in his mind when he came into my office one day and held out his hand to say good-by. That was the last I ever saw of him."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

The Young People Have Their Day at Merced.

MERCED, CAL., Oct. 10.—This was the Christian Endeavorers' day. A surprise praise service was led by Rev. C. H. Reburn of Redbank. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, O. A. Baker of Merced; vice-president, C. H. Reburn of Redbank; secretary, Miss Edna Gaiser of Stockton.

An address of welcome was made by O. A. Baker, followed by a response by Rev. C. H. Reburn. Synodical superintendent, Rev. E. L. B. McClellan, read a paper showing the strength and scope of the general denominational and synodical work.

Miss Litton addressed the body in behalf of the Californians.

Rev. J. W. Laughlin of St. Louis, superintendent of the board of missions, made an earnest address upon the subject of missions, this being, he said, the spirit of the Bible and Christianity.

As an illustration that missions pay, he said, "The largest church in the world is found in Ongole, Southern India, having between 35,000 and 40,000 members."

ARIZONA'S MINERALOGIST.

Professor Blake of New York Selected for the University.

TUCSON, ARIZ., Oct. 10.—Professor Blake of New York was elected by the Board of University Regents to-night professor of geology and mining in the University of Arizona. Professor Blake is a mineralogist of world-wide reputation and an extensive writer on scientific subjects.

He represented the United States at the Vienna Exposition, after which he wrote extensively on the steel exhibit here. He had charge of the United States mining exhibit at the Paris Exposition and received the decoration of the Legion of Honor for meritorious services.

IMPROVED WATER WORKS.

Hollister to Have a Fifty Thousand Dollar Plant.

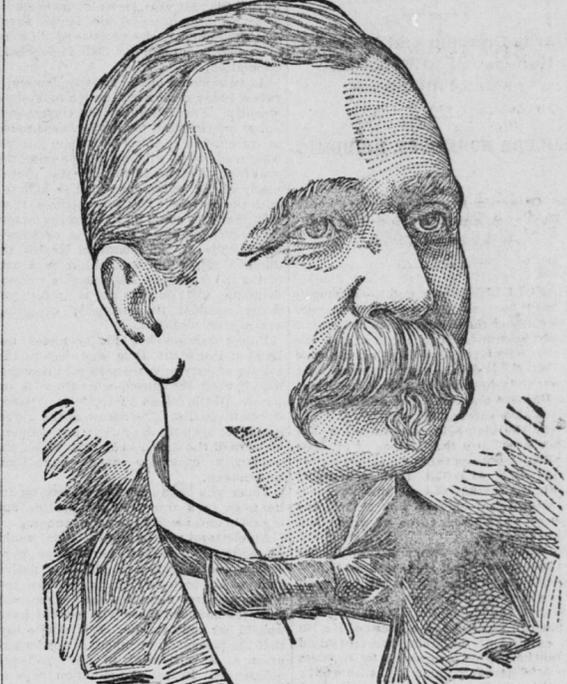

HOLLISTER, CAL., Oct. 10.—A contract was let to-day for the construction of a $50,000 system of water works to pipe water for domestic use twelve miles, from Pescadero Creek to Hollister. A fall of 70 feet will develop electric current for lighting and power sufficient for large manufacturing plants. The improvements are being made by the Hollister Water Company, which will also construct an immense reservoir on Park Hill.

GET WELL! ENJOY LIFE!!

Don't Suffer With Rheumatism---Take Paine's Celery Compound.

The common sense of the people has long refused to believe that rheumatism and neuralgia were diseases hopeless of cure.

Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth College, has confirmed their belief. There is an absolute specific for both of these diseases in Paine's celery compound. Thousands of men and women are every year entirely freed from these two torturing disorders by Paine's celery compound.

Neuralgia pain affects first one part of the body and then another. Nature's restorer, sleep, is sought in vain, and life's ordinary duties become burdens too heavy to be borne. In this condition of sleeplessness Nature's call for rest must be regarded. Unheeded serious consequences are likely to ensue. The nerves must be built up by a proper nerve food. There is nothing equal to Paine's celery compound.

The body is not a machine which simply wears out after a certain number of years, but a vital organism having the power of revivifying itself—capable of being hard worked, but demanding frequent times of recuperation in sleep.

To quickly furnish a fresh and abundant supply of nutriment for every tissue of the body is the purpose for which Paine's celery compound was first prepared. This rapid production of fresh nervous energy and pure blood is the one endeavor of Professor Edward E. Phelps' long study of the cause of nervous exhaustion.

The result of his life work was Paine's celery compound, that remarkable remedy that permanently and speedily cures disease. It is the greatest nerve regulator and blood purifier of this present century. For men and women out of health Paine's celery compound should be tried without fail. It has meant health in place of sickness in thousands of cases that seemed hopeless.

The fact that this is the season when rheumatism most painfully shows itself makes the following communication from Mr. J. M. Tobias of South Omaha, Neb., of special interest. Mr. Tobias writes:

"I suffered for years with rheumatism in the joints of my hands and arms, so that I could perform my work only with the greatest difficulty. I used all kinds of medicines without result. Finally I secured a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and it benefited me at once. Paine's celery compound certainly cures rheumatism."

BIG "FENCE" UNCOVERED.

Resort for Thieves Raided by the Police Force at Sacramento.

Rich Haul Made From the Gold Dust Saloon of Valuable Goods.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 10.—It appears from an important capture made by Officers Logue and Pennish late this afternoon that a "fence" has existed under the eyes of the police for years and that the plunder obtained from the countless robberies which have occurred in Sacramento during the last few years or more has been disposed of here.

The place is the Gold Dust saloon, a notorious resort for thieves on K street, and its proprietor is a man named Verhelm. To-night the sharp men of the police, who are among the youngest on the force, reaped the harvest for which they have been waiting many weeks. The result is that a large amount of stolen property was found, among which were a number of valuable articles taken from the residence of Major Weinstock a short time ago, and goods from hardware and gun stores.

The proprietor and the stolen goods were taken to the jail, and there seems to be sufficient evidence to convict.
