

THE GOETHE-SCHILLER MONUMENT FESTIVAL

It Opens in the Pavilion With Many Brilliant Scenes.

GERMAN COLONY THERE.

Many Pictures From the Past Are Seen in the Grand March.

FATHERLAND IN MINIATURE.

Interesting Tableaux and Music on the Stage and Performances in the Booths.

The opening of the Goethe-Schiller festival and fair in the Pavilion last evening was a success...

Under a blaze of light were portrayed in their hearts; for the church bell in Germany speaks everything...

Pretty reapers in harvest costumes and carrying emblems of the harvest followed with light steps...

Another page was torn from European history in the presentation of King Phillip of Spain and his Queen...

Again the scene was changed to Fatherland and the ladies of the postoffice booth...

One more change and Marie Stuart, tall, beautiful and melancholy...

And so the passing show moved on, Grecians, Swiss Alpine maidens in the green times against the designs of aristocratic gun clubs, whose members were endeavoring to gobble up every inch of land in this State that is available for hunting purposes.

W. J. Mann, who is one of the oldest members of the association, said that he was having a steam launch constructed...

Several members of the club propose to shoot upon the San Pablo marshes Saturday and Sunday next...

A nomination of officers for the ensuing year followed and resulted as follows: For president, W. J. Mann...

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 5.—This week's American Agriculturist has a valuable article on the potato crop of the country for 1895.

The crop measures up over 282,000,000 bushels, against only 185,000,000 last year.

It was proposed to change the constitution and by-laws so that the recording secretary could do the work of both the recording and financial secretaries.

ROW IN CLOUDY WEATHER

Opening of the Regatta by the Noted Oarsmen at Austin.

WOMEN ARE IN THE CONTESTS.

In a Most Thrilling Race of a Mile Miss Mosenheim Defeated Miss Ashley.

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 5.—The weather was cloudy, but delightful today, and the regatta races were witnessed by an immense crowd.

The day's programme opened with a half-mile dash straightaway, single sculls, for a purse of $100, open to all professional scullers.

The second event was a trial heat, three miles with a turn, double scull, between the English crews, the winner to row in the final heat against Teemer and Rogers for a purse of $1000 and the world's chamumpire, Waters; lieutenants, Dunn and Moore. Score: Crescents 16, Browns 0.

ON THE EASTERN TRACKS.

MORRIS PARK, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The weather at Morris Park today was really too hot to be comfortable in winter clothing.

Five furlongs, Tremargo won, Karma second, Medina third. Time, 1:00.9.

Handicap, one and a quarter miles, Lucania won, Merry Prince second, Silver third. Time, 1:03.4.

One mile, Sir Dixon Jr. won, Doggett second, Manassas third. Time, 1:10.

One mile, Gotham won, Deerslayer second, Monaco third. Time, 1:44.4.

Two miles, Duke of Abercorn second, Woodford third. Time, 3:53.

Five and a half furlongs, Laura won, Marquise second, Epona third. Time, 1:08.5.

One mile, Addie Buchanan won, Miss Young second, Toots third. Time, 1:42.

WON BY THE ANGELS.

Oakland Team Beaten in a Snappy Game of Baseball.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 5.—There was a very fair attendance at the Athletic Park ball game today.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 5.—James J. Corbett passed through here today on the Southern limited vestibule bound for New York.

THE CHAMPION TALKED FREELY OF THE fight fiasco, called Fitzsimmons a coward and declared that he now believes that the Australian never intended to meet him in the ring.

"Such a Rank Coward." That Was the Term Applied to Fitzsimmons by Corbett.

JARED M. BRUSH DEAD.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Jared M. Brush, the oldest ex-Mayor of Pittsburg and a native of that city, died yesterday in his eighty-second year.

SAULT STE MARIE, MICH., Nov. 5.—The tug Booth, which left yesterday in search of the missing steamer Missoula, reached Huron Bay, Ont., this afternoon.

JULIE RECAMIER.

THE ORIGINAL OF THIS PICTURE RETAINED HER EXQUISITE COMPLEXION THROUGH THE USE OF RECAMIER CREAM UNTIL HER DEATH AT EIGHTY.

NO WOMAN can be beautiful or even CLEANLY in appearance whose face is marred by pimples, blackheads, blotches, freckles or other imperfections.

WHERE DID YOU EVER SEE SUCH ENDORSEMENTS BEFORE? FROM MADAME ADELINA PATTI-NICOLINI.

