of an entire block which has been devoted to the purpose, only a short distance from the business center of the town.

The building is very commodious and is divided into four classrooms 26 by 33 feet each, an assembly hall 36 by 65 feet, two teachers' rooms, superintendent's office, chemical and physical laboratory, janitor's living-rooms, heating-room, cloakroom, etc.

The exterior is of Milwaukee yellow pressed brick and the interior finish is of yellow pine in natural color.

Work was begun on June 17, and on July 3 the Masonic Lodge laid the corner-stone. When the schools opened on September 16 the building was sufficiently advanced to permit the classrooms to be used.

On Tuesday, October 8, the contractor turned the structure over to the Supervisors and on Wednesday it was accepted by them. The contract price was only $14,300 and the cost of the building was kept within that amount.

The people of Bakersfield and of Kern county are very proud of the new school and are thoroughly satisfied that they received their money's worth.

REDWOOD CITY WARFARE.

Light Battery F to Storm the Works of an Imaginary Enemy.

Shell and Shrapnel to Be Hurlled at an Army of Dummy Figures.

REDWOOD CITY, CAL., Oct. 12.—A battery of United States artillery will storm the Menlo foothills with a fusillade of shell and shrapnel Monday morning.

Captain Charles Morris has arrived here from the Presidio with his command, Light Battery F, Fifth United States Artillery, sixty-three men.

The battery is on its regular annual march, which occupies about one month, and its destination is Monterey.

It now appears that hostile troops have entrenched themselves in strategic positions in the foothills just back of town, and they are to be utterly routed.

Some reports say that the troopers in the hills are "wooden soldiers" made of boards and nailed together in rows on strips of scotch tape, so as to simulate foot soldiers and cavalry companies, and thus form a target for the fire of the opposing forces.

When the bugle sounds the charge to battle on Monday the battery will ride out into the open field. The officers will quickly estimate the distance of the enemy in order to fire the first shot.

The first shot will then be fired with a percussion shell that explodes by impact or concussion when it strikes.

Battery F does not use any solid shot. The percussion shells are filled with pieces which explode when they strike.

OLD SOLDIERS' HOME.

A Day With Yountville's Five Hundred Pensioners.

CARED FOR IN COMFORT.

Quarters Are Clean and the Food Wholesome and Fresh.

THE "VETS" LIKE VISITORS.

Especially Welcome to the Loyal Ladies of the State and Children.

[Special correspondence of THE CALL.]

YOUNTVILLE, CAL., Oct. 10.—The people of California have but little idea of the appreciation in which they are held by 570 heroes—veterans of the Mexican and civil wars—living in peace and contentment at the Soldiers' Home, located at Yountville, Napa County.

Through the bounty of the citizens of the State the home is able, under the present directorship, to be not only free from debt, but with a surplus on hand.

There is a Grand Army post at the home in which much interest is taken by the old soldiers, who are all clothed in the fatigue uniform of the regular army.

The great rooms of fresh baked bread are white and light as a feather. The bake-oven is one of the largest of its kind in the State, being some seventeen feet in depth.

At present there are some nineteen buildings in camp, and still there is room enough for all that desire to go to the home, but the board of directors do not care to ask the great liberal-hearted people of California for more funds.

Little work, if any, is required of the veterans, but should any of them desire to labor as an incentive 25 cents a day is given them.

The District Attorney endeavored to break down Errington's testimony, but did not succeed. The case went over until Monday morning.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Oct. 12.—In the trial of J. Bidwell Errington for murder the plaintiff took the stand this morning. His testimony was largely confirmatory of that of Mrs. Jones, except that he said he had asked him to take her to the theater on the night of the murder.

Before he went to the restaurant, where Mrs. Jones was employed, on the night of the killing, said Errington, he went to H. L. Willis' cigar stand and got his pistol and some money which he had left there. He then drew his pistol and shot at Jones two or three times, saw him fall, looked at him and walked away.