MY DEAR MRS. AYER—There never has been anything equal in merit to the Recamier Preparations; my skin is so immensely improved by their use.

"I consider them a luxury and necessary to every woman."

"Most refreshing and beneficial and FAR superior to any others."

"The Recamier Preparations are absolutely PERFECT. I shall always use them."

"I use the Recamier religiously and believe them ESSENTIAL to the toilet of every woman who desires a fair skin."

STANFORD'S LONG-HAIRED MEN.

Candidates Who Bid Fair to Play in the Varsity Team.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CAL., Nov. 5.—The play of Stanford's football men yesterday was fair.

It seems probable that Harrington, '98, will make a guard this year.

Campbell, '96, is another player whose injuries until the present time have interfered with his regular practice.

Carle, '98, and Cotton, '98, are both doing good work. The former especially promises to make an excellent player with coaching.

Fischer, '98, was played football before, he displayed a surprising knack for breaking through and tackling.

SCENES AT THE GREAT GOETHE-SCHILLER FESTIVAL IN THE MECHANICS' PAVILION.

gay and somber colors the pictures of Germany from the middle ages to the present, its people, customs, costumes, its militant spirit, and better than all, its social and domestic life.

The object of the festival, as has been stated in THE CALL, is to raise more money for the completion of the monument that the Goethe-Schiller Monument Association proposes to present to San Francisco as a love gift to the City from its German-American citizens.

The festival will continue until Saturday evening, and new features will be presented every day that the public interest therein may not flag.

The festival was formally opened last evening with an address by the president of the association, C. Bundeck, who cordially welcomed the public and briefly outlined the objects of the fair.

Colonel E. A. Denicke followed by stating he had hoped for the pleasure of introducing the Board of Park Commissioners, and he was sorry to say that Mr. Rosenfeld was in New York, Irving M. Soots was sick, and Mr. Austin, not being able to speak the German language, could not be induced to make an address in English.

A letter conveying sympathy and good wishes was received from Mayor Sutro—and then the band played.

The music is deserving of special mention, and Director Louis N. Ritzaau swelled with pride at the performance of his musicians.

Then came the grand march, and it was indeed grand. The dozen or more booths were quickly emptied of their costumed occupants, who fell into line like well-drilled soldiers.

First came the band headed by Grand Marshal Wienecke and four heralds, all in gorgeous attire of the fifteenth century. A body of Etruscan warriors, dressed in rough bear and wolf skins and armed with clubs, swords and battle axes, followed.

"The Song of the Bell," one of Schiller's masterpieces, was presented by Artist Otto, who personated the master workman, and half a dozen sturdy young mechanics, with leather aprons and sledge hammers, and bearing upon their shoulders a huge brass bell covered with roses.

To the Germans this picture was very significant. Schiller in his song, which was sung by the master, touched a tender chord in costumes of the hills, blooming Deutscher peasant girls, the witches of Faust, a few clowns and merry-makers, all passed in a brilliant panorama.

Probably the greatest object lesson of the festival was the booths, for they illustrated life in Germany. There in the wine-cellar and beer-taverns wine and beer were consumed freely and innocently by all.

The poetic side of German life was magnified for the benefit of the general public in these same booths.

Where except in the Faust booth could the fancies of Goethe be so well portrayed? There was the witch's cave in the hill with the gypsy fortune-teller at the mouth of the cavern ready to cross the palm with a silver coin.

There was one stand dear to the German heart—the shooting range. It was well patronized last evening, and the following are the prize-winners:

Philo Jacoby, 54 runs out of a possible 60; Edging, 53; F. Attinger, 51; A. Breuss, 50; A. Freund, 40; Dr. Brant, 35.

Following is the programme for to-night: TURKISH AND SCHUTZEN NIHT.

Overture, "Ruy Blas"..... Mendelssohn Descriptive, "The Dying Poet"..... Gotschalk Concert waltz, "Stories from the Viennese Woods"..... Strauss

(a) Arrival of the Turners and Schuetzen. (b) Fancy marching. (c) Fancy movements and exercises with the silver wands by members of the San Francisco Mission Turn Verein and Oakland Turn Verein. Director, Professor Robert Barth.

Introduction and bridal chorus from the third act of "Lohengrin"..... Wagner Concert polonaise (soloists)..... Brising Acting tableau, "Walstein's Camp"..... By members of the Verein Einfracht, war veterans and sharpshooters. Director, E. Hirsch.
